THE SAMOA COMMISSION

Final Orders to Members Have Been Given.

POWER TO SETTLE ALL QUESTIONS

Instructions of All Three Governments the Same-Commissioner El-Hot Leaves Washington-The Case of Herr Hufnagle.

Washington, April 19.-The instrucfions to the members of the Samoan joint high commission have been completed. They are alike in all essential respects. The commission is given complete authority to carry on a provisional government for Samoa. In doing this the instructions carefully prescribe the preservation of order and the security of life and property as a first requisite It is provided that the duties of all offigials heretofore exercising authority in Samoa, either under the treaty of Berlin or in the service of either of the governments, shall be suspended in order that the high commission shall have complete authority over the affairs of the island. The commission is required to make report upon a variety of things. including the recent collisions and the causes leading up to them and as to the administration of the islands, the rights of the several claimants to the kingship and as to what changes are de sirable in the methods provided in the treaty of Berlin. The instructions call for unanimity in all action by the commission. The action taken by the commission when unanimous is to be conclusive, without referendum, except when it suspends a provision of the treaty of Berlin. In that case also a provision of the treaty may be suspended by unanimous agreement of the members, but the suspen-Minding until the three governments approve or disapprove it. The instructions are broad enough to include the recent troubles, the bembardment, fighting, arrest of a German citizen, etc., so that these acute phases, as well as the general government of Samoa, will be adjusted without further conflict between the three governments.

The Case of Herr Hufnagle. In connection with the statement made in the British house of commons that there was sworn evidence that a Serman had incited the natives to ambush the Anglo-American party, it is stated in official German quarters that I any German has been guilty of such action the German government will punish him. But the German foreign office is not ready to accept the charge that a German citizen was guilty of Thus inciting the natives. It will learn the facts, and in the meantime instrucmons have been issued to the commander of the German warship Falke to see that the accused is held until the facts can be established. Mr. Elliot, the British member of the Samoan commission, left here last night for the east on a purely private mission and will proceed thence to the west. It is understood that all three commissioners, while leaving Washington separately, will meet at Chicago and travel together from there.

QUAY DEFENSE SCORES.

Expert Goldsmith's Testimony Badly

Shattered. Philadelphia, April 19.-Expert Accountant Meyer Goldsmith, the commonwealth's witness, was under a scorching fire of cross examination all day, and the result justifies the opinion that the network of evidence wrought s the prosecution from the books of the broken bank tending to show Senahes Quay's guilty participation in the anlawful use of the bank's money was very much shaken by the admissions the witness was compelled to make under the skillful questioning of Attorney a. S. L. Shields. Nearly all of the apparently damaging entries attached to Senator Quay's name or account in the bank as testified to on Monday were exmained away or greatly modified by the statements of the commonwealth's own witness. Lawyer Shields got from the witness the admission that if Hopkins and properly credited Senator Quay's with amounts that belonged there the books would show that at the beginning of the alleged conspiracy, Nov. 17, 1896, the senator owed the bank amly $236 instead of over $70,000, as is al-

Mr. Shields put a different complexson on the entries in the "red book" by compelling the witness to admit that many of his figures were not proved by satries in the regular cank books, but were the result of what he practically acknowledged to be his "guesses" at the meaning of certain unintelligible figures written in the "red book." Goldsmith was still on the stand when court ad-Swarned for the day, and the questions pest to him near the close were full of premise of interesting developments. Much of the sting was taken out of the shake the plum tree" telegram by the statement that the purchase of Metropolitan stock contemplated thereby was made with $10,000 of Senator Quay's awn money, his deposit at that period exceeding $60,000.

The Kow Loon Fighting.

Hongkong, April 19 .- As the outcome of the recent fighting between the British forces and the Chinese in the Kow Leon territory, opposite Hongkong, in which several Chinese were killed, Surgeon Major Brown and one private have returned her; wounded. The Indian troops are now advancing toward Deep Ray, clearing the country. The guntoats are assisting.

Democrats Win In New Haven. New Haven, April 19.-At the regular exty election Cornelius T. Driscoll, the Democratic candidate for mayor, deteated Frederick B. Farnsworth (Rep.), the present mayor, by upward of 2,000 plurality. It is probable that the entire Democratic ticket was elected.

Roosevelt Nominates Osborn. Albany, April 19.-Governor Roosevelt has sent to the senate the nomination of William Church Osborn of New York to be state commissioner of lunacy to succeed Goodwin Brown, whose term of office is seen to expire.

