The Dual Oharacter of Spain.

The following general statement has been handed to a press correspondent at Havana by Consul General Lee, with the request that it be circulated as widely as possible :

Neither our flag or young American wo-men have ever been insulted here. On the contrary, I have always found the Spaniards courteous and polite to all Americans, as well as to every one else.

This statement chimes with the opinion of everybody who has ever come in contact with educated Spanimpending difficulty with Spain arising lards. A braver and more chivalrous nation than the Spanish people does not exist on the face of the earth; retarn to a prosperous business era in order to redeem the promises of his party made before the election. The goes in the Senate refer to the Spanboom in trade that was predicted to jards as the "Turks of the West" or as a disgrace to civilization they speak either ignorantly or maliciously. The Spaniard at home enjoys all the liberties characteristic of a modern liberal commonwealth, including a representa-Will Take Hold of the Government Reins tive Parliament, universal suffrage, trial by jury and an absolutely free Washington is packed with visitors press. In view of these facts the con-

7 o'clock Monday evening. The citi zens, together with business men had arranged for a great public demonstration to bid farewell to their honored citizen and neighbor. The local militia joined in the demonstration, and headed by the famous Grand Army band marched to the McKinley home. All along the route to the depot, which was about a mile, the streets were jammed with people. Cheer after cheer was given them and many women were seen to weep as the president-elect's carriage, drawn by four richly caparisoned white horses passed along.

The space about the station was packed for squares by people who struggled ineffectually to get near the train, which was guarded by the companies of militia. As the Presidentelect and Mrs. McKinley stepped upon the rear platform of their car the shouts and cheers of the people again arose. Major McKinley seated his wife just inside the door and stepped upon the platform. The cheering was repeated, but quickly ceased as the president-elect raised his hand. His words were :

"My Neighbors and Friends and Fellow Citizens-On the eve of departure to the seat of government, soonsto assume the duties of an arduous responsibility, as great as can devolve upon any man, nothing could give me greater pleasure than this farewell greeting-this evidence of your friendship and sympathy ; your good will, and I am sure the prayers of all the people with whom I have lived so long and whose confidence and esteem are dearer to me than any other earthly honors. To all of us the future is a sealed book ; but, if I can by official act or administration, or utterance in any degree add to the prosperity of our beloved country, and the comfort and well being of our splendid citizenship, I will devote the Luzerne County Officials Spent $19,000 on best and most useful efforts of my life. (Loud and continuous applause and cries of 'We know you will, Major.')

There are two ways of creating deficits. One way is to cut down revenue below the amount of ordinary expenditure ; the other way is to make extraordinary appropriations without providing extraordinary revenue to meet them. The burdens laid upon productive industry in the United States are exhaustive. Within the past forty years the per capita cost of the ordinary running expenses of the Government has more than trebled. Yet the first act of the McKinley Administration will be to call Congress together in extra session, not to pare down expenses to the measure of revenue, but to levy new taxes for the double purpose of putting more money in the public treasury and more money in the private treasuries of favored individuals and corporations. When the opponents of frugal government go about the country prating of the deficit occasioned by the operation of our present revenue laws the taxpayer should shake the record of Billion Dollar Congresses in their faces. Every day for the next two years it will require the payment of over one and one-half million dollars to meet the outlay authorized by the Congress that will wind up its work to morrow.

The new Congress and new Administration, chosen by the people when the nation was griped by indus-trial and commercial distress, will be thirty minutes east four hundred forty-nine and asked to remedy the condition of affairs by giving another harder pull at ntty minutes east, three hundred ninety-five the purse-strings of the taxpayer. feet to north side of Sixth street; thence along This is a procedure hardly less ineffective and stupid than trying to put out a conflagration by squirting oil upon it .- Record.
