HARRISBURG LETTER.

The Various Reform Bills Now Being Pushed.

USELESS EXPENDITURE VOTED.

Both Houses Pass a Resolution Providing for the Spending of $30,000 for Mailing Legislative Records-Anti-Treating and Other New Measures.

(Special Correspondence.)

HARRISBURG, Feb. 1.-Owing to what the agricultural sections of the state have suffered under the existing horse racing law, which has practically abolished county fairs, a race track bill which is to be introduced in the house this week will probably be one of the most interesting of all the proposed legislative measures. The bill is intended to modify the present anti-pool law, which is admitted to have overreached the purpose of its legislative sup-porters and blighted important agricultural interests.

agricultural societies of the state, as well as the various racing associations, includ-ing those of Philadelphia and vicinity, and McKee's Rocks, Allegheny county. By limiting to twenty-five the number of days for racing in a year, on any estab lished track, and allowing restricted pool selling on that number of days, the proposed law is expected to practically prevent the construction of new race tracks for continuous racing.

twenty-five days' racing, with the pool selling confined to the grounds and to the races there in progress, shall be done in the period from Nov. 1 to April 30, inclus-ive, and there shall not be more than six days of the sport in any one of the six months from May to October, included. It is argued that this arrangement will restore the lost vitality of the county fair grounds throughout the state, while as the same time barring out the gambling and other evils which prompted a former legislature to action, the results of which may not have been foressen and were cer-tainly not desired by the farming com-munities. The bill, therefore, is expected to receive its main support from representatives in whose counties the former opposition to even such restrictions as are now to be put upon pools found its chief backing.

Many Reform Measures.

The Municipal League's seven reform bills recently introduced include one aimed against political assessments on officeholders' salaries or wages. A bill for the same purpose is among the several Quay reform measures. which will be introduced this week. Another Municipal League bill on civil service applies only to Philadelphia, while the Quay project is for a state commission and would be a general law. A third bill from the League puts increased restrictions around will include one of these books. As a special inducement to trial subscri-bers, a copy of this book will be given with a 6 months' subscription. The price of book is 25 cents, but a 6 would require an income from franchises and reduce the number of members in councils, electing the select councilmen at

to take from the Municipal league bills or elsewhere any suggestions that may im-prove the Quay bills, although the latter are claimed to be more radical than any other measures yet introduced on the same subjects. All the league bills, as well as other municipal reform plans, including those of Senator Quay, will be acted upon by the house municipal affairs committee, ing days in each year in the United in which there are two Wanamaker votrs, and the municipal corporations mittee of the senate, in which all the Republicans were Penrose voters.

sufficiently protect the American flag and bar put individuals and firms who desire to use the national emblem for the purpose of advertising corn cures or pectoral syrups, neither one defines the subject in specific language. It is possible, however, that amendments will be offered to these bills which will cover this phase of the question.

Every resident of a third class city is in terested in a measure offered by Represen-tative North, of McKean county, which provides for assessment and collection of a special tax upon property abutting for street sprinkling and street cleaning pur-

In any third class city under this act a majority of the property owners whose property abuts upon any street may decide to have the streets sprinkled and cleaned without the consent of the minor-

The street, of course, must be a paved one, and the expense of such sprinkling or cleaning shall be designated as a street cleaning tax, which councils are author-ized and empowered to fix and collect by ordinance. The tax is to be levied proportionately to the number of feet fronting on the street to be thus cared for.

To Protect Organized Labor.

Jerry N. Weiler, of Carbon county, who is one of the officers of the Railway Employes' association, is the author of the bill which was presented last Thursday, which makes it a misdemeanor, punish-able with a fine of not less than $1,000 and imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, for any officer, agent or employe of any corporation, state or foreign, to coerce, or attempt to coerce, any employe of such corporation from joining a lawful labor organization. The coercion described means discharge, or threat to discharge from employment, or the black-listing of any persons who shall be members of such organization. It is a sweeping measure, and the object is to protect railroad employes, especially those who are members of or desire to connect them-selves with any of the railroad organizations that are now in existence in this state.

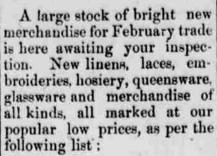

The female school teachers of the state, who as a rule, in the rural districts especally, are paid less than male teachers, are to be protected under a bill offered by Mr. Seyfert, of Lancaster. The bill makes is obligatory upon school directors to pay female teachers in public schools the same compensation as is allowed to male teachers for a like service, when holding the same grade of certificates. The penalty for failure to enforce this law is removal from office of any offending director or controller. The female teacher thus dis-criminated against is required to prove by one reliable witness before any court of record that she is unjustly discriminated against, and this shall be the grounds for removal of a director.

From the Democratic side of the house there comes a bill which is still further designed to increase the cost of public printing. Representative Lennon, of Lehigh county, proposes by law to place in each public school of the state, above the primary grade, one copy of Smull's Legisla-tive Handbook, and one copy of the school laws and decisions. The passage of this bill would more than double the present publication of Smull's Handbook.

