From our Regular Correspondent. WASHINGTON, Oct. 1, 1897.

The Treasury dencit is still the fly in the administration's milk. The deficit for the third month of the first quarter of the fiscal year, which closed yesterday, was not so great as for the first two months of the quarter, but that was because of a heavy decrease in expenditures and not because of by local applications as they cannot any large increase in receipts. The reach the diseased portion of the ear. deficit for the quarter is in the neighborhood of $30,000,000, and there is no good reason for expecting that it remedies. Dealness is caused by an will be much less in the second quarter, although members of the administration are now predicting that the receipts of the government will equal the expenditures by the first of January. It is known that this continued deficit has been a source of considerable worry to Mr. McKinley and his cabinet, and believed that it was one of the reasons why the administration was so willing to have the sale of the dition of the mucous surfaces. Union Pacific Railroad rushed before cash in the Treasury. Mr. McKinley has returned to Washington, but his traveling isn't quite over for the season, as Boss Hanna needs him in his business, and has arranged another trip to Ohio for him. It is understood that this trip will be made the latter part of this month and that whilein Ohio Mr. Mc-Kinley will make at least one speech for Hanna. If a little thing like consistency cut any figure with the Hanna-McKinley combine, it would be pertinent to ask if there was impropriety in the Ohio campaign, why the President can do so with propriety?

The little gathering of goldbugs calling themselves a "monetary commission" and claiming to represent the entire country has, after dividing and banking, taken a recess until October 11. So far as the public is concerned they might just as well have adjourned sine die.

The machinery of the Pension Bureau is being unblushingly used to Hanna in Ohio. A number of clerks have been transferred to the middle division, in which Ohio is, from another division, in order to expedite all applications for pensions for citizens of Ohio now pending, and in order that all pension inquiries made by Ohio Congressmen may be answered the same day they are received. Of course, this is not fair towards applicants for pensions in other States, but it allows the Ohio voter to see what "pull" Hanna has, and after election Ohio applications will cease to be specially favored.

The row started when Kerens produced a peremtory order from Mr. McKinley directing that a man selected for postmaster at Kirkville, Mo., by the Postmaster General, should not be appointed. Mr. Gary got so mad that he accused Kerens of wanting to have embezzlers appointed postmasters in Mo. Then the Missouri boss got "on his ear" and made things so hot for Mr. Gary that he was glad to close the incident by making an apology. What really made Mr. Gary mad was that Mr. Mc-Kinley would not allow him to appoint a man postmaster who was opposed by Kerens.
