No statement of the condition of the firm is obtainable, but it is estimated that their liabilities will reach $1.000.000. Mr. Dwiggins is at present traveling in Europe. J. R. Willard, senior member of the firm, has been a member of the Consolidated exchange since September 23. 1895. He had represented the firm in Chicago and had a branch office in that city up to a few months ago, when it closed and the business was taken over by John Dickinson & Co. Elmer Dwiggins was the working head of the firm. He made application to be admitted to membership in the Consolidated exchange on July 11, but was not admitted. Elmer and Dwiggins, who are brothers, are nephews of Zimri Dwiggins, who tounded a large system of country banks in Illinois, Indiana and other western states, most of which failed in the panic of 1893.

"The cause of the failure," said Assignee Starbuck, "is simply that the firm has been upon the wrong side of the market. They have been short on stock and grain."

The firm has done a big business on the consolidated exchange within sixty days, having run as high as 9,000 to 10,000 shares of stock daily. The assignce, Mr. Starbuck, is one of the bookkeepers of the firm. On his behalf another employee made the following statement :

"It is difficult to tell what the liabilities of the firm are, but they will probably amount to as much as $1,000,000. It is even more difficult at this time to give any idea of the assets of the firm. Whatever they are, they consist mainly of cash in bank, outstanding accounts and of a resumption of business, provided Wirt, moulder. a reasonable settlement can be made with the creditors."

Was Not so Nervous.

"I have been a great sufferer for many years with liver and kidney troubles, indigestion and headaches. I was nervous and could not sleep. Hood's Sarsaparilla was recommended to me and I thought I would try it. After taking a few bottles my headache was relieved. I was not so nervous and I was able to eat and sleep well." MRS. R. J. Literary Note.

The interiors of one thousand of the most attractive homes in the United States have been photographed by The Ladies' Home Journal. One hundred of the best of these pictures will be reproduced in that magazine. The first article of the series-"Inside of a Hundred Homes"-will appear in the October Journal. Bedchambers, reception and dining rooms, bathrooms, halls and apartments of every kind will be pictured just as they are in daily use. Each picture contains dozens of suggestions. Every woman is interested in taking a peep into the most attractive homes in the land, to see how they are furnished and arranged. She wants to get practical hints and new ideas for furnishing her own. The houses photographed by the Jonrnal are those occupied by persons of moderate income. Their interior arrangement shows what perfect taste can accomplish with a little money and the touch of a woman's deft fingers. Homes in every State in the Union-from Maine to California-were photographed for the Journal's unique and useful series.

BLOOMSBURG, PA.

Another sleeping car story is being circulated, and the truth of it is backed by a man well known in Chicago for his veracity and abhorrence of exaggeration. He tells the story on himself, or rather his wife, and, while it savors of the usual sleeping car tale, it has its good points.

Together with his wife, the man was traveling recently from California. One night he awoke in his berth in the agony of horrible pains in the stomach. As they were passing through a prohibition district, and there was nothing more tempting on board than apollinaris water, his intentions were honest when he shrieked loudly for brandy.

But there was none to be had, so, with the instinct of a true woman durng family affliction, the wife rushed to her satchel and drew therefrom a mustard plaster, an institution upon which she pinned her faith in cases of the kind, and requested the porter to get hot water without delay.

When the poultice was in readiness for application, she returned and carefully pulled aside the curtains of a berth, tenderly placing the plaster.

An instant later a howl rent the air, and a voice of agony, emanating from behind the long whiskers of a stranger, gasped out :

"Great heavens, the train's wrecked! The boiler's lying on me! Oh, how it burns! Help! Help! Fire! Fire !"

Nightcars, disordered frizzes, red and sleepy eyes and ashen faces were thrust out into the aisle in horror, wonder and surprise. The poor woman who was the innocent cause of the excitement hastily withdrew to her own quarters, while the porter removed the "boiler" from the stranger and assured everybody that all was well .- Chicago Inter Ocean.
