"A Breezy Time" will be the on Wed., April 26, 1899. As a direct refutation of the statement that farce comedies are dead, here comes "A Breezy Time." It is an out-and out farce comedy, put together simply and solely for the purpose of making as many laughs as posnecessary in order to enable him to get his work out in time. Under the source of making as many laughs as pos-sible and leaving altogether out of the question the rise and fall of the American drama. The piece has more pretty women than climaxes, more comic surprises than counterplots, and more catchy music than ingeniously worked-up situations, but to use American vernacular, " it goes." It not only goes, but it goes with a rush, and the principal causes of this result are E. B. Fritz, the comedian, and Kathryn Web-

Rev. J. H. McGarrah, a member of the Central Pennsylvania Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and a former pastor of Bloomsburg, died on Friday. He came to this town in 1874 and served two years, after which he was appointed to the Berwick charge Later he was chosen 'as presiding elder of the Altoona district. He was buried at Manor Hill, Pa., on Monday.

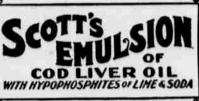

For laughing and cutting up while services were going on, a number of young people received a stinging rebuke from the pulpit of one of our local churches Sunday evening. The practice is a com-mon one, and the minister in question is to be commended. People who do not know how to behave and conduct themselves while in church should stay away.

We were treated to a great variety of weather on Sunday. Early in the morning the rain began to fall. About seven o'clock, the sun, shining through the clouds, gave promise of a fair day. When nine o'clock came the heavens were dark with clouds and hail and snow descended quite rapidly, accompanied by a strong north-west wind, which continued for about an hour. The thermometer also took quite a drop.
