HIGH PRICED DOGS.

MORE VALUABLE THAN HORSES NOW IN THE NORTHWEST.

Great Demand for Them to Haul Supplies to the Gold Miners in the Yukon County in Alaska. Boarding Houses Kept for their Special Purpose.

Word comes from Tacoma, Wash., that dogs have suddenly become more valuable than horses in that section of the Northwest. This state of affairs results from the great and growing demand for dogs to be used in bauling sledges in the Yukon country, Alaska. While thousands of horses for which their owners cannot get $3 head are roaming over the plains of Eastern Washington and Oregon, good-sized dogs are bringing from $15 to $80 each in the local market. At Jeneau their value is double what it is here, and on the Yukon River a good dog brings from $100 to $150. To the Yukon miper the dog has become what the reindeer is to the Laplander and the pony to the cowboys of Texas and Mexico-a beast of service and a most valuable one.

The sledge dogs are too valuable not to be taken well care of where that is possible. Their owners' first thought in this respect is to obtain plenty of food for them. Their food consists principally of fish, usually salmon, caught in the Yukon River by the natives. An ordinary dog will cat daily two pounds of dried salmon, which equals seven pounds of fresh fish. At Forty Mile last winter dried salmon sold at from 20 to 50 cents a pound, and bacon that was fit only for dogs to eat sold for 371/2 cents a pound. In some of the larger camps on the Yukon dog boarding houses have been established, where the auimals are properly cared for at from $6 to $45 s mouth, according to the season and the price of dog food.

The native Yukon dog is much more valuable than the importations from Puget Sound. The dogs must be acclimated in order to stand the severities of winter. It is found that dogs taken from Montana and Dakota endure the Yukon winters with less suffering than those bred in the milder climate of Puget Sound. Two splendid specimens of native Alaska dogs were brought here a few days ago, their owner finding it cheaper to pay their passage on the steamer than to have them boarded at Dyea during his trip here for supplies. The animals weigh, one $2 and the other 88 pounds. The large one cost its owner $117 at Circle City. Both animals are stout, well proportioned and muscled, and have exceptionally short and heavy necks. Their ears are short and lifted like those of the Eskimo dog. Their coats are dark, and the hair, while not close, is smooth and heavy enough to form a comfortable protection against the Arctic winters and the Yukon mosquitoes, by the side of which the ferocity of the New Jersey variety pales into insignificance. A specially prepared dog food made out of meal and coarse meat from the packing houses is now being manufactured in the form of a cracker and seems likely to come into general use.

Buskskin moccasins are promany owners to keep the feet of the animals from being worn raw on the ice and snow. They are about nine inches long and made much after the pattern of a child's stocking. Pack saddles are also coming into use this spring. These are so arranged that dogs can carry a weight of from 10 to 20 pounds besides drawing a sled. The saddlebags fall on either side, and straps are arranged to prevent the pack from sliding forward or backward .- New York Sun.

Persons of Note. Jenny Lind's daughter, Mrs. Raymend Maude, of London, has much of her mother's brilliancy of voice, but has always refused to cultivate it for the stage. "I suppose there was too much music at home," she explained to a friend. Mrs. Maude has three children, none of whom is musical.

Carmen Sylva has received the decoration for Arts and Science from the Emperor of Austria. She is the first woman to win this title.

The anniversaries of victories won in the Crimean War are never forgot-ten by Florence Nightingale, in spite of her 76 years and her broken health. She always remembers to send a message to the veterans of the Crimea, and at Christmas time she never falls to send some token of remembrance to the workers in the institution for trained nurses which she founded at St. Thomas' Hospital not long after the close of the war.

According to the London Court Journal, Li Hung Chang has a most arduous task before him. The story is that the Chinese Emperor, being anxious to learn French, appointed the erstwhile possessor of the yellow jacket as his tutor. But when he discovered that his teacher had but a smattering of the tongue, he ordained that Li be incarcerated until he learns Count Tolstol's enthusiasm for chess is unbounded, and it is said that the tables in his bouse are nearly all marked out as chess-boards, and even the dogs and other family pets have received the names of chess pieces, Rook, Knight, Pawn, and so forth.

WASHINGTON.

Prom our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, June 8th, 1897 Republicans pretend to pooh pooh Senator Morgan's deliberately made unconstitutional and that Congress is to be submitted to the Cabinet.

The Senate has adopted a resolucontrol the liquor traffic within its to meet the decision of the Federal ever offered to the public. Court that the present dispensary law of South Carolina is in conflict with the interstate commerce law.

It looks now as though there would resolution when it was first offered it would have been adopted, but having conferred together, the Republican and elsewhere. Senators have recovered their nerve vote against the resolution.

The following language wasn't uttered by a Democratic member of the House, but by one of Washington's oldest ministers of the gospel, Dr. Byron Sunderland, at a mass meeting held under the auspices of the Womans' National Cuban League, to express the grief and indignation of the cents. American public at the atrocious murder of an American nurse by the Spainards. Dr. Sunderland said:

"The government of the United States seems to be recreant to its duty in this emergency. Look at the conduct of this Congress of ours. The House of Representatives, called together to take action on questions of vital mcment to the welfare of our people, as well as of our suffering fellow-citizens in Cuba, adjourning from day to day. All business locked up securely, and the key carried in one man's pocket. Meanwhile, members of this body, in cahoots with half a dozen members of the British Parliament, with the Ministers of both powers acting as umpires, regaling themselves at a game of chess! The committee rooms of the House given over to carrying on the sport."

Senator Jones of Arkansas doesn't believe in straddling any question. Two Democ.atic Senators voted with the Republicans for a duty on onyx because of the existence of onyx quarries in their states, and Senator Perkins said he was surprised that Senator Jones did not do so in order to help develop the large onyx deposits known to exist in Arkansas. Mr. Jones said in reply: "There is no justification for tariff taxation, except for the purposes of revenue, and I will not support an excessive tax, even for the benefit of my people. Taxation for private benefit is robbery, pure and simple.

Jerry Simpson may not be able to cope with Speaker Reed, but he made Representative Stone sorry he interrupted him to ask if there was any greater demand for the passage of a bankruptcy bill now than there was during the last Congress, by replying : "Why certainly there is ; your promised prosperity has not materialized, and the people now seek relief in bankruptcy courts."

If the words of the Washington judge, who presided over the court that tried and acquitted Havemeyer and Searles, the president and secretary of the sugar trust, mean anything they mean that the Senate committee had no legal authority to ask questions relating to the business of the sugar trust. If this is good law, the laws of the country cannot be too soon so amended as to give Congress the right to investigate the business of the sugar trust, and of all other trusts, whenever there is occasion to do so in the inte-r est of the public. It is guilty consciences which have caused Speaker Reed to be guarded by detectives, for fear that somebody will do him bodily injury as a result of the public indignation at his methods of muzzling the House. He has received threatening letters, but they were writteneby a man in Washington merely to cause a sensation. There were writtensby a man in Washington merely to cause a sensation. There isn't the slightest probability that anybody will kill Mr. Reed or even hurt him. The people know that their remedy hes in the ballot box, and they will wait until the Congressional elections next year to apply it.

Secretary Gage has let the secret out that Mr. McKinley expects this session of Congress to give him authority to appoint a currency commission. The House will, of course, do whatever Mr. McKinley wants it to do, provided that Mr. Reed's consent be obtained, but the silver Senators have not the slightest idea of giving Mr. McKinley authority to pick a currency commission, but they will insist that its members shall be selected by the President, the Senate and the House, in order that the silver men may have a fair representation thereon.
