

The Voters to Decide.

An adjourned meeting of the Council was held on Thursday night, President Holmes and members Gorrey, Rawlings, Kocher, Kunkle, Brobst and Richards present.

Town Solicitor Fred Ikeler was present, and advised the council that only questions of law, prospective indebtedness could be left to a vote of the people. He advised the Council that the item of $500 for lighting the streets could not legally form a part of the amount which was to be voted on, as this was already a debt resting upon the town under their contract with the Electric Light Co.

Mr. Gorrey then offered this resolution and moved its adoption:

Resolved: That the following proposition be submitted to a vote of the electors of Bloomsburg, at the February election: That the bonded indebtedness of our town be increased to an amount sufficient to cover the following expenditures for the coming year.

- For Light..... $ 500.00
Water..... 1125.00
Police..... 1000.00
Fire Department..... 500.00
Salaries..... 475.00
Streets..... 6000.00
Sewer..... 3000.00

Total..... $12,600.00

It was seconded by Mr. Brobst and adopted, all voting yes except Mr. Kunkle who declined to vote either way.

On motion of Gorrey and Richard the Solicitor is directed to put the resolution in legal form and prepare the proper ordinance for publication.

HAM'S HORN BLASTS.

No eyes can see like those of the soul.

God's mercy can no more wear out than his love.

If our belief is wrong, our eternity will be wrong.

Every successful christian life must be a life of faith.

Growth in grace is often helped by having the grace to say no.

As soon as thought finds a body it begins trying to move the world.

If some people would laugh more, their doctor bills would be less.

When a young lion is hungry, how much better off is he than a wolf?

Persecuting a good man is the devil's way of showing that he hates God.

The wages of sin is death, no matter how promptly we pay our pew rent.

When praise is going up, showers of blessing are sure to be coming down.

Considering what God has done will soon lead us to rejoice in what he will do.

There is only here and there a man who praises God half as much as he should.

When we have a keen eye for the faults of others, we are apt to be blind to our own.

A right state of heart cannot be maintained without keeping a close watch on the tongue.

Open the door of your heart for Christ, and he will open the door of heaven for you.

The devil can meet eloquence without trouble, but he has never been able to stand before love.

Many a church member makes too much noise in his politics and keeps too still in his religion.

Bread from God's table can be counted on in superabundance by those who faithfully do his work.

The Christian should never let his heart stop singing of the day when his sins were washed away.

It ought to be a matter of principle with the Christian to praise the Lord, whether he feels like it or not.

Hoarding up money in a miserly way can never be done without making a beggar of the man who does it.

Freedom from want is not for the strongest lion, but it may be enjoyed by the weakest of the Lord's sheep.

LIKE HIS SUBSCRIPTION BILL.

"Can you tell me what sort of weather we may expect next month?" wrote a farmer to his local paper, and the editor replied as follows: "It is my opinion the weather next month will be very much like your subscription bill."

Business men who do advertising ought to be interested in the welfare of the local newspapers and so far as possible assist in increasing their circulation, because in so doing, they are directly helping to spread their advertisement before the people throughout the country.

DEATH IN A LOVE LETTER.

A GIRL'S TONGUE CUT IN SEALING IT CAUSED BLOOD POISONING.

Miss Helen Musgrave, of Cameron township, near Shamokin found death in a letter to her lover. While moistening the back of the envelope preparatory to sealing it the young girl's tongue was slightly lacerated, which resulted in blood poisoning, from which she died on Sunday.

The girl had had a quarrel with her lover, Herman Shultz, about two weeks ago, and he left for Pittsburg. As soon as he was gone, however, she repented, and for several days she worried over the affair, and sat down and wrote the letter, asking forgiveness and pleading with him to return. It was in sealing this letter that her tongue received the lacerations which ended in her awful death.

DOOMED TO DIE.

Her tongue began to swell, and on the fourth day after the letter was mailed sharp pains racked her system. Doctors were called in, and after a careful examination found that she could not recover.

The patient bore the announcement of her fate bravely, but asked that her lover be notified of her condition. His response was prompt, and he arrived last Saturday, but only to find her dying. With tears in her eyes she asked him to kiss her, and then they sobbed in each other's arms. Death ended her sufferings early on Sunday morning, and she was buried Wednesday afternoon.

