From our Regular Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5th, 1898.

Mr. McKinley has made it plain to and Representatives who Senators and Representatives who have called upon him since Spain agreed to our terms for the surrender of the Philippines to us that he has not made up his mind what we ought to do with the Philippines and sith the Philippines. with the Philippines, and will not do so until we have had them un-der military control long enough to get the information necessary to form an intelligent opinion. That sort of talk has strengthened the chances of the treaty of peace for ratification at this session of Congress, as it coincides with the opinion of three-fourths of the Senators, regardless of party. The opinion is practically unanimous that the taking of the Islands away from Spain was the right thing to do, but the statement of the statem but there the unanimity ends. What sort of a government will follow our military rule of the Islands nobody can say at this time. It will depend largely upon public sentiment in this country, and that will be governed by circumstances.

By putting in a vigorous protest, Senator Jones, of Arkansas, succeeded in getting the War Department to change the orders assigning the Twenty-fifth Infantry (negroes) to garrison duty at Fort Logan H. Root, near Little Rock, and having a white regiment, the Twelfth Infantry, ordered there instead.

Maj. Gen. M. C. Butler, who was ordered from Havana, where he was serving as one of our Military Com-missioners, to Washington, to confer with the authorities in regard to the military occupation of Cuba, has gone military occupation of Cuba, has gone to South Carolina to spend a few days with his family before returning to Cuba. While in Washington Gen. Butler spoke freely to his friends of his experience in Cuba. He says the Spanish soldiers are orderly and well-behaved as a rule, and that the Cubarate bright was a rule, and that the Cubarate bright was a rule, and the cubarate bright was a rule, and the cubarate bright was a rule. ans are bright and many of them well educated and fully capable of admineducated and fully capable of administering the government of the island:
He thinks the Spaniards who will remain in Cuba will get along amicably with the Cubans. Gen. Butler declined to express an opinion as to how long it would be before the government of Cuba was turned over to the Cubans, because it will be largely the Cubans, because it will be largely dependent upon circumstances.

The two Democratic Governorselect—Sayers, of Texas, and Mc-Millin, of Tennessee—who are members of the House, will be missed when they retire. Mr. McMillin, the date of whose inauguration will be fixed by the Legislature, which meets the first Monday in January, will re-tain his seat in the House until after the adjournment for the holiday recess. and Mr. Sayers, who is the leading Democrat on the Committee on Ap-propriations, and whose inauguration as Governor will take place January 17th, will keep his seat up to the last minute, so as to have a hand in shaping as many of the regular appropria-tion bills as possible before retiring. Gov. Sayers is conservative on the ex-pansion question. He did not favor the acquisition of the Philippines by the United States, and when asked to express his opinion what we should do with them now, that the treaty of peace has given them to us, said:
"The problem of occupation of this territory is no light one, and we will have to proceed by slow steps until we hit upon some satisfactory plan of government.'

Senator Cockrell says he hasn't fully made up his mind as to what he will do when the time comes to vote on the Philippine question, and he doesn't expect to do so until he ascertains the details of the treaty and the intentions of the administration, but that if he had the power to act for this government, at this time, he would tell the Philippines to set up their own government, and would recognize its independence. He added:
Who knows the Philippines cannot govern themselves? The world said thing when we were strug gling for liberty, and some of the best

CATARRH CANNOT BE CURED by local applications, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Ca-tarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was pre-scribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years, and is a reg-ular perscription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredents is what produces such wonderful results in curing catarrh. Send for testimonials, men in the American colonies believed that we would never be able to maintain a republic. I believe that the Philippinos can establish and maintain just as free and just as good a republic as do the French people with all their boasted intelligence, and I should like to see the experiment tried."

The administration will not attempt to secure currency legislation at this session of Congress, for the very good reason that the administration is divided upon the sort of currency legislation that is wanted. It will be re-membered that Mr. McKinley, in his annual message to Congress, last year, did not endorse the radical financial views expressed in the annual report of Secretary Gage; only called the attention of Congress to them, and suggested that they be studied. Now, Comptroller of Currency Dawes, who was personally selected by Mr. McKinley for that position, has made a straight attack, in his annual report, upon several of the most important of Secretary Gage's recommendations. It is reasonably certain that Mr. Dawes did not do this without the knowledge and consent of Mr. McKinley. There is also another reason why the administration will not try to get financial legislation-fear that it would concentrate public attention upon the financial question and thereby strengthen the silver men.

The Loss of the "Maria Teresa."

