Notes and Comments, Political and Otherwise, on Matters of Interest.

By Andrew J. Palm.

McKinley and his jingo advisers should have the Declaration of Independence revised so as to read: "All governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed."

Mark Hanna, John Bull and Wall Street are the trinity which Mr. McKinley now swears by. Though a Methodist in theory, he hasn't been practicing at it to any great extent since he ascended the throne.

At the close of the fiscal year Treasurer Beacom finds $2,000,000 more in the state treasury than was taken in last year. When the people of the state take time to think about it they will naturally ask, "What excuse had Governor Stone for cutting out a million dollars of the school appropriation?"

The public school is the last institution that should suffer by the financial pruning knife, and no excuse except that of absolute inability to pay will be accepted as a reason to justify either legislature or executive in cutting short the appropriation. Governor Stone has no such excuse to plead.

The last legislature passed an act providing that the appointment of county commissioners, clerk shall be for a period of three years unless he be discharged for cause. In view of this act the clerks in Crawford, Mercer and Lackawanna counties resigned recently and were reappointed, hoping thereby to hold over for three years from the time of appointment. As there are several gentlemen hungering and thirsting for these positions, many of whom were promised them before the election, if things went their way, it is almost certain that the legality of such appointments will be tested in court.

What a shock it must have been to the Republican members of the house and their eleven Democratic allies to learn that during the very hour they were reroading the sound currency measure through a panic was occurring in New York which, according to Republican authorities, caused the loss of $100,000,000 and the ruin of thousands of men. This law that is to establish honesty, stability, soundness, confidence and everything else necessary or desirable in our financial system! "Was really too bad, for it looked so very like a judgment sent from Heaven to rebuke Wall Street and its representatives at Washington."

The dividing line between the Democratic and the Republican parties is no wavering uncertain boundary, but has clear and well defined limits. The Democratic party is unalterably arrayed against trusts, against imperialism, against the single gold standard, against robbery by tariff, and favors the imposition of a graded income tax. There are other minor points of difference between the parties, but these are the essentials by which men are to be judged. The man who imagines himself a Democrat, but finds himself out of harmony with his party on any of these questions, may well begin to doubt the soundness of his Democracy, and should not ask to represent his party in any official capacity which has to do with party policies.

No antediluvian high priest ever had more reverence for his soothsayers and sorcerers than have our secretaries of the treasury held for the Morgans and other Wall Street usurers. It was announced a day or two before the late panic in New York that Mr. Gage and Mr. Morgan had a long conference. It will be remembered that this same Mr. Morgan came up the day of the panic and saved matters from utter demoralization by offering a million dollars at 6 per cent, while money at the same time within a few feet was bringing 50 per cent. Possibly the million was from Uncle Sam's strong box. If Morgan sold his own money at 6 per cent when he might have had more for the asking, the millennium may be looked for speedily. Grover Cleveland had some bond business with this same Mr. Morgan which put him, president as he was, under grave suspicion.

The imperialists are anxious to provoke the Cubans into some overt act as an excuse to seize upon the island and forcibly annex it. Our government has all through the contest acted more like an overgrown bully than an honorable gentleman. The administration has steadily refused all conciliatory measures in dealing with the Filipinos. Their envoy on a mission of peace was driven from Washington without recognition, in spite of the fact that our soldiers had saluted the Filipino flag and welcomed the Filipino soldier as an ally against Spain. We provoked them into firing on our flag by a bully strutting around with a chip on his shoulder. We take that as a reason for exterminating them or compelling them to accept us as their masters. Some flimsy pretext will sooner or later be trumped up as an excuse for holding Cuba. 'Twill give sufficient expansion to afford a few political spoilsmen good fat places, and that is what expansion really means, and all it means, to those who are most ardent in urging it.

Republican leaders, especially those who have a brotherly feeling for trusts, do not like Hon. William J. Bryan's proposition that trusts should be dealt with by the general government. They say that the states should look after them, and they declare that Bryan is undemocratic when he would invoke the aid of congress. This is all very fine, for when a state passes a law with a view to curbing the trust evil it is easy to get a decision from the supreme court declaring that the law interferes with the interstate commerce act. There's nothing like making matters as easy as possible for the supreme court. Cases have occurred when there was no way for the court to do as it desired except to reverse itself, and of course that's humiliating and likely to cause suspicion. Courts are composed of ordinary human beings who have their full share of human weaknesses, and men who are seldom selected solely because they are the best and ablest that can be had. The average man would respect the supreme court if it would only let him, but it will take years of fair dealing to wipe out the memory of that infamous decision on the income tax. "Was so plain.