A new device is being introduced which will make banks safer proof against nitro-glycerine explosion, says the Wilkes-Barre Record, and experiments have been made at the Wyoming National Bank in that city by agents of a Chicago firm showing the efficacy of a secret packing which is so placed in a safe that it becomes nitro-glycerine proof; in other words, burglars cannot place this explosive so that it can damage a safe.

Heretofore it was always found possible to get the nitro-glycerine into the lock or about the hinges and a safe otherwise burglar proof could in many cases be blown open. The combination lock spindle also afforded a means of ingress for nitro-glycerine, but by the adoption of the packing and lock of the Chicago firm referred to it is utterly impossible to use the nitro-glycerine with any effect.

The first thing the agents did at the bank was to remove the lock spindle and make the door perfectly solid. Then around the edges of the door they inserted their secret packing and rendered it perfectly airtight when the door is closed. Kerosene oil was used to attempt to penetrate the cracks, but it was found utterly impossible to do so. A 500-pound air pump was also used, with which it was shown that the secret packing had rendered the door airtight. The invention is considered a valuable one and is being adopted by banks all over the country.

The combination lock heretofore on the safe has been removed and a Murton Harris automatic lock substituted. By this device even the cashier is unable to tamper with it. The door cannot be locked without first setting the time lock and it cannot be opened until the time expires. If the cashier locks the door on Saturday night, setting the time lock at 8 a. m. on Monday, it is impossible for him to open the safe before that time. But when that hour arrives the bolts fly back and the door swings open.

Thousands Are Trying It.

On receipt of ten cents, cash or stamps, a generous sample will be mailed of the most popular Catarrh and Hay Fever Cure (Ely's Cream Balm) sufficient to demonstrate its great merit. Full-size 50c.

ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren St., New York City.

It is the medicine above all others for catarrh, and is worth its weight in gold. I can use Ely's Cream Balm with safety and it does all that is claimed for it.—B. W. Sperry, Hartford, Conn.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

In the debate on the Immigration bill, Senator Morgan made the somewhat surprising suggestion that immigrants be compelled to have a knowledge of the Ten Commandments. In his speech on the question he said:

"It is in no spirit of levity, that I introduce what I consider to be very much the most important feature of education into this measure, for an education on the Christian basis of the American Government is something which every man ought to have before he acquires at least the rights of citizenship by adoption of this Government. I need not enlarge upon that. I only want to disabuse any impression that possibly might arise in the minds of the Senate of the country that in the introduction of this feature of the serious intention of making every man who comes to the test to acquire American citizenship to show before the officer, the Judge who admits him, that he knows the foundations of the Christian religion as they are taught in the Ten Commandments. If he can read the Ten Commandments in his own way, whether he pursues them or not, he is that far advanced toward real civilization, and until he is advanced that far toward real civilization he has never made one step in the march in that direction. The man who has not taken that step, the man whose mind and conscience do not recognize the supreme and divine authority of the Ten Commandments as the basis of all jurisprudence and all law, has no right or qualification under the flag of the United States. That is not a religious test by any means. It is a test that goes to the constitution of society; it is a test which relates to that organism which pervades all Christendom, and it is a test which no nation in this world and no people in this world would dispense with or can afford to dispense with without invoking upon themselves the destruction of the Almighty."

Senator Morgan's amendment did not impress the Senate favorably; although eight Democrats, five Republicans and three Silverites voted for it.

The Washington Post is the authority for a good story on Senator Cullom if Illinois. It says that the night was cold, and Senator Cullom, warmed in his blankets, was sound asleep. Ring-g-g-g! went the electric doorbell, and the Senator, wondering who wanted to disturb him in the middle of the night, put on his dressing gown and descended the stairs to the door. There stood a telegraph boy with a dispatch. The Senator took the envelope and tore it open hastily. Out in Illinois the congregation of a church had held a meeting, and had taken action on the Cuban question. The telegram read: "Hurrah for Cuba and your noble speech!" The Senator is a friend of Cuba, and he likes compliments, but at 3 o'clock in the morning—well, the Senator didn't say a thing!

