More men, more blood, and more money for the Philippines ! That is the cheerful outlook. Mr. McKinley has become convinced that Aguinaldo daily statements are no longer issued successfully played the role of br'er fox in his dealings with the bluecoated and red-trousered American civilian Commissioners, by staving off active military operations against him by the failure of the Cuban soldiers until the rainy season, while he was to surrender their arms and accept fall. The Spanish flag is for the first time in more than a year flying in Washington. It flies over the hotel in which the Duke de Arcos, the new Spanish minister, and his American wife, are guests. The new Minister called on Secretary Hay and presented his credentials and later was presented by Mr. Hay to Mr. McKinley, and diplomatic relations are again established with Spain. The Minister has many personal friends in Washington, which was the home of his wife when he first met her and for many years afterwards.

A Census of the Church Population.

The Christian Advocate publishes a table of statistics of the churches in 143,330 ministers, 187,100 churches, ber of the volunteers now in the Phil. and 26,651,969 communicants. Dr. who does so is given travel pay difficulty of securing any accurate returns for a large number of the communities. Thus there are no accurate statements with regard to the Jews. The returns in the various Lutheran year books differ so greatly that it is impracticable to furnish correct or harmonious statistics.

According to tables giving the order of the denominations as compared with their position in 1890, the Roman Catholic church holds the first rank in each year; next comes the Methodist Episcopal. The Regular Baptist (South.) which held the fourth rank in 1890, have come to the third place in 1898, changing with the colored Baptist, who were in the fourth doubt seriously whether a woman can place. With the 7000 regular troops now on the way to Manila there will soon be available for services under General Otis about 25,000 Federal soldiers, exclusive of the volunteers now in the Philippines. The latter, numbering originally about 16,000, have been reduced to between 11,000 and 12,000 by the casualties of war and the inroads of disease, and will scarcely be counted upon by the War Department for further active service. With most of these volunteers sent home Manila might still be effectively garrisoned by Street Incident.

"My Dear Sir," exclaimed Lawyer Bartholomew Livingston, meeting the Rev. Dr. Archibald Windham on the village street, "What does this mean? I thought you were laid up with all kinds of bad diseases!"

"And so I was," replied the rever-end gentleman, "I had an attack of indigestion and from that time on my whole system has been in a disordered condition until I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla which has put me on my feet and cured all my stomach troubles."

"I don't doubt it," said the lawyer. This same medicine cured my wife of rheumatism and my little girl of scrofula. When they say it is the best medicine money can buy, they only tell the truth."

"Yes, yes, so they do," replied the minister, and the two passed on.

in front of the shoemaker's shop may be made of wood or zinc or of copper. Of these three the wooden boot is the cheapest, the copper the dearest. Such boots, says the New York Sun, have been made also of chalk and of iron. Sign boots are made in two or three standard sizes and of other sizes to order. They are most commonly seen gilded, but sign boots are occasionally finished in some bright color, as, for instance, a brilliant red. The boot signs may be bought in the establishment of the dealer in emblem signs. where there are also to be found the gilded fishes for the dealer in fishing tackle, the great gilded padlock for the hardware dealer, and a variety of other signs of an emblematic character, and they may also be bought of the dealers in leather and findings who make a specialty of shoemakers' supplies.

Besides these familiar gilded or painted smaller boots there is occasionally Write for the f seen in front of shoe stores a giant boot, with the foot part perhaps three or four feet in length and the leg in proportion, four or five or six feet tall. But the Self-Possessed Hostess Was Equal to the Oceasion.

People are telling a most remarkable story about a famous but somewhat eccentric woman who was lately visiting the capital, says the Washington Post. She was invited to a luncheon and she accepted the invitation. Several women well worth knowing were asked to meet her.

When they all came to the table the famous guest asked for a finger bowl. The maid, too well trained to show surprise at anything, brought a bowl half filled with water. The famous woman drew a small bottle from her pocket and emptied its contents into the water. Then calmly she proceeded to lave her spoon and fork in the liquid and wiped them on the damask napkin, explaining the while that for her health's sake she made it a rule never to touch her lips with silver that had not been properly sterilized. The bottle contained antiseptic of some kind-I've forgotten the name of it.

The best part of the story, to my way of thinking, is what the hostess did. She did not look upon the proceeding as any reflection on her housekeeping methods. She did not stare haughtily. She simply smiled into the agonized eyes of the woman who had brought the famous guest, and said: "What a very excellent idea."

THE SIGN OF BECKONING.

A New Gesture Acquired by United States Troops Returning from the War.

Among the troops returning form the new territories added to the United States by the Spanish war many have unly acquired a new trick of ges ture, says the New York Tribune. Ask anyone in this part of the world to beckon to a distant person to come nearer, and the sign will be made by extending the arm forward, palm upward, three fingers flexed into the palm and the index finger moved back and forth. Neither in the new eastern nor the new western possessions does that signal mean "come here;" as a matter of fact it has not that meaning among the American Indians. The northern races of Europe are almost the only people who employ the sign in that sense, and with them it may be regarded as but a hand dialect. All over the rest of the world "come here" is made by extending the arm rigidly before the body, palm facing forward and the four fingers sharply extending and flexed back into the palm several times. Every soldier of the armies of occupation who comes in contact with the Spaniards and the native races is bound

The President Has Been Burning Too Much Tobacco.

According to a writer in the Boston Globe, President McKinley's trip to Hot Springs, Va., was taken for the purpose of getting rid of nicotine. The writer goes on to say : No man of prominence in American life since General Grant has been so industrious a cigar smoker as Mr. McKinley. He smoked all day long, whether he was disposing of the fate of nations or recreating himself. The nicotine at last got on his nerves and began to bother him.

He used to write with a cigar in his mouth, one side of his face cocked up and one eye closed to avoid the smoke. This trick did not help him. His hand trembled and his signature lost its firmness. His skin became hot and dry, and then ran with cold sweat. He danced from nervousness. Sleep deserted him.

At this time a cigar was either between his lips or between his fingers during 8 hours out of the 24. He smoked atter breakfast until the lunch hour arrived. He smoked after lunch until dinner time, and smoked after dinner until he prepared for bed.

The President often smoked 18 cigars a day. He was tempted to further excesses by the fact that his admirers and flatterers in our new colonies, knowing him to be a great smoker, sent him quantities of cigars. It was to get rid of tobacco nerves that the President went to Hot Springs. His physicians have cut him down to four cigars a day-one atter breakfast, one atter luncheon, and two after dinner.

Three game cocks were brought from Porto Rico by Admiral Sampson for his boys, and placed at the Sampson home, at Glen Ridge, N. J. They had records as fighters and care was taken to keep them from attacking and hurting a little American bantam, which strutted around the place. These precautions failed the other day, the bantam killed two of the Spanish chickens, one after the other, and the third roosted so high they had been made over new. With F. J.
