A STRANGE AFFECTION.

It Crops Out Amongst Society Ladies Who Have the Five O'Clock Tea Habit.

There is a nervous disease-the result of the five o'clock tea habit-which afflicts many women, tays the New York Herlad. Said one bright woman, lately:

"I never remember finishing a sentence which I have commenced at one of these functions. Before I have a chance to round it off I am interrupted, dragged away or confronted with a new face to whom I am introduced. I begin again, to have the experience duplicated again and again. I have the same trouble with my cups of tea. I put them down half emptied to greet some new arrival, to find them whisked away, and each one repeats the history of its predecessor.

"I leave these 'bun worries' with a trail of unfinished phrases and undrunk cups of tea behind me. I go home in a thoroughly unkempt frame of mind, with a tendency to leave off everything I undertake and start something fresh. It is really a disease, a sort of five-o'clock-ten paralysis. Just listen at any of these receptions and you will agree with me. The women talk in spasmodic, staccato gasps. You never get the point of a story or the telling point of a biography. Everyone has her eye on the door for the new arrival, who may prove more interesting or desirable than the one she is talking to.

"'Pardon me,' seems to be the excuse for every form of conversational rudeness. I believe this form of nervousness is one of the many symptoms of the national unrest, or lack of poise. of which foreigners so bitterly com-

DONE BY MACHINERY.

Luxuries as Well as Necessities Have Been Multiplied by Invention.

By the aid of improved machinery, that which at the beginning of the century was the luxury of the rich is now the comfort of the poor, says the Engineering Magazine. Material and labor are no longer the sole factors of production. Assisted by machinery and tools, man's labor now converts the raw materials of nature into the useful, necessary, and, in some cases, even the artistic paraphernalia of civilization with one-third of the exertion formerly necessary. Even Russia, the latest competitor in the industrial field, has, with the aid of machinery, more than doubled, since 1861, the individual output of those employed in her manufactories. In the course of 20 years (1870-1890) the number of persons employed in the American manufactures has more than doubled, and the value of their product has nearly trebled. I mention these facts to show the important part that machinery now plays in modern industrial warfare. realize or stop to think how much we are indebted to the inventor and machine designer for the comforts, luxuries and necessities of our daily life. The loom which weaves our silks, cottons and woolens; the harvesting machines which reap our corn; the machinery which forms our bricks and mixes our mortar; the printing machine which makes the penny daily possible. Our food, clothing, furniture, literature, all are produced on machin-

The Percentage Is Very Large in the Southern Provinces and Steadily Increasing.

Would you like to live to the age of Methuselah? Then, according to the latest authority on the subject of longevity, you should spend the remainder of your days in the south of

According to statistics which have just been published in Madrid, Spain is wonderfully rich in centenarians. The compiler, indeed, estimates that there are 25 centenarians to every 1,000,000 luhabitants. Moreover, this proportion has been constantly increasing during the last half century. In 1857 there were 12 centenarians to every 1,000,000; in 1867 there were 13.97, and in 1877 the number rose as high as 29.81. For a few years after 1877 the proportion was not as great as usual, but since 1889 it has recovered almost all of its lost ground.

Centenarians thrive better in some parts of the coutnry than in others. In Andalusia there are more than anywhere else. In Malaga the proportion is something like 100 to every 1,000,000 of inhabitants. On the other hand, there is not a single centenarian in the provinces of Soria, Alava and Teruel. Broadly speaking, it may be said that centenarians flourish best in the country south of the Sierra Morena, the proportion there being approximately from 50 to 60 to every 1,000,000 of inhabitants. In the north, on the contrary, it is very rare, nay, almost impossible, to find a single centenarian.

A Queer Coincidence.

The Stillwater (Minn.) Prison Mirror tells of an Irishman at McCook, Neb., who went out to celebrate the other night and returned at three in the morning only to find that his family and also been enlarged by three in the meantime. He looked at the clock and then at the kids, and remarked: "It's a quare coincidence. Howiver, I'm dom'd glad O: didn't return at eight!"

Dodging the Contribution Box. A boy accompanied his father to church and when the collection was taken'up the youngster closely watched the petformance. When the collectors made their rteurns the boy said to his father: "Half of them got in for nothing."

GENTLENESS IN WAR.

Singular Characteristic of the Samoans-An Illustrative Incident.

