

IS WELL ORGANIZED.

Cigar Makers' International Union Is a Strong Body.

Beneficiary Features of the Organization a Tower of Strength—George W. Perkins, of Chicago, Is Its President.

One of the most energetic and thoroughly organized trades unions in America is the Cigar Makers' International Union. In all movements for the furtherance of the industrial welfare of the people the members of this sterling organization throughout the country are ever in the lead, notwithstanding the fact that there is no branch of production in which so many discouraging conditions have to be met and counteracted. Prison and child labor, sweat shop and tenement house production, Chinese labor in the far western states, machine competition and a constant warfare with unprincipled manufacturers and dealers who counterfeit and infringe on the use of their trade label, these are some of the daily and never-ending problems and contests with which the international union and its affiliated local organizations have to contend. The admirable beneficiary features of the union are a tower of strength, and constitute one of the greatest elements of its success. It pays a "loan traveling benefit," a strike benefit of five dollars per week, three dollars per week "out-of-work" benefit, five dollars per week sick benefit, a wife or widowed mother's funeral benefit and a death benefit, ranging from $50 to $500, according to length of membership, which latter sum is payable to the heirs of a member of 15 years' standing.

During the long industrial and commercial depression which began in 1893 the international union paid out in benefits about $425,000 annually, the out-of-work benefit being the largest item, and which for the year 1896 amounted to nearly $176,000. In the 19 years ending with 1898 the total of these various benefits paid amounted to over $4,000,000.

The strongest and most interesting features of the union are its system of high dues, its protective benefits, the union "blue label" and the initiative and referendum method of elections, voting and legislation. The beneficiary features have a cohesive tendency that serves to hold the membership intact during periods of industrial and commercial stagnation, and the famous "blue label" is given gratis to all manufacturers who pay the union scale of prices and conform to its general regulations.

The most notable achievements of the international union was the successful inauguration of the eight-hour day on May 1, 1886, and the increasing of wages from ten to fifty per cent. wherever its organization extends. George W. Perkins, of Chicago, one of the most prominent figures in the American trades union movement, is president of the international union. He was born at Williamsburg, N. Y., and has been an ardent advocate of the principles of trades unionism almost from his boyhood. He filled acceptably all the local offices of the craft at Albany, N. Y., and for six years was president of the Albany Central Labor council. He was elected second vice president of the international union in 1884, first vice president in 1885 and chosen national president in 1891, and is now serving his third term at the head of the organization. He is a pleasing speaker, an able debater and well known for his economic writings on almost every phase of the industrial problems of the times.

The western vault in the United States mint, now being constructed in Philadelphia, will, it is said, constitute the largest strong box in the world. Its various dimensions are upward of 88, 52 and 10 feet, and the several compartments into which it is divided will have a total holding capacity of $112,000,000. To silver dollars, it may be devoted entirely; the other two, east and north, being designed to contain silver bullion and gold coins respectively.

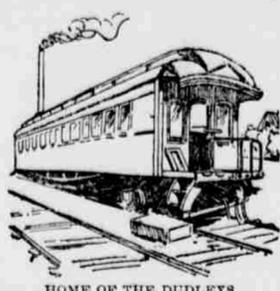

New Method of Illumination. A novel way of illuminating a railway tunnel has been devised in Paris. Reflectors throw the light from many electric lamps 16 feet above the rails to the side of the tunnel, where it is again reflected by burnished tin, a soft and agreeable light. The trains automatically turn the current on and off on entering and leaving the tunnel.

Waves Faster Than Wind. Waves travel faster than the wind which causes them, and in the bay of Eiscy frequently during the autumn and winter in calm weather a heavy sea gets up and rolls in on the coast 24 hours before the gale which causes it arrives, and of which it is the cause.

A HOME ON WHEELS.

Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Have Spent Twenty Years of Married Life in a Railroad Car.

Twenty years of happy married life in a railway carriage is indeed a unique experience, says the Golden Penny, and it is not going too far to say that there is only one couple in the world who have spent that number of years together under such conditions. They are Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Dudley, who have traveled all over every railway of note in America in what is undoubtedly the most remarkable car ever constructed. The car contains a cozy parlor, bedroom, library, kitchen and workshop. It is known as the "Dudley" car and is about the same size as the ordinary passenger coach mounted on the usual four-wheeled truck at one end and a six-wheeled truck at the other. It is said to have cost $50,000, including the cost of the machinery.

The machinery is used for the purpose of detecting defective flaws in the rails over which the carriage passes. The car is made to the standard American gauge, so that it can be hitched on to the ordinary train when necessary. In this way it has traveled over nearly every railway in the United States from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Mrs. Dudley is a pleasant, busy woman, fully engaged in her husband's work and her car home. She has many accomplishments, and time always passes very pleasantly with her. She is very fond of astronomy and has also devoted much time to drawing, while she also sketches and paints in water colors, and some of the pictures which adorn the walls of the carriage are from her own brush.