Needn't Kiss the Bible Now. Albany, April 19 .- Among the bills signed by Governor Reosevelt is Senater Brown's, permitting witnesses, on heing sworn, to dispense with the kissHOLIDAYS IN EUROPE.

They Are Not the Joyous Affairs One Imagines.

A holiday is a day to rejoice at or grumble at in America, according to the state of the weather, the feelings, the disappointments or the pleasures attached to the holiday celebration. But abroad in a foreign land a holiday is only a day of tears, sadness and memories. Christmas in Europe is doleful and unsatisfactory without home faces and home gifts. New Year's day doesn't seem like the customary date for turning over the blotand writing the new year at the top Easter is jovial anywhere, for even the traveler can not vanquish the magical influences of warm spring sunshine, but even Easter is a little less pleasurable when lands and sens separate Fifth avenue or the Lake Shore drive from the festivities of Rome or the dawn of the social horizon in London.

But of all holidays spent in a foreign land the most regretable aniversaries are the Fourth of July and Thanksgiving. On Independence day there is no welcome noise of cannons, bells or firecrackers to remind the homesick tourist of the far-away land of the free and home of the brave. There is no whiz of a rocket to recall the patriotic screech of the national eagle. There is no odor of powder in the air to bring back the atmosphere of the native country, and if by chance the Stars and Stripes are seen waving gayly in the foreign breeze tears comes into the eyes, a lump leaps up into the throat and the familiar red, white and

Seems like a friendly hand Stretched out from our native land, Filling the heart with memories

Sweet and endless. Thanksgiving is another hard holiday to pass in a foreign country. There doesn't seem to be anything worth acknowledging our gratitude for. No turkey lies upon the Thanksgiving table and no other meat, however palatable at other times, can fill its place or satisfy the lonely heart as well as the hungry appetite. Nothing seems worth while on a foreign Thanksgiving day. Drums are cracked and dolls are stuffed with sawdust.— Chicago Chronicle.

An "Orange Wrapping." Everybody knows that oranges come to us wrapped neatly in tissue paper. Here is a description of the way this was done in Florida some years ago. A party of tourists went to an "orange wrapping." A large warehouse was lighted up with candles placed along the walls, and all the help in the neighborhood was gathered. In one corner of the room there were huge boxes filled with oranges. They were rigged with handles at each end, and it took two men to bring one of them in. On the opposite side of the room were long tables, behind which sat the "wrappers." The fruit was supplied to them by boys, who carried it in trays, putting a tray to every three men. Refore each man was a package of tissue paper. By a dexterous movement an orange was enveloped in a leaf of paper. As the fruit was wrapped it was dropped into another tray, which was carried to the "packers," who stood before a pile of empty crates. Each orange was packed in the crate separately, being packed in close rows. A crate holds from one hundred and a "sweating" process before they are

Out of the blue void the albatross comes unhasting on motionless pinions yet at such speed that, one moment a speck hardly discernible, turn but your eyes away, and ere you can again look round he is gliding majestically over-head. Nothing in nature conveys to the mind so wonderful an idea of effortless velocity as does his calm appearance from vacancy. Like most of the true pelagic birds, he is a devourer of offal, the successful pursuit of fish being impossible to his majestic evolutions. His appetite is enormous, but his powers of abstinence are equally great, and often for days he goes without other nourishment than a drink of the bitter sea. At the Gargantuan banquet provided by the carcass of a dead whale, he will gorge himself until incapable of rising from the sea; yet still his angry scream may be heard as if protesting against his inability to find room for more provision against hungry days soon to

Despite his incomparable grace of flight when gliding through midair with his mighty wings outspread, when ashore or on deck he is clumsy and ill at ease. Even seated upon the sea, his proportions appear somewhat ungainly, while his huge hooked beak seems too heavy to be upheld. On land he can hardly balance himself. and the broad silky webs of his feet soon become lacerated. Thus his visits to the lone and generally inaccessible rocks which are his breeding places are as brief as may be, since even conjugal delights are dearly purchased with hunger and painful restraint. A true child of the air, land is hateful to him, and only on the wing does he appear to be really at home and easeful.

Someone says women live longer than men. This is undoubtedly so. We know a charming young actress who was on the stage forty years ago, and she is only thirty-two now.
