WHEELMEN VICTORIOUS.

They Defeat The Normal School in a Game Abounding in Brilliant Plays.

Seldom indeed have the base ball going people of Bloomsburg had the opportunity of witnessing a more interesting game of base ball than that which took place on Normal Field, Saturday afternoon, between the Bioomsburg Wheelmen and the Normal School. Notwithstanding the fact that it was the Wheelmen's first game, and the people in general were not looking for a real close score, the attendance was quite large, and decidedly enthusiastic in spirits.

The Wheelmen had for their bat, off. tery Mathewson and Stanton, of Bucknell University, and the work cannot be praised too highly. There is not Carmel. ## Progressive Euchre Players.

In Berwick, while a ladies' card club was engaged in playing for a $2 prize, the sons of some of them, small boys, were arrested in a hay mow, while they were playing for 50c as a prize. The mothers cried, and said: What a terrible place this town is to raise boys, anyhow.' It served the boys right, however. They might have known the difference between a parlor and a hay mow, and between a $2 and a 50c prize. Hazleton Sentinel.

FUNNY FIGHTERS.

Filipinos Imitate the American War Cry and Then Beat a Hasty Retrent.

A private letter from a bugler in Gen. MacArthur's command in the Philippines to his mother in Chicago relates a laughable incident about the Filipino method of warfare. The story of Col. Funston's several advances, and his wonderful command over men, seems as well known there as in this country, says the Chicago Inter Ocean.

When, shortly after the fall of Calumpit. Gen. MacArthur sent a detachment against some insurgents who had thrown up breastworks on a shrubcovered hillock, the Americans crept missioner W. T. Lindsey at Pittsburg. forward just before dawn, and while a heavy rain was falling. With the first -Renovo citizens have raised $18-, gleam of daylight they rose to their ooo for a new silk mill and instruc- feet and ran forward silently until a hurried, nervous discharge of musketry deal. The building will be brick, four told them they were discovered. Then they yelled, and fired, and redoubled their pace.

Suddenly they heard the Filipino commander cry out, in fairly good Eng-

"Come on, boys-give it to 'em!" At the same time abandoning the position, and retreating at a dead run. The bugler declares the "slogan" was as effective in a Filipino camp as in an American-only in quite a contrary manner; "for they no sooner heard those words-which our officers most always employ-than the last beggar of them hopped out of the intrenchment, and skurried away."

"This." concludes the soldier, "is in line with the general Asiatic habit of doing everything 'backward.'"

the Kniser Did Not Object, But the Burgomaster of Fischhauser

A contribution towards the question of women's emancipation comes to the Berlin Lokalanzeiger from Fischhauser, a small village in East Prussia, says the Chicago Tribune.

Was Shocked.

A 19-year-old girl there had been left in sore straits through the death of her father, who had been intrusted with the administration of an estate belonging to the community. But she did not despair.

Though only a frail creature she suddenly developed an abundance of energy and resolved to earn her means of living by following the same occupation as her father. As a step towards the purpose she addressed a letter to the German emperor, asking to be allowed to wear men's clothes, which would enable her to overcome all diffienlties.

The emperor's answer was encourage ing enough: "She would be granted the privilege of donning male attire conditionally upon the assent of the burgomaster of the village."

The girl's hopes were high when she went to see the village potentate to inform him of the emperor's reply. But they were doomed to failure, for, alas! the burgomaster did not see his way to grant her urgent request.

"He could not give his consent," he explained, "to such a shocking thing, which would be most dangerous to the morals of the community over which he had the honor to preside."

What's the Use of Bathing. "Cleanliness is an excellent habit. It is not, however, an absolute essential. nor an essential at all to good health and mental activity," says Dr. Thoma J. Hills in the Medical Record. "The healthiest man I ever saw is alive and well to-day at 94, and he took a bath only occasionally-once in the Mersey at Liverpool in 1838 and again in the North river in 1878, both of which were accidental, the gentleman being slighty intoxicated when he fell. Almost all people who live to an extreme old age are found to be those who are not overfond of ablutions, but who otherwise are careful in their manner of living."
