HOW TO FIND OUT.

Fill a bottle or common water glass with urine and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates a diseased condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is positive evidence of kidney trouble. The frequent desire to urinate or pain in the back, is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

WHAT TO DO.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in relieving pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passages. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists price fifty cents and one dollar. For a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail, mention THE COLUMBIAN and send your full post-office address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.

NOTES FROM CHICAGO

RETURNING DELEGATES MAKE THE CITY A VISIT.

The Endeavorers' Great Convention-Effeets of the Coal Miners' Strike Heing Felt-Great Scheme of Railroad Improvement Now Hatching.

The International Christian Endeavor convention of 1897 is a thing of the past, but it has been an event which will long be remembered. Even though located on the Pacific coast it attracted a large attendance and thou-sands of the delegates are now traversing the country and visiting places of interest. Chicago has been especially fortunate in entertaining not only a large number of these delegates but hundreds of others who availed themselves of the low rates of travel. It may be said of the convention this year, that it lacked nothing in interest and although the closing sessions were not quite so well attended as the others, still there were packed houses and the enthusiasm was as great as at any time. There was praise for the Com-mittee of 1897, gratification at the re-ception all had received at the hands of California in general, and San Francisco in particular, and thankfulness for the perfect weather which has blessed the entire meeting.

The effects of the great miners' strike are being felt all over the cen-tral West, and at no point is the influence of the strike more marked than in Chicago. It has been asserted by the leaders of the strike, that the obstinacy of one man alone prevented an early settlement by arbitration, Mr. De Armitt met the representatives of the miners from five States and declared to them that he would not consider the question of arbitrating the rates of coal mining unless 97 per cent. of all the mine owners in the Pittsburg district would consent to sign an agreement binding themselves by heavy money forfeitures to a system of honest weighing, uniform screening, and cash payments.

But the miners assert that the trouble with Mr. De Armitt is that he is not honest. The coal operators of this district are emphatic in their expressions of opinion that the proposal to settle the great coal strike on President De Armitt's plan is wholly impracticable. Some of them are frank enough to say that they consider it an adroit move of De Armitt to shift some of the responsibility for a continuation of the strike onto his competitors' shoulders.

One of the largest operators said: "President De Armitt is simply opening up an old controversy that was settled long ago to the satisfaction of ev-erybody but himself. Fully 97 per al operators in this district agreed to accept his terms of 'true uniformity,' but when the time arrived for us to sum up the percentage of signers we found that he insisted upon bringing in the names of certain firms and insisting upon their indorsement of the scheme, when, as a matter of fact, they had never been considered a portion of this district. Arbitration has failed, and everybody knows why. This strike must now be fought out to the bitter end." Rail coal sold for $1.80 per ton the other day and was hard to get at that. Before the strike it could be purchased at seventy cents. River coal still sold at four cents per bushel, an advance of one cent. The only source of supply for markets outside Pittsburg is the river. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has confiscated for its own use all the coal ready for shipment along its lines. With the exception of permitting the rail, ad operators filling orders for coaling vessels at the lake ports, no coal from mines on the Pennsylvania Railroad is allowed to leave the district. With the supply limited to the Monongahela district the prospect of famine is declared to be a certainty. The railroad company's order is of great assistance to the cause of the miners. In the West Virginia district the outlook is very encouraging. The visible supply at present will not exceed ten million bushels, and this will not be-gin to meet the needs of the Pittsburg market for more than three weeks at the longest. The entire supply is confined to the Monongahela district. The statement that there is a supply sufficlent to meet all demands is rot. The operators were caught napping, with no prospect of replenishing it. With the exception of one or two operators in the Monongahela district, no single operator has more than a half million bushels of coal on hand. Under these conditions a famine of general extent is sure to result, and coal may reach fabulous prices. It is whispered here in railroad circles that the greatest system of railroad improvement ever undertaken in the world is soon to be inaugurated. This is nothing less than the re-equip-ment of several of the largest roads centering at Chicago, and changing the motive power from steam to electricity. The recent remarkably successful experiment with electricity introduced by the third rail system, has started the rumors of an enormous expenditure of money for the new sys-

A gentleman was riding with Mr. Edison on the Empire State Express, not long ago, when Mr. Edison said: "In a very short time I will compel the Vanderbilts to use electricity in-stead of steam. The compulsion lies in the prospect of greater speed, and the certainty of reduced expenses. If recent reports are true, the entire sys-tem with which Mr. J. Pierpont Mor-gan is connected will soon adopt elec-tricity and send hundreds of engines to the scrap heap. The entire system embraces more than 25,000 miles and includes, of course, the New York Central, the Hartford, Erie, Philadelphia and Reading and Northern Pacific. The effect of such a decision upon the stock of the Electric General company can easily be understood—when it is stat-ed that Mr. Morgan, besides being practically in control of the railroad companies referred to, is also in control of the Electric General company, which will be called upon to furnish the new equipment. If all the roads in the Morgan system make the proposed change, it is estimated that the coet will reach $500,000,000. The cap-ital of the Electric General is $50,000,-000, and with such an enormous sum in contracts in contemplation this stock is keeping company with the mercury in the thermometers.

