It is estimated that fully 35,000 people were on the Fair ground last Friday. Two trains, on the D. L. & W. Railroad, came down with fifteen cars each on that day.

One of the special features of Stowe's Uncle Tom's Cabin, at the Opera House, to-morrow night, will be a grand cake walk, in which, it is said, some of Bloomsburg's colored population will contest.

The Jackson & Woodin Manufacturing Company, of Berwick, have just received an order for 1000 cars. This is good news, and will keep that company busy for some time.

It is said that eight pocketbooks were found in the possession of one of the pickpockets, who was arrested on Friday night last. He had been plying his vocation on the Fair ground and must have been quite good at the business.

W. C. Dougherty, of Wilkes-Barre, who was the former manager of the Western Union Telegraph Company, in Bloomsburg, called on his many old friends in town last week. This was his first visit here since he left about eleven years ago.

The sky in the direction of Berwick was illuminated at an early hour Saturday morning, caused by the burning of a large barn owned by James Wright of that place. Everything in the building was destroyed. The fire was of incendiary origin.

The Knorr-Wintersteen conspiracy case in which the latter is charged with an attempt to blow up the residence of L. E. Waller last September will occupy the attention of the court for the second time next week, beginning on Tuesday. Sensational developments are promised.

There will be about two hundred applicants for the positions of mail carrier and clerk in the new free delivery system, which is to be inaugurated in Bloomsburg on February 1. There are three carriers and one clerk to be chosen. Somebody is going to get left.

The management of next season's base ball team will have to bear the expense of purchasing new uniforms, as only three players gave up their uniforms at the close of last season. This state of affairs might have been avoided had some one looked after the matter.

The Commissioners of Luzerne county refused to pay the deputies sworn in by Sheriff Martin during the recent strike in the Hazleton region. This leaves the expense all on the coal operators. They have made arrangements to pay the deputies, as well as other expenses incurred.

The following letters are advertised October 19, 1897:

Will be sent to the dead letter office Nov. 2.

The Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight reproduced by the linegraph, on the Fair Ground, last week, was positively no good, and many people gave up their money to see a worthless machine. The blurred appearance of the pictures was probably due to the fact that the tent could not be made sufficiently dark.

The jury in the celebrated Luetger murder case at Chicago is still out. It is the intention of Judge Tuthill, who presided at the trial to keep the jury until Saturday night before he permits them to go with a disagreement. The jury stands just about the same now as it has stood since they went out. Reports vary from nine for death to three for acquittal to eleven for death to three for acquittal.

The Montour County Fair is being held at Danville this week.

A new 24 page Hoe Perfecting Printing Press has been placed in the office of the Pennsylvania Grit at Williamsport. Last Saturday's issue of the Grit was the first printed on the new press, and gives an interesting description of the building which is occupied as its home. The Grit is read by a large number of people in Bloomsburg. Its circulation is 80,000 every week.

A benefit ball was given for the Lock Haven base ball team at that city last Friday night. "Willie" Gill who played left field for the team was made treasurer. The receipts amounted to $32, and while darkness covered the earth "Willie" left the town. He will be remembered here as one of the greatest kickers in the business, and his actions in that direction more than once disgusted the patrons of the game at Athletic Park the past season.

This is the time of year for forest fires and it is reported that they are raging and destroying an immense amount of timber in different sections of the state. The river hill just opposite town has been burning a considerable for the past two days, but the little rain of last night had the effect of checking it somewhat. What starts these forest fires is a question. In the above case it is supposed to be the result of sparks from locomotives falling in the dry leaves. But in many instances forest fires start and destroy property where there is no railroad for many miles around.

The next attraction at the Opera House Friday Oct. 22, will be our old yet ever new favorite, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," an immortal play that is always greeted by large audiences everywhere. A famous lecturer says:

One cannot help but wonder why it is that "Uncle Tom's Cabin" always proves a drawing card, yet there is nothing very wonderful about it when once the plot and presentation of this realistic drama is taken into consideration. We have read "Uncle Tom's Cabin" as many as twenty times, and always with absorbing interest, and so, too, we have seen it presented on the stage forty times, and it seems as if we enjoy the last better than any previous rendition. There are some plays, like "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and "Rip Van Winkle" that never wear out. There is that about the plot of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" — a combination of drama, comedy, wit, humor and pathos, all blended so naturally and realistic—that the audience lives through it all, become part of the players on the stage, and have their sympathies aroused to a degree that makes them feel as if they were witnessing a real drama of every-day life.

—Ingersoll.

Stowe's company, that will present the piece, is said to be the finest that has ever appeared in this city, and has as extra accessories to the drama proper—a band of colored jubilee singers, a troupe of African cake walkers and banjo players, a corps of buck and wing dancers, several Siberian bloodhounds, donkeys, ponies, two full brass bands, and a fine set of special spectacular scenery, including a genuine cotton gin press in full operation, and a grand transformation scene "Eva in Bowers Elysium" with dazzling electrical effects.

Resolutions of Condolence.

WHEREAS, An Allwise Providence in His supreme wisdom has seen fit to remove from our midst Sister Elvira Megargell. Therefore,

Resolved, 1st. That we bow in submission under the rod of affliction, and try to say "thy will be done."

Resolved, 2nd. That in her death the community has lost one who delighted in doing good, and whose presence in the sickroom was a benediction.

Resolved, 3rd. That the Church in all her departments of work has met with a loss which seems, from a human standpoint, almost irreparable.

Resolved, 4th. That we will cherish her memory, imitate her godly life, follow her as she followed the Master and meet her in Heaven.

Resolved, 5th. That a copy of these resolutions be sent the family, the county papers and Pa. Methodist for publication.

What is Scott's Emulsion?

It is a strengthening food and tonic, remarkable in its flesh-forming properties. It contains Cod-Liver Oil emulsified or partially digested, combined with the well-known and highly prized Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda, so that their potency is materially increased.

What Will It Do?

It will arrest loss of flesh and restore to a normal condition the infant, the child and the adult. It will enrich the blood of the anemic; will stop the cough, heal the irritation of the throat and lungs, and cure incipient consumption. We make this statement because the experience of twenty-five years has proven it in tens of thousands of cases.

Be sure you get SCOTT'S Emulsion. 50c. and $1.00, all druggists.

The Gunning Season.

The gunning season opened on Friday of last week, and it is now legal to shoot all game with the exception of deer and rabbits. Rabbits will not be in till the first of next month. Quite a number of our sports were out last week, but so far as we have learned the game did not suffer to any very alarming extent. It is reported that squirrels are very plentiful and in excellent condition this season which is probably due to fact that they had one month extra lease of life given them this year. Heretofore it was legal to kill squirrels on Sept. 1, but the new law gives them an extra month and a half longer to run.
