Ferns In the House

A bit of living green in a room from which none can be seen through the window often proves a positive joy. A fernery is the easiest thing in the world to manage. It does not require either sunshine or constant attention, but with a little care now and then gets on beautifully almost by itself. The fern case must be long and deep enough not to crowd the plants, and built of sufficiently heavy glass to keep the heat of the room from penetrating it. The oblong style has been found to be the most convenient shape, as it will stand solidly upon a table in any out-of-theway corner, and not topple over at every jar. The framework may be of wood or iron, iron preferably, as the wood absorbs considerable of the moisture that should go to the plants. A good depth of rich soil should be put in and the ferns set as thickly as one wishes. Of course the earth must be kept moist always, but there need be little or no sunshine.—St. Louis Republic.

A Political Church.

There has just been organized in Shelby county Ind., a church of which there are few in the country-"the Church of the Open Bible." It only differs from other denominations in the respect that no person can become a member of it who votes with either of the parties which in any manner encourages the liquor traffic. Rev. S. D. Hawkins is at the head of the new church and active committees are at work. There are 300 Prohibitionists in Shelby county, almost every one of whom will become a member of the organization, as will others who are not Prohibitionists. They will likely erect a church in Shelbyville the coming spring.—Cin. cinnati Commercial Tribune.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. " If the farmers of Iowa are paying off their mortgages and putting money in bank it is not because of the profits aging editor of the Times from 1873 made in growing corn and wheat and to 1889, and afterwards as editor of oats," said Mr. J. B. Newton, of the Hawkeye State, at the Ebbitt. "Their improved lot within the last decade is due to the fact that they have been subordinating the production of the cereals to the dairy. The Iowa cow has proved of far more benefit as a revenue raiser than 10-cent corn, and the creamery has become firmly established as one of the institutions of the land. NEW YORK LETTER.

It is said of ex-Mayor Howell of Brooklyn, who died recently, that he dated his prosperity from the hour of his marriage. He married very young. and had only $12 a week salary, but began immediately to put $4 a week into the savings bank, an example of thrift which is not often followed in these days. He attained wealth, but never lost his early simplicity of tastes and steadiness of habits. Since 1864 he has been continuously identified with the government of Brooklyn, first as Supervisor, than as Alderman, and afterwards Mayor for two terms, Since lyn Bridge, serving for ten years as Its President. He was a pative of England, but came to this country when six years old. He made his money in the iron business. He was a member of the Methodist Church and a Mason of high degree.

ration Army, recently offered the city the use of the Army buildings and meeting places for the temporary shelter of the homeless poor. Within the big hall of the headquarters of the Salvation Army, in West Fourteenth street, a few evenings later, lay sleeping more than fifteen hundred men, homeless through the lack of labor; hungry, because organized charity in its multitudinous work does not provide food for those whose names are not on its registry lists; desperate, because they believed, in this great and wealthy metropolis, there should be something to eat, even though it were but crusts and a cup of coffee or tea: hopeless, because, after days of honest endeavor, they could not even secure work at sweeping the streets. It was Illustrative of the woe which has come to the extremely poor of New York. They had come to the headquarters of the Salvation Army as to a refuge. They had been informed that wherever this organization had a shelter or a hall it was at the disposal of the suffering: that there would be no questions asked. The applicants would not be expected to tell anything about their birthplaces or whether or not they had been or were now respectable. The men had been given a piece of bread each and a cup of coffee. Those who desired it were given jam on their bread, and with this provender these 1,500 men curled themselves up and went to sleep.