Proposed College Appropriations. The appropriation bills have not been coming in rapidly as yet. The general publication of the fact that the state will be short of funds has, perhaps, had a deterrent effect, Among the new bills appearing, however, is one appropriating $200,000 to Lehigh university. It is offered by Mr. Weiss, of Northampton. The bill is prefaced by a series of whereases, setting forth the fact that Lehigh university is worthy of the appropriation in view of the fact that for nearly thirty years it has maintained high courses of technical instruction entirely free, of course, to all students.

It also claimed that the small charge for Representative Keator's bill to create salaried commission, with qualifications of suprems court justices, for the purpose of scrutinizing all bills as soon as reporte from committees, and again just before sending them to the governor, is not received with much favor among Quayites This fact is attributed by anti-Quay men to the circumstance of Mr. Keator's having been the original Wanamaker can-didate for representative in Philadelphia. Representative Crothers, of Philadelphis, has a bill which he will soon introduce to repeal the law passed in 1895 through the efforts of Senator Charles A. Porter, to facilitate the consolidation of corporations.

Extravagance in Expenditure.

There was a resolution passed by the senate recently, as well as by the house, which means a useless expenditure of $80, 000 of the people's money. There was but one dissenting vote in the senate, and none in the house. The resolution provides that hereafter forty copies of the Legislative Record shall be allotted to each member of the legislature daily, to be mailed to their constituents.

It costs just about two cents each day to mail these Records. This is an unneces-sary expense of $200 per day. For 150 days sion it means just $80,000, excluaive of the increased cost of publishing. The Legislative Record in the past has been one of the superb "fakes" of every legislative session. It has frequently been an unending source of annoyance to the members. Not only has it been notoriously inaccurate at times, but it has rarely ap-peared with regularity. At one time, several sessions ago, The Becord was over a week behind time. Already this session have there been two members in the house who have found it necessary to correct the publication.

The anti-treating bill, offered by Mr. McElhaney, of Allegheny, does not carry in its provisions any reference to the word "treating." Its enacting section provides that it shall be unlawful for any person holding a license for the sale of liquor to allow any person or persons to drink upon or around the premises intoxicating li-quors, except such have been paid for by the person who proposes to drink is. The penalty imposed is a fine of not more than $300 nor less than $50, with optional imprisonment for not more than one year or less than one month, by order of the court.

Bills to Protect the Fing.

There have been two bills introduced which provide for penalties for dishonoring or desecrating the American flag. Representative Farr, of Lackawanna, and Representative Keator, of Philadelphia, are the authors of these bills. Strangely enough neither provides for the desecra-tion of the flag by advertisers. They simful for any person to wilfully or mall-clously take down, pollato, injure, remove or in any manuer damage or destroy or offer an insult to an American flag or flag-tuition imposed since 1892 is inadequate to meet the current expenses of the university, while the normal income from its endowment fund is temporarily sus pended.

The appropriation is asked for in view of the fact that the university is sorely in need of funds, and also to carry out the wish of its founder, that no students of good character and scholarship should be barred from obtaining an education in consequence of his inability to pay tuition. The fight of the week is likely to center tonight, when an attempt is to be made to line up the house on the Mitchell resolution to investigate the state treasury and auditor general's office. The anti-Quay people have opposed this for the reason that it will not amount to anything in the end.

The real reform needed in the state treasury is a law compelling the payment of 2 per cent. interest by banks upon all state deposits. The reformers in the legislature foar that the passage of this bill will be interfered with by the appoint-ment of an investigating committee which will not investigate. If there could be any assurance that the appointment of an investigating committee would not interfers with the passage of the 2 per cent interest bill, the anti-Quay, or "Seventy-siz," would vote for the investigating resolution to a man. State Treasurer Haywood has finished the preparation of his annual report to the legislature, and it contains some rather interesting information concerning the state finances.

The total receipts during the year ending Nov. 30, 1896, were $19,913,843.59, to which was added a balance of $3,429,654.07, making the available funds during the year $16,843,497.68. There was paid out $11,280,893.47, leaving a balance of $5,069,-604.19, of which $4,250,357 was in the general fund.

The receipts of the sinking fund were $348,087.50, and a balance of $440,635.19 was added making $1,088,722.69; of this $276, 875.50 was paid out, leaving a balance of $812,847.19 chsh. The total assets of the sinking fund are $6,164.180.58, made up of above cash, United States bonds, Alle-gheny Valley railroad bonds and interest. The general fund receipts were $19,965.

756.09 and there was a balance of $2,989, 018.58, making a total of $15,254,774.97. The payments from the general fund during the year were $11,004,517.97, and the bal-ance on hand at the end of the year was $4,250,257.

In conclusion, Mr. Haywood says: "The balance due to common schools for the current appropriation year to Philadelphia on state personal tax; the quarterly payments for the next six months on appropriations made by the last legislature to charitable, reformatory, educational and training institutions; salaries to judges and state officers; to the National Guard, etc., together with the expenses of the incoming legislature, will not only consume all of the above balances, but will require, in addition, a large portion of the receipts for the same period."
