WASHINGTON NOTES.

Special Carrespondence

The recent sale of unclaimed parcels from the dead letter office, proved to the Legislature to make an appropriais an appual event and comprises some hundreds of thousands of packages-and letter offices accumulations

Sometimes something worthy of attention as to value arrives. It is put by itself, in a separate parcel, and suitably described in the catalogue. There is no deception in this business. A couple of years ago one of the packages was declared to contain an operaglass holder of gold and pearl. It was further advertised that the name of Rosalind Bright was engraved on the article in question. A man came along who knew Rosalind Bright-an actress she was, it appeared. Nay, more, according to his account, he had been one of a committee which presented the opera-glass holder in question to the lady. Nevertheless, the dead letter office could not deliver it to him. because he was not the owner. Miss Bright was communicated with, and astonishing to say-she declared that she had owned such an article. but that it was still in her possession. The solution of the problem was that Miss Bright had instrusted the holder to a gentleman of her acquaintance. who was to have it mended. He dropped it neeldentally, in the Chicago postoffice, whence it was forwarded to Washington. Not wishing to acknowledge his fault, he had another made, as nearly as possible like the original by a local jeweler, and handed it over to the fair Rosalind.

wheels, float in to the dead letter office. and have to be made into suitable parcels for auction. Cheap jewelry has been more plentiful in lest bundles during the last twelvementh than ever before. This seems to be because so many publishers nowadays send out such stuff an premiums to subscribers. a specified number of wrappers reproducts Even the most respectable insurance companies have gone into this sort of business.

Thomas Jeff rson's Library. In his search through the Congres sional library for the books formerly belonging to the collection of Thomas Jefferson, Librarian Young has succeeded in identifying between 6006 and 8000 volumes by the secret mark | New York. inserted in the books in Jefferson's own handwriting. These books are to be gathered together and preserved be hind glass doors, in a room adjoining the reading room for the blind. The new library building is in a very large measure a monument to the venerable Senator Morrill who is nearly 90 years | mouth, Ill. old, for it was under his fostering care that the project grew in national interest and application.

American Beer in Hong Kong. According to recent information from Hong Kong, China, it appears that since the arrival there of the American squadron, at least three brands of American beer have firmly established themselves there, and one brand of whiskey. Canned meats and bicycles are favorites; but as the op portunity of using them is restricted the demand can never be great or worthy of serious competition. With in the last three months the agent of an American sewing machine obtained an order for 1200 machines from an English firm, and at the same time at | day. 35 cents.—100. order for a considerable number of bicycles, which his company makes with the same plant that they use for the sewing machines. There will be an increasing demand for cheap sew ing machines among the Chinese, and energetic measures ought to be taken to control the market.

The Chinese Trade. The trade with the Chinese is a pecultar one, requiring much patience. tact and perseverance. Generally speaking, the class of goods most in demand is of a cheap, flashy nature. commonly known as Birmingham wares, and those of a kindred class. "made in Germany," in imitation. The Germans are the sole importers of the latter, and their small commissions and methods of doing business enable them to compete keenly with the former. The method of carrying on business is peculiar to the East, Credit of from three to four months is usually given, but it is worthy of note that its observance is oftenest respected in the breach. In consequence of keen competition, the agreed term is often disregarded, the Chinaman taking delivery and paying for his goods in installments to suit his convenience.

Division of Parties. Is imperialism to divide parties and sever close friendships? It begins to look so. Think of Senators Hoar and Vest working for the same end. Indeed, party fealty seems to have little influence whenever this question is year after next." considered. And if this is so in Congress, how much more striking is the list of anti-imperialists among public men. Take the vice-presidents of the league, for instance: Andrew Carnegie. Charles F. Adams, former Senator George F. Edmunds, Samuel Gompers. John C. Bullitt, of Philadelphia; Herbert Myrick, orator of the National Grange; Edward Atkinson, Patrick A. Collins, ex-United States Consul to London; Samuel Bowles, of the Springfield Republican; Carl Schurz, John Sherman, James C. Carter, Bishep Henry C. Potter, Governor H. S. Pingree, of Michigan; Grover Cleveand, Reverdy Johnson, of Maryland: Congressman Hanry U. Johnson, of Indiana, and John G. Carlisle.

On almost any other question of comemics or public policy these men BENATOR.

Purchase Fort Augusta-

Petitions are being signed in Sunbury and neighboring towns asking be a lottery with but few prizes. This tion for the purchase of a part of the site of Fort Augusta and to convert the same into a public park. The ground proposed to be purchased is one hundred feet in width and two hundred feet in depth, on which is the old well and magazine of the fort. Fort Augusta was one of the earliest forts, and considering its age, the magazine is in a remarkably good state of preservation. The old Indian landmarks are rapidly passing away and this relic of the troublous days of this country's early history should not be permitted to fall into further decay.

WHAT WE EAT-Is intended to nourish and sustain us, but it must be digested and assimilated before it can do this. In other words, the nourishment contained in food must be separate by the digestive organs from the waste materials and must be carried by the blood to all parts of the body. We believe the reason for the great benefit which so many people derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla lies in the fact that this medicine gives good digestion and makes pure, rich blood. It restores the functions of those organs which convert tood into nourishment that gives strength to nerves and muscles. It also cures dyspepsia, scrofula, salt Detached parts of bleyeles, such as rheum, boils, sores, pimples and erupsprocket-wheels, tires, saddles and all tions, catarrh rheumatism and all sorts of other stray fragments of diseases that have their origin in impure blood.

An exchange tells us that the postoffice department proposes that postmasters snall open all leters on which no postage has been placed to discover the name of the writer. Parties who Tobacco firms also, and soap-making do not care to have the secret of their concerns, give jewelry in exchange for correspondence thus violated can phia. obviate this by using envelopes with moved from their own manufactured their printed address or business or business card.