War is savage in its very nature, and peculiarly barbarous. That such is not always the case among the people of Samoa is attested by a letter sent from Samoa by an American gentleman who recently visited Apia, and who gives a description of Mataafa's army in camp after a battle between the rival claimants to the throne, says Youth's Companion.

"We went all about among the huts where the savages were resting after the battle and making preparations for the next fight. It was a very peaceful scene, for their arms were all concealed under the mats where the men sat, and many of the soldiers were accompanied by their wives and children. They were amusing themselves by smoking and beating tom-toms.

"The Samoans are a most amiable race of savages, and white people are always perfectly safe among them. Everywhere we were greeted with smiles and friendly nods and the salutation, 'Talofa,' which means 'Love to you,' from men, women and children.

"One instance of their friendly feeling occurred during the big battle. A white man, who lived in the street where they were fighting, saw that two of his horses had strayed out between the hostile lines. He did not want to lose them, and he did not want to venture out in the line of fire. So he stuck a white flag out of his window. Upon seeing it, both chiefs ordered their men to stop firing, and hostilities were suspended while the white man went out and drove his horses to a place of shelter. Then the combatants went at it ngain."

AFRICAN RIVERS.

Eight Months Out of Twelve They Are Dry and Drifts of Sand Mark Their Course.

It is a distinguishing feature of most African rivers that they contain no water for at least eight months of the year. It is true that water can almost always be found in a river bed by digging for it, but in outward appearances river is usually a broad belt of sand lying between high and precipitous banks. Many and many a coach has been upset in one of these drifts, as they are called. The descent is always steep, frequently so steep that the brakes cannot hold the coach, says Gentleman's Magazine.

They start going down at a crawl, and then the coach gathers way and goes on with a rush, the mules are driven into a heap anyhow, and one wonders that they do not get their legs broken; but they usually land all right, while the coach, practically unmanageable, goes down like a sort of toboggan, jumping from stone to stone, and swaying like a ship in a sudden squall, and may or may not arrive right side uppermost at the bottom. In fact, the passenger who has gathered his ideas of coaching from a trip to Brighton or a drive to Virginia Water, finds that he has a lot to learn about the subject when he gets to South Africa. Still, on the whole, it was wonderful how few accidents did occur, and if one considers that the coaches ran night and day, and that when there was no moon it more or less, on which is erected a two-story would sometimes be too dark to see the mules from off the coach, it reflects great credit on the drivers.

RACING THE MOON.

Over the Siberian Railrond Earth's Circuit May Be Made in Thirty Days.

A military gentleman declares that in the year 1902 he intends with a friend to travel around the world in 30 days, His companion will be Prince Hilkoff, the Russlan minister of railways, says Stray Stories.

"Suppose," he says, "we start from Baltimore. It is, say, 3,150 miles to Seattle; then, via the Pacific, to Yokohama 4,500 miles, whence to Port Arthur, via Nagasaki, it is 1,200 miles more.

"At Port Arthur we leave ship, and, going ashore, take train on the Manchuria extension of the Transsiberian railway for St. Petersburg, 5,600 miles, thence by rail direct to Berlin, 1,000 miles, and on to London, 750 miles. Ship again, this time on the Atlantic, to New York, 3,200 miles, winding up with 200 miles or less of railroad.

"The total of rail travel is 19,700 miles, and of water 8,900 miles, an aggregate of 19,600 miles.

"An average of 40 miles an hour by train and 20 by ship would insure the transit within 30 days.

Prince Hilkoff declares that with the ompletion of the great Siberian line to Port Arthur and Ta-Lien-Wan in 1902, he will make the time from London to Shanghai 12 days.

The distance from London to Yokohama has already been done in 20 days.

A . net by Post. Dueling is passing out of France. Recently a Paris journalist offended an artist by a criticism, and in a letter received this: "You are below my level, so I simply send you a cuff on the ears by post." In response this was sent: "Thank you for the cuffs. In return I desire to shoot you by post with six bullets. Consider yourself dead!"

Russian Oil.

In the Russian oil district of Baku the average daily production of crude in 1898 was over 20,000 barrels (of 42 gallons) more than in 1897, and as the average number of wells producing in the former year was 146 more than in the latter, the average increase per well per day was about 160 barrels

Explosive Compounds. Thirty years ago there were only two dozen explosive compounds known to chemists: now there are over 1,000.
