"Other People's Money."

"Other People's Money" is not always secured and held by banks or safe deposit vaults. In the present instance it will be found in a very bright snappy and entertaining comedy play in which that very excellent artist Hennessy Leroy will be seen at the Opera House on Tuesday, November 28. The title of the play does not convey the idea of the manner of dramatic work it is. Therefore, to those who have failed to see it on its former visits to our city, it need only be said that it is a comedy of the farcical order. In other words a pure and simple farce comedy, not one of that class relying upon the specialty artist for success, but a play the story of which is rich in opportunity for amusing complications and absurdity of scenes and situations in the working out of a well developed and clever plot. The central figure "Hutchison Hopper" is the character assumed by Mr. Leroy and it is about him that all of the funny web of circumstances is woven into smiles, laughter and hilarious enjoyment. The lines are bright and witty, the action quick and never flagging and Mr. Leroy and his very capable support will afford an evening of most exhilarating and care destroying amusement.

Bellefonte had a brilliant wedding Wednesday evening of last week, when Miss Winifred Barron, youngest daughter of P. Gray Meek, editor and proprietor of the Bellefonte Watchman, was married to Thomas K. Morris, of Tyrone. The ceremony took place in the parlors of the Meek residence and was attended by 400 guests. Rev. Geo. P. Glenn, of Gettysburg, officiated. The bride is one of a family of accomplished women, and is well known throughout the state. The groom is a son of A. G. Morris, of Tyrone, an extensive lime manufacturer. The couple will reside at Tyrone.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How To Find Out. Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do. There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. ## HOBART IS NO MORE.

Vice President's Long Illness Ends Fatally.

THE WHOLE NATION IN MOURNING

Funeral to be held on Saturday in Paterson—President McKinley and Cabinet, Members of Congress and Supreme Court to Attend.

PATERSON, N. J., Nov. 22.—Garret A. Hobart, vice president of the United States, died yesterday at his home here. The end came at 8:30 in the morning and at his bedside were Mrs. Hobart and Garret A. Hobart, Jr., together with Dr. William K. Newton and his wife and Private Secretary Evans.

Mr. Hobart's death had been expected for some hours. The beginning of the end was Monday afternoon, when there was a sudden failure of the heart, and from that attack Mr. Hobart never rallied. He had been ill for a long time and had suffered frequently from heart failure, and his strength had been undermined. Gradually the failure of the heart's action became more apparent, and soon after midnight Mr. Hobart became unconscious. He remained in that condition until his death.

Mr. Hobart's death was due directly to angina pectoris, complicating myocarditis. Owing to the prostration of Mrs. Hobart the funeral arrangements have not been completed. The only stop decided upon is that the services shall be held in

GARRET A. HOBART.

The Church of the Redeemer in this city and the interment in the family plot at Cedar Lawn, where the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hobart was buried six years ago. The Rev. Dr. Magee will preach the funeral sermon.

The mayor and aldermen of Paterson have suggested that the body lie in state at the city hall on Friday or Saturday morning, and this suggestion will probably be carried out.

Nearly all the representatives of foreign nations in this country have already sent messages of sympathy to Mrs. Hobart.

One of the first to express his sorrow at the death of the vice president was President McKinley, who had been notified by telephone by Private Secretary Evans. Attorney General Griggs, who was in Washington, telegraphed that he would return to Paterson at the earliest possible moment, and he is expected to take charge of all the details of the funeral.

Garret A. Hobart was born at Long Branch June 3, 1844. He was one of three children, all boys. His ancestors were Dutch. Most of his early schooling was received in the little town of Marlboro. Afterward he went to Mattawan and then to Rutgers college, where he was graduated in 1863.

He studied law in the office of Socrates Tuttle, in Paterson, and was admitted to the bar in 1866. Not long after this Mr. Hobart, who had fallen in love with Fannie, one of Mr. Tuttle's daughters, married her.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobart had two children, Fannie, who died in Italy in June, 1865, and a son, Garret A. Hobart, Jr., who is now about 15 years old.

In 1871 Mr. Hobart was appointed city counsel of Paterson and in the following year was chosen counsel for the board of freeholders. Twice he was elected to the assembly of New Jersey, being speaker of that body during his second term. His election to the senate occurred in 1877, and he served six years. In 1881 and 1882 he was the presiding officer of the upper house. It is said that in his term of service in the senate he introduced more important bills than any other member.

Mr. Hobart was elected chairman of the Republican state committee of New Jersey in 1880. His management of affairs was, it is said, powerful in securing the nomination of John W. Griggs as his party's candidate for the governorship and his subsequent election.

