Does Baby Thrive?

If your baby is delicate and sickly and its food does not nourish it, put fifteen or twenty drops of Scott's Emulsion in its bottle three or four times a day and you will see a marked change.

We have had abundant proof that they will thrive on this emulsion when other food fails to nourish them.

It is the same with larger children that are delicate. Scott's Emulsion seems to be the element lacking in their food. Do not fail to try it if your children do not thrive. It is as useful for them in summer as in winter.

Ask your doctor if this is not true. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, New York

An exchange truly says: American bravery is not limited to any particular section. Ensign Bagley was from North Carolina, Lieutenant Rowan lives in Kansas, Admiral Dewey hails from Vermont and Lieutenant Hobson's home is in Alabama. It really makes no difference where a man lives, provided he is an American.

The Wilkes-Barre Record says that through the kindness of chaplains of the Pennsylvania regiments there are being circulated through the camps a leaflet containing a concise Spanish vocabulary for the use of the soldiers when they arrive in Cuba. It contains the Spanish words and pronunciation for the necessities of life and for phrases that are most likely to be useful. The selections are made solely with reference to the probable needs of the soldiers, and the men may be seen studying the leaflet in all parts of the camp. It also contains a cable code for communicating with the folks at home. This idea seems to have originated with one Isaac A. Wright of Kansas City who sends them free to the commanders or chaplains of all regiments who apply.

Names of New Warships.

A New Battleship Maine—Torpedo Boat Named After Bagley.

Secretary Long has issued the following order: "The vessels authorized by the naval appropriation act approved May 4, 1898, are designated by numbers and names, as follows:

"Battleships—No. 10, Maine; No. 11, Missouri; No. 12, Ohio.
"Monitors—No. 7, Arkansas; No. 8, Connecticut; No. 9, Florida; No. 10, Wyoming.
"Torpedo boat destroyers—No. 1, Bainbridge; No. 2, Barry; No. 3, Chauncey; No. 4, Dale; No. 5, Decatur; No. 6, Hopkins; No. 7, Hull; No. 8, Lawrence; No. 9, Macdonough; No. 10, Paul Jones; No. 11, Perry; No. 12, Preble; No. 13, Stewart; No. 14, Truxton; No. 15, Whipple; No. 16, Worden.

Nos. 22 and 23 are the Somers and Manly, recently bought complete. The gunboat authorized by said act, which is No. 16, will be named hereafter."

A Political Colloquy.

"Did you say that Robert E. Pattison is the strongest candidate the Democrats can nominate for Governor?" asked one Democrat of another on the corner of Third and Market streets this morning. "Yes, I did," was the reply. "But will not the fact that he was financially ruined by the failure of Singler's bank injure his political prospects?" "Not at all," said the other. "William McKinley was financially ruined by loaning his credit to his friends just as Pattison did, and William McKinley is to-day President of the United States and of a part of Spain."—Harrisburg Star Ind.

The American Policy

Of small profits and a quick turn over is what keeps the wheels of trade spinning here. Buy right for cash, and sell cheap for cash. Keep the stock turning. It is this perpetual pushing of trade that keeps the factory fires burning and fills the working-man's dinner pails. It also helps you to goods at low prices.
