MRS. NACK CONFESSES

SHE APPEARS AS A WITNESS AGAINST THORN.

German Midwife Weakens After First Day's Testimony—Officials Are Sensitive but the Story of the Goldensuppe Murder is Known.

Mrs. Nack yesterday went upon the stand and turned State's evidence against Martin Thorn with whom she was jointly indicted for the killing of William Goldensuppe. The story of the confession is told in a New York dispatch as follows:

It is said that Emanuel Friend, the counsel for Augusta Nack, who is indicted with Martin Thorn for the murder of William Goldensuppe in a cottage at Woodside, L. I., telephoned to the Sun office last night that Mrs. Nack had made a confession, and that she would appear as a witness for the State on Thorn's trial.

Mr. Friend was retained by one of the city papers to defend Mrs. Nack.

Mr. Friend, at the same hour, between 9 and 10 o'clock at night, sent word by telephone to the same effect to District Attorney Youngs, to William F. Howe, counsel for Thorn, and to various other persons. He asked District Attorney Youngs to meet him early this morning at the Long Island City Court House and said that he would then furnish Mr. Youngs with full particulars.

William F. Howe was awakened in his room at the Park Avenue Hotel about 9.30 by a bellboy, who handed him a card, upon which was written: "W. F. Howe—Mrs. Nack has confessed and will be the first witness for the State in the morning."

"E. M. FRIEND," Mr. Howe did not appear perturbed, and made a statement of what effect Mrs. Nack's confession would have on Thorn's chances of acquittal.

"At first I was astonished," he said, "but two minutes' reflection dismissed my doubt and perturbation. I came to the conclusion that if Lady Macbeth killed Duncan she had a perfect right to say so, but she lied about when she said her husband committed the crime."

"I knew, and 'Manny' Friend knew, that I had as perfect a case as could be built. I am utterly at loss to understand how any lawyer could sanction his client making a confession when there was such an utter absence of proof against her. Assuming her story is true, which I deny as far as it may implicate Thorn, there would be no evidence to prove that she was more than an accessory."

SENATOR FORAKER TALKS

States His Position as to the Ohio Senatorial Situation.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Senator Foraker arrived here yesterday afternoon from Cincinnati. He said he thought most of the disturbance over the Ohio Senatorship was in the Democratic papers. He continued:

"I do not know a thing about a fight over the Senatorship, except as I see statements to that effect in the newspapers. I have not talked with Gov. Bushnell or any of the members-elect of the General Assembly, directly or indirectly, on the subject, and I do not know what is contemplated."

"All I have said to any one is that, so far as I am concerned, the campaign ended on election day. So long as it was a fight against Democrats, I spared neither time nor strength. If there should be a contest among Republicans, I shall not have anything to do with it. If allowed to act according to my preferences."

Senator Foraker expects to go to New York to-night or to-morrow.

Must Pay Damages to France.

Chicago, Nov. 10.—The World's Columbian Exposition Company must pay the loss to the French Republic and French exhibitors caused by the fire on Jan. 8, 1894. Such is the opinion of Judge Cassius, handed down yesterday from the Federal bench. The fire at the Casino and Peristyle showered sparks upon the wooden walk of the Manufacturers' Building. The burning timbers fell into the building and upon the exhibits of the Frenchmen. The French Republic lost some fine Beauvais and gobelin tapestry and two magnificent Sevres vases, made for ornaments at the entrance to the Chamber of Deputies. The loss amounted to about seventy-five thousand dollars.

Hogansville Still at It.

Hogansville, Ga., Nov. 10.—The war against Postmaster Loftin has broken out again with renewed vigor. Arrangements have been made with the sympathetic adjoining towns to send mails intended for Hogansville from their offices by messenger. Travelers, drummers, etc., are all commissioned to handle mail. Last evening an Atlanta drummer had his satchel filled with letters which he was to mail from Atlanta. The mail boxes on the mail trains are locked before reaching this place, but the passengers accept the mails and it is deposited in other offices all the way from Atlanta to Montgomery.

Minnesota Millionaire Falls.

Mankato, Minn., Nov. 10.—John A. Willard, well known as a millionaire and banker, has made an assignment. Mr. Willard estimates his direct liabilities at about four hundred and eighty thousand dollars. All is secured with what was, when made, supposed to be ample security, and may be so still.

His indirect liabilities are perhaps double the size of his direct. His assets are largely real estate, which was worth a few years ago considerably over two million dollars.

No More Prize Fights in Chicago.

Chicago, Nov. 9.—There are to be no more prize fights or boxing contests in this city. Early Sunday evening the order went out from Chief Kiplely to all police officers directing them to stop all such contests. Since Mayor Harrison's election there have been several so-called athletic clubs whose chief object has been simply to foster the sport. Scores of contests of more or less importance will now have to be called off.

One Bullet Kills Two.

