Jenks and the Soldiers.

How He Pleaded the Cause of the Pensioners when it Was Sought to Make Them a Body . of Mendicants.

A NOBLE TRIBUTE

To the Boys in Blue on the Floor of Congress that Should Never be Forgotten by Them.

troduced a bill to transfer the Pension Bureau of the United States from the Interior Department to the War De-partment. The matter being under discussion Congressman Kasson, of Iowa, was quoted as having made the declaration that pensions were in the tween the government and the soldiers granted them only as a mere gratuity and not as a matter of obligation. The whole matter of the granting of pen-sions it was claimed by Mr. Kasson was discretionary with the government both as to the amount of the pension and the time of its continuance.

Congressman Townsend, of New York, argued in a like strain to which Mr. Jenks replied as follows:—"From these extracts it will be seen that gen-tlemen of experience, learned in the law, and for whom personally I have the highest respect, have asserted that an invalid pension is not a debt; that it may be granted or withheld at the pleasure of the Government; that there the Government that it is for the in-therest of the Government so to do. If that be so it is a most fatal truth for gratuity; you are a medicant; we can these pensioners who have been deprived of their limbs in the cause of their country.

"Now, in order to refute what seems to me to be a most flagrant fallacy, 1 propose to discuss the question at this time, because, first, I think the Pension Bureau, which we seek to transfer, has been laboring under the same fallacy, has been of the opinion that they may grant or refuse a pension as they see proper, that they may expedite or delay it as to them may seem con-venient, that they may grant it to a political friend or deny it to a political opponent as may seem best for party purposes. It is to refute this view, and that the people may comprehend what is a right and what is a gift, that I propose now to discuss this as the first question in this bill. A contract is an agreement for a sufficient consideration to do or not to do some given thing. Now if the Government, before the soldier entered the army, told that the soldier entered the army, told that soldier that if he should enter and be-come disabled he should be paid a pension, that would be a contract, if the soldier entered the army and was disabled." (Here Mr. Jenks quoted the resolution of the Continental Con-gress in 1726, the act of April 20 gress in 1776, the act of April 30, sacred; they are 1790, the act of January 11, 1812, and political fortune the act of July 14, 1862 all to the effect that it was the rule of the Gov- highest bidder.

In 1876 the Honorable George A. ernment to consider an invalid soldier Jenks then a member of Congress, in-as entitled to a pension as a matter of right based upon the promise of the lawmaking power. Mr. Hewitt, of Alabama, interrupt-nature of a government gratuity and calling for volunteers, a promise was made that such as might be wounded or should contract disease in the war that the government had the right at any time to shut off all pensions and afterwards ratified that promise." To this Mr. Jenks replied as follows: "The facts are as the honorable gentleman from Alabama (Mr. Hewitt) states them. The persion law of 1862 was not passed before the first soldier went hot passed before the first soldier went into the army; yet prior to that time the soldiers had the word of a man they had reason to trust that if they should go into the service they should be provided for. Shall that word be disgraced here on the floor of this Congress? Shall we disregard that contract in view of which they work contract in view of which they went into the army? They obeyed the call of their country; and in that view they did only their duty, it is true, as the honorable gentleman from Illinois (Mr. is no obligation to pay it; that it is simply a gratuity. Now, if it be a the performance of which was dangergratuity, we may at any moment cut off these pensions; we may refuse to pay them from any moment that it may occur to the legislative branch of the Gourd and say that it is not a contract?

> grant you this or refuse it at our op-tion, and no one can charge us with injustice?' IN THE NAME OF THE PEN-SIONERS OF THE UNITED STATES, I RE-PUDIATE THIS DOCTRINE. IF THEIR PENSION CERTIFICATES ARE TO BE RE-GARDED AS BADGES OF MENDICANCY, THEY WOULD SPURN THEM FROM THEM

AND HURL THEM IN YOUR FACE." The speech from which the above extracts have been taken may be found in full in the "Congressional Record" of 1876, in part 2 of volume 4, pages 1739 to 1744. No man can read the remarks of Mr. Jenks on that occasion without feeling a thrill of pride that Pennsylvania had a soldier's pride that Pennsylvania had a soldier's champ'on on the floor of congress in the person of George A. Jenks who stood for the pensioner's rights, insist-ing that they were not pauper mendi-cants asking alms but worthy veterans demanding their just rights under the sacred promise of that Government for the aperpendien of mhas then had for the perpetuation of which they had volunteered to sacrifice health, limb and life if need be.

He is the same George A. Jenks The is the same George A. Jenus now he was in 1876, always for the right and never upholding the wrong. The flag and the veteran are to him sacred; they are not the playthings of political fortune nor are they articles of merchandise to be trafficked to the hurbare thidder

GARMAN'S APPEAL TO LIEUTEN-ANTS. In closing the meeting Chairman Garman said that so large a meeting of representative Democrats as this should demonsrate not only that the party was thoroughly united, but also that its members feit certain of victory. He urged that every county chairman should divide all the Democrats into blocks—"blocks of five" would do—and have a trustworthy man to bring each block to the polls. By this means the Democrats could sweep the state with-out a single Republican vote. Mr. Garman said he had impresed upon the mind of every chairman the necessity of having every Democratic voter call-ed upon personally by a responsible worker.

Berlin Police Official Dispatched to the Orient to Frotect the Ruler, Constantinople, Oct. 19.—The Emper-or and Empress of Germany arrived resterday.

The Hohenzollern anchored off Dolmabagtche Palace, with the German warships Hertha and Hela above and Warships Hertha and Hela above and below her. Soon afterwards the em-peror and empress entered the Hohen-zollern's long boat and were rowed to the palace, where they were received by the Sultan of Turkey, who was sur-rounded by a brilliant suite. dred guns from the battern on lutes. The long boat of the Hohenzollern, on its way to the landing stage, had to steer clear of hundreds of boats, cal-ques and launches, containing officials, policemen or spectators. The scene was most animated. The meeting between the sultan and his guests was most cordial.

London, Oct. 19.—The Alexandria cor-respondent of the Daily Mail denounces the inaction of the Italian consul there, who has jurisdiction over the Italian Anarchists now under arrest and char-ged with a conspiracy against the life of Emperor William. The consul has imported all the documents and referred the conspiracy to Rome, thus blocking the police, who are anxious to ferret it out.

The correspondent says that Ugo Parrini, the cafe keeper and leader of the Anarchist gang, desperately at-tacked the Italian consul when ar-raigned and was with difficulty over-powered.

From every cor-ner of the earth there is constantly com-ing the most convincing statements from women, showing the efficacy of Lydis E. Pinkham's Vegetable Com-pound in overcoming female ills. Here is a letter from Mrs. J. C. Orms, of 220 Horner St. Johnstown, Pa., which is earnest and straight to the point: "DEAR MISS. PINKHAM:-I feel it my duty to tell all suffering women that I think your remedies are wonderful. I thad trouble with my head, dizzy spells and hot flashes. Feet and hands were cold, was very nervous, could not sleep well, had kidney trouble, pain in ovaries and congestion of the womb. Since taking your remedies I am better every way My head trouble is all gone, have no pain in ovaries, and am cured of womb trouble. I can eat and sleep well and am gaining in flesh. I consider your medicine the best to be had for female trouble." "The present Mrs. Pinkham's experi-ence in treating female ills is unparal-lelled, for years she worked side by
