OTIS WILL NOT WAIT

Expects to Attack the Rebels at Manila Immediately

HOPES TO GET AGUINALDO

It is Desired to End the Insurrection in Luzon-Arrival of Transports Ohio and Senator Gave Enough Men to Begin Mis Contemplated Advance Upon the Insurgents.

Washington, D. C., March 8 .- The war department expects important news from Manila within the next 24 hours. Word has been received from General Otis that he will not wait for the arrival of General Lawton, and the troops on the Grant and Sherman before he begins his general attack on the insurgents.

The advices say that General Otis will either to-day or to-morrow make his contemplated advance upon the Filipinos with his entire force.

The arrival of the men on the transports Senator and Ohio has given him enough reinforcements to hold Manila while he uses the other troops for an aggressive campaign against the reb-

It is expected that in this attack Aguinaldo will be captured and much done to end the insurrection in the island of Luzon.

Scattering the Rebels.

Manila, March 8 .- While the rebels had concentrated their forces yesterday, with the evident purpose of at tacking the water works, no direct at tempt was made to capture the American position there. Detachments from General Hale's and General Wheaton's brigades cleared the country.

At daylight this morning the enemy was discovered trying to mount a gun across the river from San Pedro, and the Sixth Artillery promptly shelled the rebel battery. Temporarily stopping work, the enemy poured a fusilade of musketry across the river, but a gunboat moved up and cleared the banks of the stream with rapid fire guns. All was quiet during the evening.

Postoffices have been established at Negros, Cebu and Iloilo, and the clerks left yesterday for their respective posts by the steamer Espana.

QUAY LEAVES FCR FLORIDA

Lacked but 15 of an Election Upon Tuesday's Ballot.

Harrisburg, Pa., March 8 .- Senator Quay left for Florida yesterday, and although his fdiends here say that no significance attaches to his departure for his San Lucie retreat at this time, because he needs a rest, dissatisfaction is expressed among some of his followers who say that his departure at this time indicates a lack of interest in his fight. They insist that he is needed here and that unless he is on the ground it will be hard to hold his forces in line.

It is expected that Quay will return here within the next two weeks. Whether he will then withdraw or continue in the contest to the end of the session remains to be seen. It is believed by Senator David Martin and others that the legislature will certainly elect Quay's successor at this session and State Senator Magee's friends believe now that he is to succeed Quay in the United States Sen-

MRS. CODY A WITNESS. The Defendant in Gould Blackmail Trial Testifies.

Albany, N. Y., March 8 .- At the opening of the trial of Mrs. Margaret E. Cody, charged with blackmailing the heirs of Jay Gould, yesterday, the aged defendant was called.

Miss Helen Gould was dressed in the black tailor-made gown she wore on the first day of the trial.

Mrs. Cody was asked to identify a number of letters written to her from Rock Springs, Wyoming, by Mrs. J. F. Pierce, the alleged child of Jay Gould and Mrs. Angell, and from Mrs. Pierce's husband. The writers stated positively that Jay Gould was Mrs. Pierce's lawful father, and announced their intention to press the suit to secure a share in the Gould millions. Mrs. Cody was offered a large sum to conduct the suit. The letters were read to the jury, the object being to show that the defendant did not instigate the suit, but assumed control at the request of others, believing fully in the justice of their claim.

A letter was read, written by James Moston, who adopted Mrs. Pierce. It stated that the papers of adoption were signed by Mrs. Pierce's mother, "Sarah The matter of his adopted Brown." daughter's birth, said Morton, was a mystery to him. He had never heard Jay Gould's name mentioned in this connection.

Mrs. Cody related the circumstances connected with her trip to Rouse's Point in search of the mother of Mrs. J. F. Pierce. She met Mrs. Angell, who told her that Mrs. Pierce was her daughter by an early marriage with Jason Gould, the date of which, she thought, was April 2, 1853. Mrs. Angell leaned over to Dr. Munn and said in a very audible voice: "The woman's crazy." "The issue of this marriage," continued Mrs. Cody, "Mrs. Angell told me. was a daughter, which was bound to a Canadian weaver when she was 12 years old, and Gould deserted his wife. I asked her if she had the marriage ertificate, and she said that after Gould left her and she went to live with her parents, her father tore the certificate up and threw it into the fire. I asked her if she wished me to handle her case and obtain her dower rights for her, and she answered that she did. and would pay me half of what I got for her."

One letter was from the Rev. M Leighton, a Presbyterian clergyman of Tunkhannock, Pa., who, the defence al-leges, performed the marriage between Jay Gould and Mrs. Angell, in which the clergyman refers to the marriage and the marriage certificate. An affidavit was read, signed by Mary Ann Shields, who swore she was a ser-vant in Mr. Leighton's family in 1853 and was a witness to the marriage of Sarah (Mrs. Angell) and Jay Gould on April 2, 1853, who, she asserted, lived together for some time.

Mrs. Cody told of her interview with Mrs. Mary Hoyle of Rouse's Point, whose testimony, given Monday, created such a sensation. The defendant's report of the conversation between her and Mrs. Hoyle agreed in the main with the latter's account.

