The case of Charles Reichart vs. the Lehigh & Wilkesbarre Coal Company, which occupied the attention of court for four days last week was concluded on Saturday when the jury returned with a verdict of $1935 for the plaintiff. The attorneys for the plaintiff were Grant Herring and W. H. Rhawn, and for the company, W. H. Woodbury and S. H. Kiercher of Pottsville and C. W. Miller and L. E. Waller of this town.

Mrs. William Logan had her arm painfully bruised by being thrown from a carriage, at the foot of Market street, yesterday afternoon. It appears that she and her daughter, Miss Annie, were out driving, and when near William Ferguson's she observed that the street had just been filled with cinders. The ladies, not caring to drive over the rough road, decided to turn around, and in doing so, the horse became unmanageable and ran away, throwing both occupants out. Miss Annie escaped uninjured. The vehicle was entirely demolished.

Sparks from a passing locomotive on the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad ignited a large barn belonging to J. B. Yetter at Catawissa on Thursday night, and as a result the structure was reduced to ashes. It was only by dint of hard work on the part of the fire companies of Catawissa that several other buildings near by were saved.

Have You Heard Of It?

You may have heard about SCOTT'S EMULSION and have a vague notion that it is cod-liver oil with its bad taste and smell and all its other repulsive features. It is cod-liver oil, the purest and the best in the world, but made so palatable that almost everybody can take it. Nearly all children like it and ask for more.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

looks like cream; it nourishes the wasted body of the baby, child or adult better than cream or any other food in existence. It bears about the same relation to other emulsions that cream does to milk. If you have had any experience with other so-called "just as good" preparations, you will find that this is a fact.

The hypophosphites that are combined with the cod-liver oil give additional value to it because they tone up the nervous system and impart strength to the whole body.

MIDSUMMER MEETING

State Board of Agriculture and Institute Workers.

Prof. John Hamilton, the newly appointed Secretary of Agriculture, has issued a call to all the Institute Workers in the State to meet with the State Board at the Court House in Bloomsburg May 31 and June 1 and 2. This will bring to our county seat between 100 and 200 of the leading agriculturists of our state to discuss subjects of the greatest interest to our farmers, merchants, manufacturers and the general public. If all our good people will arrange the work on the farm, in the store and the shops with the fixed plan to take the three days of this meeting for a holiday, the meeting will be a success, a large number of us will enjoy a pleasant rest and very much good will accrue to our community. It should not be necessary to urge upon our citizens the importance of attending a convention like this, and we trust that by calling your attention in this way you will fix the date in your minds (May 31 and June 1 and 2) and be present at the opening on Wednesday noon. For any particulars, address or call on the County Chairman.

Very truly,
H. V. WHITE.
