

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR.

GEORGE A. JENKS,

Of Brookville, Pa. Nominated by the Democratic Party for Governor, at Altoona, Pa., June 29th, 1898.

Hon. George A. Jenks was born in Punxsutawney, March 23d, 1835. When he was fourteen years of age his father died, when the son became a clerk in a store, devoting all his spare time to study. Fourteen months later he became a school teacher. For six months he attended an academy at Brookville, where he also served a two-years' apprenticeship to the carpenter trade. He then studied law with his brother, Hon. Wm. P. Jenks, and resumed teaching. In 1855, acting as a surveyor, he assisted in laying out the City of Omaha. He afterward worked as a carpenter in Iowa, and shortly afterward returned to Pennsylvania and entered Jefferson College, from which he graduated, near the head of his class, in 1858. He was admitted to the Bar the following year. In 1874 he was elected a Member of Congress from the 25th district, defeating Judge Harry White, of Indiana. During the session he was one of the managers of the Belknap impeachment case and made the principal argument in a manner that attracted wide attention. He served also on the Louisiana investigation committee.

After the passage of the Electoral Commission bill, Mr. Jenks was appointed, with David Dudley Field and J. Randolph Tucker, to manage, on the part of the House, the famous Hayes-Tilden contest for the Presidency. His arguments in this case brought him applause from good men all over the country, and even those on the opposing side freely accredited him with the possession of a genius in his profession. Considering the brief time he served, probably no man ever made a more brilliant record in Congress.

Mr. Jenks was the Democratic candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court in 1880. In June, 1885, he was appointed by President Cleveland Assistant Secretary of the Interior. Here he served until the following May, when he retired on account of inability to agree with the policy of the land commissioner. Mr. Jenks has always believed that the public lands should be reserved for the good of the people, and not parcelled out to monopolizing corporations.

Two months afterward Mr. Cleveland appointed him Solicitor General of the United States. He prosecuted the Government suits against the Bell Telephone Company and the Pacific Railroad Company, reading the law as a good Democrat should read it, to mean that the people, and not the monopolies, ought to be held supreme. When the former case was dismissed by the Court he did not hesitate to criticize the decision as based upon a bad interpretation of the law. Mr. Jenks frequently acted as Attorney General in the absence of Mr. Garland. Upon the accession of President Harrison he was asked to remain in his position, but resigned it in May, 1898. He was the counsel for the Oil Producers' Association in its famous contest with the Standard Oil Company, and succeeded in having the latter organization criminally indicted in the Clarion County Court.

Mr. Jenks is superior in ability, is a kindly gentleman, and if elected Governor will be as accessible, upon proper occasion, to the humblest citizen as to the richest magnate in the land. He is of vigorous constitution, and always ready to perform his duty.

Everybody admires the work of a clever child or of an actress who is so much like one as to leave in the minds of her audiences doubts as to whether she really is a woman or just what she is pretending to be in her work, and many a wager has been made as to just what state of femininity Jessie Mae Hall has reached, by those whom she has entertained. Miss Hall is cast this season for what is said to be the best role she has ever essayed, that of the little eleven year old waif "Nettles" in the charming Southern romance "The Princess of Patches", in which she will appear at the Bloomsburg Opera House Friday Oct. 28th, and which is an original play written with a view to giving her plenty of room to display her versatility and also to introduce some other cleverly portrayed and unique characters. The dialogue is bright and crisp, the comedy situation laughable and thoroughly natural, and the excuses for the villainy (without a certain amount of which a play of the character would fail to give entire satisfaction) are plausible; the scenery is all new, very pretty and quite appropriate for the Southern country in which the scenes of the plot are laid. Jessie Mae Hall is a vocalist of more than ordinary ability and possesses a highly cultivated and very sweet high soprano voice of remarkable range and power which is really too good to be used for the ordinary soubrette songs and which she therefore wisely uses in the artistic rendition of the higher class ballads.

Mr. Woodin made a speech in Sunbury recently, in which he declared his adherence to Republican doctrines, and pledged himself to stand by them if elected to congress. No better reason than this can be given why he should not have the vote of a single Democrat in the district.

