

"PUBLICK OCCURRENCES" THAT ARE MAKING HISTORY

An important department in The Saturday EVENING POST, a weekly magazine founded by Benjamin Franklin in 1728.

It will give the story of important current events the world over in a condensed form. It will explain and interpret; it will throw light on many puzzling questions, on the meaning and relations of events that come to the general reader. The newspapers do not usually tell the beginnings of national and international troubles—there are usually "missing links" in their story. These lapses the Post will fill out.

"SPIRITED REMARKS"

A strong editorial page.
There are not many of them in the country—clever, vigorous, striking editorials from an individual point of view. The best writers have been secured to write regularly for the Post editorial page, which will be made one of its strongest features.

SHORT STORIES Nearly one-half of each issue of the Post will be given to fiction. The stories will be selected wholly for their interest, variety and literary value, and not because of the name or fame of the author. Every story will be fully illustrated by the Post's artists.

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST as it is To-day

A good magazine is a good newspaper in a dress suit. It should have all the brightness, interest, enterprise and variety of the newspaper, with the dignity, refinement and poise of the magazine. The Saturday Evening Post, the oldest periodical in America, is a high-grade illustrated weekly magazine, equal in tone and character to the best of the monthlies.

IT WILL BE MAILED TO ANY ADDRESS ON TRIAL, FROM NOW TO JANUARY 1, 1899, ON RECEIPT OF ONLY TEN CENTS (THE REGULAR SUBSCRIPTION PRICE IS $2.50 PER YEAR)

The parents were notified that the child would have to remain away until the beginning of the following term. This is a rule which prevails in many cities, but Judge Gest says a child has the right to begin any time after having attained the acceptable age.

What do the Children Drink?

Don't give them tea or coffee. Have you tried the new food drink called Grain-O? It is delicious and nourish ing and takes the place of coffee. The more Grain-O you give the children the more health you distribute through their systems. When a merchant quits advertising and settles down to the belief that "folks come to my store anyhow," it is a sure sign that he is past the meridian and going down hill. From that day his competitor in business begins to gain customers which the sleepy chap looses, and every time a customer is transferred a part of the vitality and life of one store is transferred to the other. The sleepy chap may have the capital, but it takes more than capital to sell goods. It takes brains, push and enterprise, and the man who don't advertise hasn't an over supply of any of these very important qualities of a business man.

The national league base ball season for 1808 is at an end, and Boston commonly termed the Bean Eaters, after a hard fight are the new champions. It has been one of the prettiest races ever recorded, and the result was very much in doubt, until the boys succeeded in accomplishing the almost impossible trick of de feating the Baltimores three straight games. Boston was not looked upon as a pennant winner, but she won it won it on the merits of the game.