"Mrs. Hoyle," said she, "placed her hands over her heart and said: 'But I have information here which I shall not divulge until I am paid for it. It will make a fortune for me.'

Mrs. Hoyle's son, whose evidence on Monday was equally damaging to the defendant, was referred to. 'Was Mr. Hoyle in the room?" inquired Mr. Dugan.

"Yes; he was sitting at a machine there making dolls' clothes." Judge Gregory then interrupted the proceedings by putting this question to the witness:

WASHINGTON.

From our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, March 6, 1899. Nothing more significant occured during the closing days of this Congress than Mr. McKinley's recognition of the rapidly increasing sentiment against an indefinite continuation of the nobody-knows-what-we'regoing-to-do policy towards the Philippines, which has been making rapid neadway among prominent members ing presented in a sentence when Senof his own party and which is practially held by all the democrats in Con- speech against allowing the President gress. Mr. McKinley still lacks the nerve to follow the advice of some of his best friends and demand the resignation of Secretary Alger, but he had enough to compel Alger to announce the abandonment of his intended junket to Cuba and Porto Rico at public expense. It is creditable to the democratic members of the House and Senate Military Committee that almost without exception they declined Alger's invitation to themselves and family to accompany him on the junket, before they knew that it had been called off. He had figured that democratic criticism could be silenced if he could carry a few prominent democrats with him, but they were not to be caught in such a palpable trap.

Secretary Allen didn't throw any bouquets at the Senate in a little farewell speech he made. He told the Senators that any single state in the Union could easily produce ninety men wno were their peers in ability.

Pennsylvania Railroad. Time Table in effect Nov. 20, '98

The joint ballot yesterday was: Quoy 101, Jenks 77, Dalzell 17, Irvin 6, Stewart 8, Tubbs 1, Huff 8, Stone 4, Rice 2, Grow Markle 1, Widener 3, Riter 2, total 221. Necessary to elect, 116. No election.

Conservative men, who have been supporting Quay, think that his fight has been much injured by the indiscreet opposition to the investigation of the bribery charges.

A prominent lieutenant of Senator Quay sai dthat there might have been a possibility of his friends agreeing to compromise, but since the opposition had started out to take his votes away from him and had driven him to bay would fight for his friends to the last.

Senator Martin says, however, that public sentiment will force the legislature to act.

The committee appointed by the House last Friday to consider and report on Speaker Farr's alleged "arbitrary and revolutionary" conduct, reported last night. The committee did not recommend deposing the speaker, but accored him for unfairness.

Knit Goods Men to Meet.

Utica, N. Y., March 8 .- Knit goods manufacturers here and in the Mohawk valley have received invitations to a meeting to be held at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York city, March 15, for the purpose of forming a knit goods trust.

Fifty-eight concerns are said to have signified their intention of sending representatives to the meeting.

One of the largest manufacturers of knit goods in this section says that he is very sorry to see this movement, as the trade is in excellent condition and prices are good. He does not believe that the combination will be as well for the manufacturers or the public.

The proposed trust will be capitalized at fifty million dollars if it is organ-Ized.

Armour's Oleomargarine Sults.

Albany, March 8 .- The proposition to compromise the suits brought by the state against Armour & Co. for selling oleomargarine, is pending in the executive champer.

An agreement was entered into and signed by Armour & Co. and State Commissioner of Agriculture Charles A. Wieting and Attorney General Han-cock that the suits be discontinued on condition that Armour & Co. pay to the state twenty thousand dollars, and pledge itself not to sell any more oleomargarine in this state.

This agreement was presented to Governor Black for ratification, and he refused to take any action in the matter.

Admiral Von Knorr Resigns.

Berlin, March 8 .- Admiral Von Knorr, commander-in-chief of the navy, has resigned. His intention to take this step was announced last autumn.

"Mrs. Cody, I understand that you employed Parker and Speer to act as the attorneys of Mrs. Angell under your direction. Is that so?' "Yes, sir."

District Attorney Dyer then began his cross examination. In answer to his preliminary questions Mrs. Cody said that she at one time lived at Oswego with her husband, a man of the name of Goodnow, from whom she obtained a divorce. Later she went west to Missouri, where she married Mr. Cody, and engaged in the dry goods business until 1881.

The witness said that since she be-gan to look up Mrs. Pierce's claim she had employed as many as 25 persons to write letters for her.

"You obtained your first knowledge of law when you were divorced?"

"No, sir; I had been interested in other law suits." "Well, you were unencumbered when you took this case up?"

"Yes, sir."

Choste Sees the Queen.

London, March 7 .- United States Ambassador Mr. Joseph H. Cheate and Mrs. Choate proceeded yesterday afternoon to Windsor, where they dined and slept at the Castle.

A royal carriage conveyed Mr. and Mrs. Choate from Claridge's Hotel to the Paddington Railroad station, and her majesty's master of ceremonies, Colonel the Hon. Sir William James Colville conducted them to Windsor and presented Mr. Choate to Queen Victoria before dinner.

The Marchioness of Salisbury presented Mrs. Choate.
