

ORILD STARTS A FURNAOE.

Lebanon Stack in Operation After Four Years Idleness.

Fire was lighted in Stack No. 2 of the Bird Coleman Furnaces, at Cornwall. The torch was applied by Elizabeth Caffes, the 7-year-old daughter of Thomas H. Caffes, solicitor of the Lackawanna Iron and Steel Company.

The furnace, which has been idle four years, will give employment to several hundred hands. The company has a five years' lease of the plant, and will shortly start the remaining furnace, as well as the stack of the Colebrook plant at West Lebanon.

About a month ago a marriage took place at Stroudsburg, the contracting parties being Robert W. Plotts, aged 77 and Mrs. Eliza Brooks aged 60. At the time of securing the marriage license, the prospective bride was asked concerning her first spouse's decease, she replied that it was about 1883. There is no doubt that Mrs. Plotts believed that her liege lord had gone to that unknown land when she answered "yes" to the question of Mr. Plotts, but now after one month of wedded bliss, her cup of happiness is shattered into a thousand fragments by the terrible tidings that William Brooks who married her many years ago in merry England has turned up alive and well. Now there's trouble in the family.

SALT RHEUM, TETTER, ECZEMA.—These distressing skin diseases relieved by one application. Dr. Agnew's Ointment is a potent cure for all eruptions of the skin. Jas. Gaston, Wilkesbarre, says: "For nine years I was disfigured with Tetter on my hands, Dr. Agnew's Ointment cured it." 35 cents.—75 Sold by C. A. Klein.

The Brockport Democrat "hits the nail on the head" when it says: "It is your local paper that records your births, publishes your marriages, and chronicles your debt. To the 40 page compendium of the happenings of the world you are not even a mere cipher. To get the least notice from them you must steal $10,000, commit an atrocious crime, or have half a dozen wives. But your local paper watches over you with solicitude at all times. If you are sick, it is sorry and hopes you soon will get well; it tells when you come and go, when your house burns down and when you build a new one; when Johnny has the mumps and Mary has the measles, and how much Pete weighed when he arrived. Take the city paper if you are interested in Africa, but if you want the local news take the local paper."

Sam Jones' Ideal Man.

The Rev. Sam Jones expressed some sound sense in very vigorous English in a recent sermon when he said:

"The place to take the true measure of a man is not in the market place, or the amen corner, not in the field or forum, but at his own fireside. There he lays aside his mask and you may learn whether he is an imp or an angel, king or cur, hero or humbug, whether it crowns him with glory or pelts him with bad eggs. I care not a copper what his religion would be. If his babies dread his home coming and his better half swallows her heart every time she has to ask him for a five dollar bill, he is a fraud of the first water, even though he prays night and morning until he is black in the face and shouts hallelujah until he shakes the eternal hills. But if the children run to the front gate to meet him, and love's own sunshine illuminates the face of his wife when she hears his footsteps, you can take it for granted that he is true gold—his home in heaven and the humbug never gets that near the throne of God. He may be a rank atheist and a red flag anarchist, and a Mormon, and a Mugwump; he may buy votes and bet on the elections; he may deal from the bottom and drink beer until he can't tell a silver dollar from a circular saw, and still he is infinitely better than the man who is all suavity, but who makes his home a hell—who vents on the heads of his helpless wife and children the ill nature he would like to inflict on his fellow men but dares not. I can forgive much in that fellow mortal who would rather make men swear than women weep; would rather have the hate of the world than the contempt of his wife; who would rather call anger to the eye of a king than fear to the face of a child."