A good program "well rendered" is what all the people say who attended the dramatic Recital in the Opera House Friday night. The vocal selections were all beautiful and Miss Correl's reading was excellent. The audience was not very large, but appreciative.

A land slide on the Pennsylvania Railroad half way between Bloomsburg and Mifflinville delayed all trains for several hours on Saturday.

Answers of the candidates to questions asked by Pomona Grange No. 5, are printed on page 7.

Fall Dress Trimmings.

The great gathering from Europe. The newest ideas of the Old World. The trimmings give the beautifying touch to the costume. You want snip and originality, novelty and beauty in details. You find them here. Black and colors, spangles, nets and galoons, braids and passementerie. What's new is worth looking at for samples. Prices travel from 10c to $5.00 the yard.

Fall Coats, Fall Suits.

Ours have a distinct style, touch, not found in many, for our suit buyer enjoyed the privilege of searching through the fashion centers of Europe. Therefore none but the ultra of Wraps and Costumes find entrance here. We can't describe all we have and catalogues are not satisfying. But if you'll describe your wants, state your size, and give us a price idea, we'll send you an assortment. If not suitable send back, we pay express both ways. Prices from $7.00 up to $50.00

A Visit to ISAAC LONG'S.

We hear frequently of suburban residents coming to Wilkesbarre for "A VISIT TO ISAAC LONG'S." This news is pleasant and shows that our plan of store-keeping is appreciated. But if you can't come, write. Write for samples, or for information, or both.

Studies in Black.

Judging by the demand across our counters—and that's a safe way—back in dress fabrics is to emphasize this season, its popularity of last fall. Justly so. Perfect taste, quiet richness and tremendous effectiveness characterize black fabrics. Three fourths of ours are imported, and it is when color is denied that the freshness and originality of French designing is best demonstrated. Novelty, novelty—a new effect, a new beauty in every place you examine. More than three hundred patterns in our showing. Prices? Why from 50c to $5.00 with 98c a fair average. Samples if you ask.

About Gloves.

Our Dollar Glove particularly. Our Wilkesbarre customers, compare it with a well known brand at $1.75. Two clasp, spear-point laces, Red Browns, Tans, Browns and Blacks. Send for a pair. You won't send them back, although you can if you wish. Address—Mail Order Dep't.

PONDER AND WONDER

At the enticing values we offer for this week's selling. How our prices are kept down and our rapidly increasing trade kept up. The solution will be found below, which represents a minute part of the vast amount of bargains always found at our store. We surpass all others in assembling and selling the

FINEST, THE CHOICEST AND THE BEST MERCHANDISE.

We occupy the leading position of offering at all times the most exceptional opportunities to clothe yourself from head to foot, or to furnish your house from top to bottom at a handsome saving by ours, the lowest of prices. Write for samples. It will pay you to hold our prices for comparison.

DRESS GOODS AND SILKS.

Our magnificent showing of new dress materials and silks for fall is by all odds the largest in assortment, the richest in style and at most reasonable prices.

SEE THESE VALUES.

All wool coverts, Granite and Armure Suitings that usually retail at 59c, this week 49c. Priestley 60-inch waterproof Cravenettes, exceptionally fine in quality, comes in navy and black, this week per yard $1.25. Voters, Attention!

The decision of Judge Savidge is worth considering by every voter. If a voter places a mark in the circle at the head of his ticket and then places a mark before any other name on the ticket, his vote is illegal and must not be counted. To split a ticket, you must not mark in the circle, but must put a cross opposite to the name of each candidate on the ticket for whom you desire to vote. The best and safest way is to put a cross in the circle of the column headed "Democratic." With one little stroke you cast your ballot for the straight ticket. Do this and you will be right. Corrupt and Rotten.

The whole of Quayism is corrupt and rotten, not only in dollars and cents, but in the principles that underlie it. The government of the whole State by any one man, or by 50 men, is a violation of the Constitution of Pennsylvania. It is a discredit to your citizenship, it is a brand upon your fair name, and I ask that you do yourselves the justice of freeing yourselves from these injuries. GEO. A. JENKS, at New Castle.