Mr. Dudley is the inventor of many devices for measuring and recording the undulations of railway rails, the departures from uniform gauge, the strength and uniformity of cross ties, the evenness of joints, the stress on rails of moving loads, etc., which is all done and accurately tabulated on his wonderful machines. He is attached to no particular company, and every large railway company in America engages him to inspect its railway beds and compile his automatic records.

CHAPLAIN STEWARD.

He Will Write of the Brave Deeds of the Colored Race in This Country's Wars.

Theophilus G. Steward, chaplain of the Twenty-fifth United States infantry, who has been detailed by the secretary of war to write a history of the colored regiments of the army, was recommended for that work by Bishop B. W. Arnett, of the African Methodist Episcopal church. The colored people of the country are very proud of the part that the people of their race took in the civil war and in the late war with Spain, and feel that Chaplain Steward could give a more adequate account of negro valor in the army than anyone else.

THEOPHILUS G. STEWARD. (Historian of the Colored Regiments of the Army.)

Chaplain Steward is a native of Bridgeton, N. J., and traces his descent on his mother's side from John Fenwick, one of the lords proprietors, who settled at Salem, to which he gave his name, in 1665. The chaplain was educated at a divinity school in Philadelphia. Besides being a good Greek, Latin and Hebrew scholar, he also speaks German and French fluently, and was at one time stationed over a church in Port-au-Prince, Hayti, where he preached in French. "A Charleston Love Story," a work of fiction from his pen, is now in press. Two of his sons are Harvard men, one being a lieutenant in one of the volunteer regiments; another is in the University of Michigan, from which he will be graduated in medicine this spring.

Symptoms of Overexertion. An eminent German physician declares that as long as a bicyclist, after a long tour, has a good appetite, does not feel a desire to go to sleep at once, and is not annoyed by heavy dreams on the night following, he may consider that he has not made too great a demand on his physical resources. Not a Paying Investment. In the last three months the first insurance companies of New York have paid in losses two and a half times as much as they have taken in in premiums.

1,000,000 GIVEN AWAY.

By a special and particular arrangement with the manufacturers of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, free trial bottles of this great medicine for the Kidneys, Liver, Bladder and Blood, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia and Constipation, will be sent absolutely free, postpaid, to all persons suffering from any of the diseases mentioned above, who will send their full name and postoffice address to the DR. DAVID KENNEDY CORPORATION, Rondout, N. Y., providing they mention THE COLUMBIAN when they write.

A very simple test to determine whether your kidneys or bladder are diseased is to put some of your urine in a glass tumbler and let it stand 24 hours; if it has a sediment or a cloudy,ropy or stringy appearance, if it is pale or discolored, you do not need a physician to tell you that you are in a dangerous condition. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy specifically cures such serious symptoms as a pain in the back, inability to hold urine, a burning, scalding pain in passing it. Frequent desire to urinate, especially at night, the staining of linen by your urine and all unpleasant and dangerous effects produced on the system by the use of whiskey and beer.

By a searching investigation it was found that over 91 per cent. of the people who sent for a sample bottle were so much benefited by its use that they purchased a large sized bottle of their druggist, which in most cases cured them, while in some rare instances it took as many as two or even three bottles to effect a permanent cure. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is sold by all druggists at $1.00 per large bottle, or six bottles for $5.00.

McClure's Magazine For June.

For a description of Marconi's wireless telegraph that anybody can understand, and account of its latest achievements that everybody will be interested in, readers may be referred to the June number of McCLURE'S MAGAZINE. The article is written with the assistance of Mr. Marconi himself, by Mr. Cleveland Moffett, who himself sent and received messages by the wireless telegraph across the English Channel, and it is fully illustrated from photographs taken expressly for the purpose.

Another interesting and valuable article in this number of McCLURE'S is an account of negotiations between Admiral Dewey and the Spanish commanders that led to the final surrender of Manila practically without any fighting between the land forces. It is written by Oscar King Davis, Manila correspondent of the New York SUN, from the diary of M. Edouard Andre, the Belgium consul at Manila, through whom the negotiations were conducted. It is, therefore, authoritative; and it is a story that has never before been fully told. It gives new illustration of the rare tact and sagacity of the American Admiral.

A Graphical account of the strange life of the miners who work a mile out under the sea off the coast of Cornwall; reminiscences and anecdotes of "Lincoln and the soldiers;" and a dramatic description of "Paul Jones' Greatest Fight," by the Rev. C. T. Brady, are other attractive features of the number, with an excellent story by Kipling and other short stories, and a second installment of Booth Tarkington's absorbing novel, "The Gentleman from Indiana," there is also an especially good provision of fiction.
