conferences of Democrats and Ants-Quay Republicans Quay's Followers Say He Will Not Withdraw and That Magee's Defection Would Not Hart Him.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 5.-Harrisburg is crowded with politicians. There were but two men of prominence who were not on the ground yesterday-ex-Senator Quay and John Wanamaker.

Yesterday there was a general roundup of the anti-Quay Senators and Representatives, called to decide for whom to vote if they switched off from Dalzell. This conference had an almost complete attendance. John Dalzell himself was in the hotel, but did not attend the conference. George A. Jenks being a candidate like Dalzell, did not participate. Col. Guffey presided at the meeting, which was mainly for the purpose of deciding whether there should be any departure from the present policy of voting for Jenks. The conference was sion of the Legislature.

All this energy did not appear to have any depressing effect upon the Quay forces, which were apparently as full of fight as at any time. Insurance Commissioner Durham said:

"No one should take any stock in the stories that Quay is inclined to retire from the Senatorial fight. He is as full of determination and enthusiasm as any of his friends, and he will stick to his guns until the last shot is fired.' "What about Magee?" Mr. Durham was asked.

"I only know that Magee and Quay have not seen each other yet. If you mean what would be the effect of Senator Magee withdrawing his support from Quay, I can only answer that by saying that it would not have any material effect upon the situation. However, Senator Magee has not yet withdrawn his support.

On the joint ballot the anti-Quay Republicans shifted from Congressman John Dalzell to Judge John Stewart of Franklin county, who was the inde-pendent candidate for Governor in 1882. Both the Franklin county members have been voting for Quay, and they continued to support him. Prior to the joint gathering of the House and Senate it was known that the insurgents would vote for Judge Stewart; that the Democrats had temporarily abandoned their scheme to change candidates, and that Senator Magee's change of front was still an event of the future. Interest centres particularly in the doings of Magee, as the insurgents admit frankly that he alone can win their fight for them. In a brief interview Mr. Magee said:

"There will be no change. But I am of the same mind as ever. It will be wrong to inject a factional fight into our party politics for two years more I would like to see Quay re-elected Sen ator, but if he cannot be the Legisla-ture should choose somebody else." "Did you send an ultimatum to

"No; that is a mistake. Like others. I believe ex-Senator Quay is not fully informed as to the situation here, or rather that he has only one source of information and it is biased." After making this statement, Mr. Magee confided to a friend that it was unlikely he would change his vote this week. As to ex-Senator Quay, his slike. lieutenants aver he will not withdraw.

Quay, his backers say, is to devote his time between now and Monday next to preparing for the trial of the conspiracy suits against him, and will insist on a trial of the cause. He has taken a shrewd position. He has refused to discuss withdrawal or compromise until after the time fixed for his trial, and by this means has at least postponed the break. It is an appeal for fair play which will embarrass the

With the Magee break postponed and Quay demanding a trial before he is asked to withdraw, the chances for a solution of the puzzle are not im-

Ministers to Pay Board Newark, N. J., April 5.-The Newark Methodist Conference, which meets in the Haisey Street Methodist Episcopal Church to-day, Bishop C. H. Fowler presiding, will inaugurate a new method of caring for the members during their stay in town. It has been the custom from time immemorial for the Methodist ministers while in attendance upon the Conference to be entertained without charge at the residences of the local Methodist families. This year the entertainment committee informed each member of the Conference that he would have to pay his way, and gave him a list of hotels and boarding-houses, with the rates

THE DOLLAR DINNER ROW.

Boulton and Brewster Have a War of Words,

New York, April 5.-The gulf between the Chicago platform Democrats and the labor men over the dispute regarding the giving of a dinner at which Mr. Bryan is expected to be chief guest widened greater yesterday. The latest development is the threat of A. J. Boulton, of the labor men's committee, to appeal to the Supreme Court for an injunction to restrain Brewster and his supporters from using the Grand Central Palace for its dollar dinner on Brewster and Boulton had a very lively time of it at the former's office, in Brooklyn.

"Mr. Brewster," said Boulton upon being seated, "I have called to notify you that our committee have taken the advice of two lawyers, and you are liable to arrest for having drawn out of bank the money deposited in behalf of our committee. Now, Mr. Brewster, we don't want to resort to harsh meas-

Brewster here broke in with: "Go ahead! Why don't you? I wish you would."

"Well," Boulton continued, "our committee yesterday saw Mr. Maze, manager of the Grand Central Palace, and he said he would recognize the committee of three, and as two of our men are members of that committee we could go right ahead with our arrangements. I have been instructed to procure an Injunction, but think a compromise

ROOSEVELT AND THE MACHINE. Not Courting Its Favor, but Willing to Have Its Help.

Albany, April 5 .- Gov. Roosevelt has ator Platt to visit Albany and permitted him to make the executive chamber his headquarters when he went to the Capitol to see his followers in the Senate and Assembly. Some persons have assumed, too, that the Governor has "gone over to the machine" on account of his apparently cordial relations with Platt and his lieutenants and because his list of appointments. and the explanation has been offered that he is looking forward to 1900 and shaping his policy to secure the support of the machine in the next Republican national convention. A friend of the Governor, who has exact information concerning his attitude towards the Republican organization, says that both the criticism and the assumption were unjustified,
"The fact is," he added, "that the Governor is not closer to the machine than he was before the Saratoga convention, and he has done nothing to court the favor of those who will, presumably, control the New York delegation to the national convention. He has not, however, sought any quarrel with the Republican organization. He recognizes the fact that, in order to accomplish anything during the first year of his administration, he must have the aid of the Republicans in the Legislature, and he has done all that he could do, without sacrificing principle, to secure that aid. The Governor does not believe in setting up impossible ideals, insisting on their acceptance by everybody and posing as a martyr when they are not accepted. He believes in trying to accomplish a great deal of good; but if that is impossible he wants to accomplish something, anyhow. In other words, if he cannot get all that he wants, he takes what he can get.

Buffalo, April 5.-The lawyers for the Globe Savings and Loan Association have hopes of being able to recover a part or all of the $10,500 of the association's funds which were drawn by Eastwood and his associates, they may bring actions against the Marine Bank and the Eric County Savings Bank to recover the amount which they paid over, on the ground that the election of Eastwood and White as officers of the association was illegal, and that the banks, therefore, had no legal right to transfer the accounts on their books from the former treasurer, Miller, to Eastwood. The City Bank, however, is safe from such suit. With rare precaution, Cashier Boag of that bank insisted that Mr. Miller should make out his check to Eastwood for the whole amount of the association's funds on deposit in the bank. Some lawyers expressed the opinion that there is no good ground for criminal action against any of the men concerned, and that they were acting within their legal rights. Other lawyers, who are, perhaps, better informed on the subject, say that the single action of investing the association's funds in lands outside of Brie County, presuming that the sileged transaction by which the mond was taken from the City Bank was bona-fide, is a criminal act and renders all concerned liable, as the charter of the Globe Savings and Loan Association absolutely forbids its officers to loan or invest any funds outside of this county.