There is this very gratifying fact in connection with this proposed change. It will greatly improve the industrial situation, by furnishing remunerative-employment to thousands who are distressingly in need of it.

CECIL RHODES' RAID.

The Parliamentary Committee Makes its Report.

Parliamentary committees work with great deliberation, as is shown by the fact that the report of the committee charged with investigating the famous Transvaal raid has but just been presented to the British Parliament. The report is somewhat of a surprise. It expresses an emphatic opinion that whatever justification there might have been for action on the part of the people of Johannesburg, there was none whatever for Cecil Rhodes's conduct in subsidizing, organizing and stimulating an armed insurrection against the government of the Transvaal. Although the report admits that at the last moment Dr. Jameson invaded the Transvaal without the direct sanction of Rhodes, it fixes upon him a heavy responsibility for the raid and the gravity of Rhodes transacton is weightily expressed by the committee. It declares that he "seriously embarrassed both the Imperial and Colonial Governments; that his proceedings resulted in an astonishing breach of international comity; that he utilized his position and the great interests he controlled in order to assist and support revolution, and deceived the High Commissioner as well as concealing his views from the members of the Coionial Ministry and the Directors of the chartered company." The raid is condemned, but the opinion is expressed that the affairs of the chartered company need not be further investigated. Lord Rosmead and Mr. Chamberlain, and the under-secreatries of the Co-ionial Office, are held blameless, on the ground that there is no evidence that any of them was in any sense cog-nizant of the plans for the raid. Sir Graham Bower, Imperial Secretary of the High Commissioner, is guilty of a grave dereliction of duty because he failed to decline to receive from Cecil Rhodes confidential communications wholly incompatible with the duty he owned the High Commissioner. The voluminous minority report presented by the irrepressable Liabou-chere is even more severe upon Rhodes than the majority report. He plainly declares that the raid was organized for the single purpose of making certain wealthy men more wealthy. It is impossible to say what will become of this famous case now that it has finally got before the Parliament, through the medium of a committee report. The crime with which Rhodes and his associates is charged is a very grave one, and if the case against him is ever pressed there is sufficient evidence to convict him. But in dealing with Rhodes great and powerful influences must be considered, and his enormous wealth and the powerful influence which he exerts, will probably prevent any serious consequences of the raid falling upon him. There is, indeed, a possible way of escape pointed out by the committee which relieves him of all direct responsibility for the particular overt act of Dr. Jameson, although holding him re-sponsible for all the steps which lead up to it.

For Victims of Sessickness. When once the big ship has struck its regular gait on the regular ocean swell, the novice easily learns that he is at sea. Experienced travelers, wo-men especially, often give up at this point and lie quietly in their berths for twenty-four hours. There is no sure preventive of seasickness which I know, except to go to sea so often that finally the motion is not noticed. A strong will may hasten the cure, but it cannot greatly delay the inevitable nor hold the elements down; nor will champagne, nor brandy, nor a piece or writing paper carefully put over the pit of the stomach serve to this end. To be in good condition before sailing (to which a one grain calomel pill swallowed two nights previous may contribute), and to eat a little plain food often when on board, so that the stomach is not empty, aid recovery. The most disconsolate, if they can be persuaded to it, often rally on hot gruel with a little salt in it. Most important of all, after a day below, is to get on deck; then a glass of champagne and ice may be accepted. There can be no general rule applicable .-Scribner's.

A Cold Church.

A good story is told of Rev. Hadley Proctor, who once preached in Rut-land, Vt. One bitter cold day, when the church was but half warmed, Brother Proctor had for his text a very warm verse, addressed to those on the left hand; and, like the rest of us, he seemed to feel the antagonism between the weather and his subject. Just before the benediction, he leaned forward and said to one of the deacons in front of the pulpit, in tones loud enough to be heard by all, and in the nasal twang that can only be appreciated by those who have listened to the venerable Eli Jones:

"Brother Griggs, do see that this house is better warmed this afternoon; it's no kind of use for me to warn sinners of the dangers of hell, when the very idea is a comfort to them."