Hyden, Ky., Nov. 10.—Investigation shows that Ben Ingalls, who shot and killed James Singleton in an election quarrel, also killed his own daughter.

WADE HAMPTON'S LAST REPORT.

Low Water Mark of Railway Building Reached Last Year.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Before Gen. Wade Hampton retired from the office of Commissioner of Railroads he filed with Secretary Bliss his annual report for the year ended on Sept. 30 which has just been made public. He notes that the long period of depression in railroad business reached its lowest point in 1896, when the falling off in passenger traffic and demoralization in freight rates, together with the decrease in volume of business, most seriously affected the earnings.

The low water mark, the Commissioner continues, "was reached in railway construction, and during the year thirty-four roads, with 5,441 miles of road, passed into the hands of the courts, and fifty-eight others, which had been previously placed in receivers' hands, were sold at foreclosure."

Regarding the settlement of the Union Pacific debt, Gen. Hampton says: "I have, in each one of my previous reports, recommended the adjustment of the indebtedness of the Pacific railroad to the Government through the medium of a commission to be appointed by the President, and it has always seemed to me that a settlement more advantageous to the Government could be obtained if all the companies, particularly the Union and Central Pacific, could be negotiated with at the same time, and possibly in the same way, than could be accomplished by settling with them at different times and on a different basis."

"I am not disposed to question the wisdom of the course pursued by the Department of Justice in the case of the Union Pacific Railway, and viewed from a financial standpoint, it would seem to be about the best thing for the Government to do under the circumstances. The main objections which have been urged against this method of settlement have come from strong advocates of Government ownership, or of operation under Government supervision. I have always regarded this as not only a doubtful, but a dangerous experiment, which would involve the Government in enormous expense and would in all probability result disastrously."

IN LEAGUE WITH SATAN.

A Murderer Makes This Astonishing Plea for Defense.

Dove, N. H., Nov. 10.—His compact with Satan was witnessed by a clergyman, Joseph E. Kelly said yesterday, when his trial for the murder of Cashier Joseph A. Stickney, of the Great Falls National Bank, in Somersworth, began before the Supreme Court.

This astonishing statement, upon which the defense will base a plea of insanity, was made to the prisoner's counsel, James Ryan, Jr., of this place. "Ever since I was 11 years old," he has said, "Satan has been my constant companion. And the agreement with him will not run out until January 15, 1898. I will be 25 years old then. My first act under the agreement was to steal a watch, and I was impelled to deeds worse and worse until I killed the old man in the doorway of his bank and took all the money in sight."

Many insanity experts have been retained by the defense, and a doctor who treated Kelly for some injury to the head years ago has been subpoenaed as a witness.

A LAND OF SKELETONS.

Famine Reduces Men to Bones in Archangel.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 10.—A terrible famine is ravaging the Province of Archangel, a Government of European Russia, in the extreme north, extending from the Ural Mountains on the east to Finland on the west. Many have already died of starvation.

The people wander about, reduced almost to skeletons, their heads swollen to the size of buckets. Tea is the only means of subsistence.

The Province of Archangel has an area of nearly two hundred and ninety thousand square miles, but it is one continuous flat and almost an unvaried scene of desolation, especially in the most northern parts, where the ground remains frozen nine months in the year.

Almost the only crops raised are hemp, flax, potatoes and some rye, neither the climate nor the soil admitting of the cultivation of oats or wheat. The timber forms the principal wealth.

In spite of these unfavorable conditions, the province has a population of about three hundred thousand souls.

Revealed Through Jealousy.

New Orleans, Nov. 10.—Six years ago the body of Gen. Harrington, of Abbeville, was found floating in Bayou Vermillion. An autopsy showed that he had been murdered, but no evidence could be found as to the murderer.

Yesterday Mrs. Horace Guldry testified that her husband had murdered Harrington. She had concealed the guilt of her husband until he had abandoned her for the widow of the man he had murdered. Jealousy prompted her action. Guldry was arrested and is now in jail charged with murder.

Consumption

Will SCOTT'S EMULSION cure consumption? Yes and no. Will it cure every case? No. What cases will it cure then? Those in their earlier stages, especially in young people. We make no exaggerated claims, but we have positive evidence that the early use of

of Cod-liver oil with Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda in these cases results in a positive cure to a large number. In advanced cases, however, where a cure is impossible, this well-known remedy should be relied upon to prolong life surprisingly.

Plucking of a Ross.

This play took the opera house by storm. The audience was large and enthusiastic. Harry Tempest as Larry Cogan made an admirable Irish lad full of mick and blarney, but always as honest as daylight and as fearless as a lion. He sang in good form and was loudly applauded at all times. Mr. Tempest was the sunshine of the play.—Lansford Leader, Nov. 6, 1897. At the Opera House, Nov. 13, 16 and 17, prices 10, 20, 30c.
