CANOVAS KILLED.

The Premier of Spain Shot by an Anarchist.

Senor Canovas del Castillo, prime minister of Spain, was assassinated Sunday at Santa Angueda by an anarchist. The murderer fired three shots, one of which struck the premier in the forehead and another in the chest.

The wounded man fell dying at the feet of his wife, who was with him, lingering in agony for an hour and then passing away with the cry "Long live Spain," which were the last words upon his lips.

The murderer declares that he killed Senor Canovas "in accomplishment of a just vengeance and that the deed is the outcome of a vast anarchist conspiracy.

He is believed to have arrived at Santa Agueda the same day as the premier and he was frequently seen lurking in the passages of the bathing establishment in a suspicious manner.

The news of the assassination of Canovas was communicated by a reporter to General Stewart L. Woodford, the United States Minister to Spain, now in London en route for San Sebastian, where he had expected to present his credentials to the Queen Regent in the presence of Senor Canovas.

General Woodford was so overcome that several minutes passed before he could express his horror at the deed and his profound sympathy for Spain in her misfortune. When he had recovered from the shock of the intelligence he said:

"This is terrible, most unfortunate. The Spanish Government and people will have the sincere sympathy of all friends of constitutional government. It is too soon to express any views as to the effect which the regrettable death of Senor Canovas will have upon current questions.

"It will not affect my movement, however, unless it becomes my duty to reach my post as soon as possible in order to express to the Spanish Government the sympathy of the American Government."

College presidents and professors were applauded when they ran over the country, last fall, dropping words of advice from their superior knowledge, that gold "was the only safe and commercially stable basis upon which to found the currency of any government." Not so with president Andrews, of Brown University, who resigned, last Friday, because of the firm conviction that silver should hold a place with gold in the formation of such a basis. Because he dared to express such an opinion, the same as held by six and one-half million other American citizens, the corporation controlling that institution hounded him into resigning.—Ex.

If your baby does not seem to prosper, if he does not gain in weight, you must get more fat there. A few drops of each day will put on plumpness; fat outside, life inside, baby and mother both happy.

Your baby can take and relish Scott's Emulsion as much in summer as in any other season.

Sarsaparilla Sense.

Any sarsaparilla is sarsaparilla. True. So any tea is tea. So any flour is flour. But grades differ. You want the best. It's so with sarsaparilla. There are grades. You want the best. If you understood sarsaparilla as well as you do tea and flour it would be easy to determine. But you don't. How should you? When you are going to buy a commodity whose value you don't know, you pick out an old established house to trade with, and trust their experience and reputation. Do so when buying sarsaparilla.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla has been on the market 50 years. Your grandfather used Ayer's. It is a reputable medicine. There are many Sarsaparillas—but only one Ayer's. It cures.