He was chosen a member of the Republican national committee in 1884. At the Republican national convention in St. Louis Mr. Hobart was nominated for the vice presidency on the first ballot, receiving 533 1/2 votes to 27 1/2 for H. Clay Evans of Tennessee and 85 scattering.

Mr. Hobart, it is said, organized and developed more corporate enterprises than any other man in New Jersey. When he was nominated for vice president, he was president or director in a dozen corporations. His wealth was estimated at more than $1,000,000.

WASHINGTON PREPARATIONS.

A Large Delegation of Public Men Will Attend Hobart's Funeral.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Vice President Hobart's funeral on Saturday will be attended by the president and his cabinet, the supreme court, the senate in a body and a large committee from the house of representatives, besides many other high dignitaries of the government, who will journey to Paterson to pay their last tribute of respect to the memory of the vice president. Every senator has been invited to be present, and the senate will meet at the Fifth Avenue hotel in New York Saturday at 11 o'clock and thence travel in a body to Paterson.

Sergeant at Arms Bright has engaged a special train to convey the president and his cabinet and the United States supreme court to Paterson. The train will leave Washington over the Pennsylvania railroad at 7 o'clock Saturday morning and will arrive on the return at 11 p. m.

The law applicable to the vice presidency was enacted Jan. 10, 1886, by the Forty-ninth congress, first session. The main features are as follows:

"Be it enacted, etc., that in case of removal, death, resignation or inability of both the president and vice president of the United States, the secretary of state or secretary of the treasury or secretary of war or attorney general or postmaster general or secretary of the navy or secretary of the interior shall act as president until the disability of the president or vice president is removed or a president shall be elected."

The law further provides that when one of the above cabinet officers succeeds to the presidency he shall call a special session of congress. A proviso limits the succession to those who would be eligible to the presidency under the terms of the constitution and who have been appointed with the advice and consent of the senate.

The effect of the law is not to provide a succession to the vice presidency, but merely to insure a succession to the presidency.

By the death of Mr. Hobart Senator William P. Frye of Maine becomes president pro tempore of the senate and will discharge all the duties of the vice president as presiding officer of that body. The senate rules specifically provide that no election is necessary at the beginning of the session. Senator Frye accordingly will continue as presiding officer till the end of November, 1885. The other two vice presidents who died in office were Clinton and King. The former died April 29, 1812, and the latter April 17, 1853.

An curious coincidence of the death of Vice President Hobart is found in the fact that of the six vice presidents who have died in office four died within a few days of the same day of the month in the year of their deaths, the death of Mr. Hobart being the 21st of November, that of Mr. Wilson the 22d of November, 1875; that of Elbridge Gerry the 23d of November, 1814, and that of Hendricks the 25th of November, 1885. The other two vice presidents who died in office were Clinton and King. The former died April 29, 1812, and the latter April 17, 1853.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—News of the death of Vice President Hobart was received with regret by members of the Democratic national executive committee, who without exception spoke highly of the dead Republican leader, both as a public official and as a private citizen. Senator Jones of Arkansas said: "He was an ideal presiding officer, and I am sorry, very sorry, to hear of his death." Other members of the committee expressed deep regret at Vice President Hobart's death.

Will Be Missed by the Senate. DENVER, Nov. 22.—United States Senator Henry M. Teller said of Vice President Hobart: "There is no question but that he was the most popular presiding officer ever in the senate. He was capable and was a fine parliamentarian. He was always absolutely impartial. It is indeed a hard blow for the senate to lose such a valuable man. He will be missed."

A Lackawanna County Hungarian was placed in a curious predicament. While sick he was taken to the hospital, and in some way one of his countymen obtained a certificate of the man's death, so that the rascally Hungarian might obtain the other one's job in the mine. When the poor Hun got well he sought his old work and was told that he was a fraud, as the old employee was legally dead. Then the man went to the Court House in Scranton, and amazed the tipstaves and others by saying he wanted to see one of the Judges to secure a certificate that would certify he was alive.

Help... Nature

Babies and children need proper food, rarely ever medicine. If they do not thrive on their food something is wrong. They need a little help to get their digestive machinery working properly.

will generally correct this difficulty. If you will put from one-fourth to half a teaspoonful in baby's bottle three or four times a day you will soon see a marked improvement. For larger children, from half to a teaspoonful, according to age, dissolved in their milk, if you so desire, will very soon show its great nourishing power. If the mother's milk does not nourish the baby, she needs the emulsion. It will show an effect at once both upon mother and child.