People who want to know what is going on in the United States Senate ask Aldrich of Rhode Island or Lodge of Massachusetts. These handsome members are known as the newsmongers of the Senate. Aldrich is the Chesterfield of the chamber; Lodge the literary member. They seldom remain in their seats. It is impossible to spot them by referring to a Senate diagram. They are always in somebody else's seat, chinning with a colleague, picking up the latest committee-room information and gossip. They visit from aisle to aisle, from Republican side to Democratic, not infrequently dropping down beside a Populist or a Silverite. Nothing gets by them except lightning, and Lodge even defies that.

The scheme for having the inaugural ball in the elegant new library building was abandoned owing to the opposition of Congress and citizens who thought the building might be damaged by the not always orderly ball crowd.

The District of Columbia, which probably has more legislation than any other territory of the United States, is the subject of a bill on the subject of good milk. The bill provides that no person shall sell, exchange, or deliver any cream that contains less than 18 per cent. of butter fat. Another bill changes the names of the alphabetical streets in Washington, so that hereafter they are to be known as Adams, Bancroft, Clay, Decatur, Emerson, Franklin, Grant, Hamilton, Kane, Lincoln, Marshall, Newcomb, Oglethorpe, Perry, Quincy, Randolph, Stanton, Taylor, Union, VanBuren, and Webster.

Self possession is nine points of the lawyer. Women forgive injuries, but never forget slights. The man who is hopeless of a home is a ruined man. To be trusted is a greater compliment than to be loved. Life is too short for attempts or pretences that end in nothing. God sees heroes where men see only the commonest kind of people. The wise man knows he knows nothing, the fool thinks he knows all. It is a miserable sight to see a poor man proud and a rich man avaricious. There is more trouble in having nothing to do than in having much to do. Some folks, like tugboats, seldom accomplish anything without a great deal of puffing and blowing; but, unlike tugboats, they often puff and blow without accomplishing anything. Be cheerful. If you have no great trouble on your mind you have no right to render other people miserable by your long face and dolorous tones. If you do you will be generally avoided. Moral worth is best. WOMAN'S LONG HOURS.

SHE TOILS AFTER MAN'S DAY'S WORK IS DONE.

The great majority of women "work to live" and "live to work," and as the hands of the clock approach the hour of six, those employed in stores, offices, mills and factories, hail closing time with joy.

They have won their day's bread, but some duties are yet to be performed, and many personal matters to be attended to. They have mending to do, and dresses or bonnets to make, and long into the night they toil, for they must look neat, and they have no time during the day to attend to personal matters.

Women, therefore, notwithstanding their delicate organism, work longer and more closely than men.

They do not promptly heed such signs as headache, back-ache, blues, pains in the groin, bearing-down, "all gone" feeling, nervousness, loss of sleep and appetite, whites, irregular or painful monthly periods, cold and swollen feet, etc., all symptoms of womb trouble, which, if not quickly checked, will launch them in a sea of misery.

There is but one absolute remedy for all these ills. Any woman who has to earn her own living will find it profitable to keep her system fortified with this tried and true woman's friend, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound speedily removes the cause and effects a lasting cure.

We are glad to produce such letters as the following from Miss M. G. McNamee, 114 Catherine St., Utica, N. Y.:

"For months I had been afflicted with that tired feeling, no ambition, no appetite, and a heavy bearing-down feeling of the uterus. I began to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Soon those bad feelings passed away; I began to have more ambition, my appetite improved and I gained rapidly in every way, and now I am entirely well. I advise all my friends to use the Compound, it is woman's truest friend."

To be trusted is a greater compliment than to be loved. Life is too short for attempts or pretences that end in nothing. God sees heroes where men see only the commonest kind of people. The wise man knows he knows nothing, the fool thinks he knows all. It is a miserable sight to see a poor man proud and a rich man avaricious. There is more trouble in having nothing to do than in having much to do. Some folks, like tugboats, seldom accomplish anything without a great deal of puffing and blowing; but, unlike tugboats, they often puff and blow without accomplishing anything. Be cheerful. If you have no great trouble on your mind you have no right to render other people miserable by your long face and dolorous tones. If you do you will be generally avoided. Moral worth is best. To be right is always to be powerful. Faithfulness, charity and justice to all is the only true measure by which to live and by which to die. Wrong is always wrong and never can be made right. H. M. McAniff, a Luzerne County attorney was ejected from the County Commissioners' office last week, and now he threatens to sue the Commissioners for $100,000 damages.