The controlling sentiment about the loss of the "Maria Teresa" was that it was a bit of very hard luck for Lieutenant Hobson that, after he had been at such pains to bring her up from the bottom of the sea, she should not have kept afloat. On Tuesday, Novvember 1, being on her way from Guantanamo to Norfolk, under command of Lieutenant Commander Ira Harris, in company with the collier Leonidas, and in tow of the wrecking tugs Vulcan and Merritt, she was abandoned in a heavy northeast gale, about thirty miles north of San Sal-vador. All her crew were taken off and saved. Commander Harris reached Charleston on the Merritt on Nov-ember 5, and reported his loss to the Navy Department. According to his report, the storm began about one o'clock on the morning of November

1. As it increased and the sea rose, the ship leaked badly, and the sea broke over her bows, making trouble for the forward pumps. Then water got into the forward fire-room, swashing the coal about and choking more pumps. It became difficult to keep up a serviceable amount of steam, and the mariners passed a laborious and very diagreeable night. About one o'clock P. M. Commander Harris determined that the ship was no longer tenable, and began to transfer his men to the Merritt. This was accomplished with great labor. At 5:30 the Vulcan, which up to that time had towed the Maria Teresa, slipped her hawser and cast her off.

On Monday, November 7, a report seached New York that a steamer with two funnels, believed to be the Maria Teresa, was ashore on Cat Island. The report being confirmed, the Vulcan was sent from Norfolk, under command of Captain McCaila, and the Potomac from Guantanamo, in charge of Captain Converse, to investigate and take action. Lieutenant tigate and take action. Lieutenant Hobson went with the Vulcan to get his old friend afloat again if she is found.-E. S. Martin, in Harper's

Fruit and Nuts-

Green figs, according to a prominent medical journal, are excellent food. Walnuts give nerve or brain food, muscle heat and waste. Raisins are stimulating in proportion to their quality. Pine kernels give heat and quality. Pine kernels give near quality. They serve as a substitute for stay.

Apples supply the higher nerve and muscle food, but do not give stay. Oranges are refreshing and feeding,

Blue grapes are feeding and blood purifying; too rich for those who suffer

The Pennsylvania Germans.

The "Pennsylvania Dutch," as the descendants of the early immigrants from Germany who came from that part of the Rnine country called the Palatinate, are known to have an interesting history.

At an early date the German Pala-tines embraced the tenets of the Reformation. They were considered heretics, and during a thirty-years' war their beautiful country was ravaged by contending armies. aged by contending armies. Subsequently there were persecutions and cruelties, and when Louis XIV, of France, carried on a war of exterminations than nation more than too,000 of the Palatine inhabitants were murdered.

Life in the German Palatine became intolerable, and Penn's Province offered an asylum. William Penn made no less than three visits to the Palatinate, his first being in 1671. He was familiar with German, preached the Quaker tenets and made some

The first immigration began in Many of the Germans had no noney, and masters of vessels con veyed them across the ocean, depending for compensation on the chance of selling the immigrants to some pur-chaser for a term of years. Adver-tisements are cited as late as 1773, when a Dutch apprentice lad was "to be sold." There was a German slave trade, and from the overcrowded ves-sels and contagious disease not less than 2,000 Germans died at sea in

After the tide of German immigration had set in it continued for many years, as far as Pennsylvania was concerned. There were estimated to be 280,000 Germans in Pennsylvania prior to the Revolution. They cared ittle for political honors, as the right to sit in assembly was confined to English subjects.

The dialect of the Pennsylvania Germans, as they talked it in the past, was known as Pfalzisch. Barring its English infusion, the dialect is the same as when first brought here. The tenacity with which the Pennsylvania Germans have clung to their form of speech for so many years is not with-out parallel among other people—in Wales and Switzerland—but the Pennsylvania Dutch, as it is called, is be coming debased, and is likely to continue from now on .- Selected.

Woes of the Non-Advertiser-

The non-advertising merchant goeth forth to his lair at the rising of the sun and lo, no man interfereth. He standeth around all day like a bottle of castor oil, and the people with the shekels come out to his shanty. He abvertiseth not his wares, and his name is forgotten on the face of the earth. Who hath fly soiled hams? Who hath stale baking powder without end? He that knoweth not the way to the printing office.

The Vigration of Butterlies.

The Vigration of Butterlies.

One of the most beautiful sights in the world is the annual migration of butterflies across the Isthmus of Panama. Where they come from or whither they go, no one knows, and though many distinguished naturalists have attempted to solve the problem. It is still as strange a mystery as it was to the first European traveller who observed it. Toward the end of June a few scattered specimens are discovered flitting out to sea, and as the days go by the number increases, the days go by the number increases, until about July 14 or 15 the sky is occasionally almost obscured by myriads of these frail insects.—Indianapolis News.
