THEATRE-GOING IN JAPAN.

A Law Prohibiting a Performance to be Longer Than Eight Hours.

It will interest many to hear that the Japanese laws now prohibit theatrical performance lasting more than eight hours. The plays in the first-class theatres begin at 10 or 11, and are not ended until after sunset. There are intervals, of course, for refreshments, and a recent innovation is a theatre yard for exercise, lined with eating booths and fancy stalls. Boxes are secured three or four days beforehand from a neighboring tea house, where arrangements are made for attendance and refreshments during the day. Full dress is never worn.

The following articles, unless otherwise ordered, are brought to each patron: A programme, a cushion, a tobacco fire-box, a pot of tea, rakes, fruit and sushi, a sort of rice dumpling flavored with rinegar and topped with a piece of fish. Valuables may be left at the tea house, and the inclusive charge, excepting the waiter's tip, is not more than 1.80 yen a head. The gallery is the most aristocratic place, but the space unreserved, occupied by the Japanese "gods," is quaintly called "the deaf gallery."-Westminster Ga-

New Year's.

From time immemorial the new year has been the season for fresh and good resolutions.

But indeed the making of good resomtions has always been so easy that one marvels why any day in especial should ever have been set apart for he purpose. Yet the fact is that almost every one likes to postpone the ime of relinquishing the particular anughtiness which for any reason has become objectionable, whether the eason be the bare fact of its own haracter or be the injury it works.

It is so easy to be good next week or the week after, because that person who is going to be good next week or he week after is another individual. the person of that time another serson, not one's self, not the of this time. It is so difficult to say, Now, now, new is the time to leave off! because the person whom "Now" addresses is one's self, and experiences the whole bitterness of the renunciation. And for this renson we may observe that usually the lime for carrying the good resolve into effect is seldom this moment or this day, but is always among the tomorrows; and thus uncounted good resolutions are made in any part of the last year, the time for their budfing into action being always left for the first day of the new year.

Had Daulel Webster Down Fine.

Some years ago an Eastern farmer, n trying to repeat Webster's dying words, "I still live," gave an amusing tendering of the spirit, if not the exect letter of the phrase. A gentleman and remarked to him, "Life is very unertain." "Ah, yes," replied the farmer, "that's true, every word of it; and. by the way, Captain, that makes me think of what one of your big Massathusetts men said when he died a spell

"Who was it?" inquired the Captain. "Well, I don't jist call his name now, but at any rate he was a big politicianer, and lived near Boston somewhere. My newspaper said that when he died he Boston folks put his image in their windows and had a funeral for a whole

"Perhaps it was Webster," suggested he Captain.

"Yes, that's his name! Webster. General Webster. Strange I could not think on it afore. But he got off a good thing just before he died. He riz up in bed and says he, 'I ain't dead yet!' "-Gum Bog.

Clocks all Agree.

Brussels has a very complete system of time service which the merchants use generally, and one cannot go anywhere without being faced with the exact time. There are 451 electric clocks In service, all governed by the master clock, which in this case is the town clock. Each minute all the hands of the clocks in the circuit are advanced one minute by the action of a current impulse sent out by the master clock. The cost of the service is $25 for the nitial installation, but after that the yearly cost is only about $2.-Chicago

Ohestnut Street Bank of Philadelphia Closes its Doors.

The financial circles of Philadelphia were greatly excited on Thursday morning of last week when the news became current that the Chestnut Street National Bank of that city had closed its doors.

Great excitement prevailed and when it became known generally throngs of depositors and others flocked to the building all anxious to know the cause of the suspension.

The failure occurring as it did on the day before Christmas, was a hard blow at the business in the city. A little later in the day it was learned that the Chestnut Street Trust Com- Dec. 30, '87, 31. pany had also failed.

The Mormon, like satan, cannot entirely conceal his cloven hoof. It will peep out and belie the most saintly face he can wear. Witness the advice given by "President" Woodruff at the semi-annual conference of the Mormons. It is to be remembered that in spite of protestations of loyalty to the United States a majority of the Mormon connection are yet as much under the thumb of the priesthood as they ever were. The significance of the following remarks of old Woodruff will therefore be understood: "God Almighty requires you to unite Reading has been compelled to put on an extra crew to help take care of the trains on the Philadelphia, Harris burg and Pittsburg road. The daily movement on this single track branch averages from 400 to 500 cars per day and has run up above 700. Most of this traffic is east bound, although some heavy coal shipments have been sent west. The local freight on the Reading is also very heavy and shows a big advance on all branches over last year.

Both divisions of the "Pennsy" are crowded with freight, although the Philadelphia division, as usual, is doing the largest business on account of the many "feeders," which contri-bute to the "Pennsy" at this point. Extra men on that part of the road are now making bigger wages than the regular men did last year at this time. Some of them are ahead of the month in the number of days worked. On the Middle division it was found necessary to hire new firemen for road running. Freight is exceedingly heavy at Marysville and several days ago the tracks were blocked with cars from this city to Duncannon. Some of the trainmen are making big extra time. The Northern Central has all the work it can do and is now employing about twenty brakemen at Marysville. Trainmen run as high as eight to ten days a week .- Harrisburg Patriot.

What do the Children Drink?

Don't give them tea or coffee. Have you tried the new food drink called Grain O? It is delicious and nourishing and takes the place of coffee. The more Grain O you give the children the more health you distribute through their systems. Grain O is made of pure grains, and tastes like choice coffee but costs about \(\frac{1}{2}\) the price. All grocers sell it. 15c and 25c.

Men who know anything about railroad affairs say that the present immense freight movement is the largest and most continuous rush in years.
