

LOOKING OVER CUBA

General Wood Continues His Inspection Tour.

PRISONS AND HOSPITALS VISITED.

The Governor General Believes in Supplying Public Work for the Destitute Instead of Farming Necessities.

CASILDA, Cuba, Jan. 24.—Governor General Wood, who is making a tour of inspection of the island, and his party arrived here on board the dispatch boat Ingalls at daylight yesterday morning. Later the general visited Trinidad and inspected the jail, hospitals and other public buildings at that place. Accompanied by General Fitz-Hugh Lee, General Chaffee, Colonel Black, Colonel Burton and other officers he visited the post of Company K, Second Infantry, under the command of Captain Benham, whom General Wood complimented upon the manner in which the jail, hospitals and streets had been kept clean. A noticeable feature was that the women do all the street cleaning and the men do the laundry work. But the most noticeable feature of the province was the lack of public work, which has retarded its progress. General Wood does not believe in the advisability of supplying the people with oxen and farming implements, thinking it better to supply them as much as possible with public work and allow the men to save money and buy the necessary implements and oxen, which plan has been found to work so successfully in the province of Santiago de Cuba and Puerto Principe and which helps the country and helps the people as well. The general is in favor of making the people more self-reliant, and he thinks this plan is the best way to do so.

General Wood says the prison at Cienfuegos was overcrowded. Otherwise it was in good condition. As the names of many of the prisoners have been sent to headquarters with recommendations for pardon, it is probable that a number of them will be released shortly. He is of the opinion that the hospitals are dirty and that many improvements could be made.

The city of Trinidad has nominally 12,000 inhabitants, but in reality there are only about 8,000 souls in the place. A majority of them are very poor, although not in actual want. There are hardly any persons requiring assistance. The party left here at 2 p. m. for Manzanillo.

The city of Mexico came off comparatively unscathed, few accidents occurring here, although some adobe huts in the suburbs fell in and one bridge was partly wrecked. The Church of the Three Kings at Atzacatlan, in the suburbs, was cracked and will be closed for repairs.

Friars Hooted, Otis Cheered. MANILA, Jan. 24.—Archbishop Chapelle, papal delegate to the Philippines, gave a reception to the Catholic clergy and laymen for the purpose of conciliating the opposing factions. Many prominent Filipinos attended with a view of making a demonstration against the friars. They hooted Archbishop Nozalida and every friar who appeared, crying "Fuera Nozalida" and "Fuera friars!" On the other hand, General Otis, who attended with his staff, was cheered. Mgr. Chapelle made a speech, asking for tolerance and patience and promising a satisfactory settlement of the questions in dispute.

DISCUSSING ROBERTS

Great Flow of Oratory in the House.

ACCUSED PLEADS HIS OWN CAUSE.

Women in the Galleries Gave the Only Applause—Others His the Mormon—Senate Still on the Philippine Question.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Yesterday was an oratorical field day over the case of Brigham H. Roberts, the Mormon representative from Utah. The galleries were packed to suffocation, chiefly with women, and the spectators after listening attentively to the arguments of Mr. Taylor of Ohio and Mr. Littlefield of Maine for the adoption of the majority and minority reports respectively of the special committee that investigated the case, remained long after midnight to hear the impassioned words of the accused as he faced the house like an animal at bay, knowing that every hand was raised against him.

Mr. Roberts was very adroit in the handling of his case and at times exceedingly dramatic. Taking advantage of the issue raised by the division in the committee as to the method of ousting him, he appropriated to himself the argument of the minority that he was constitutionally entitled to be sworn in and the arguments of the majority that, once sworn in, he could not be expelled. He defended the action of the Mormons in fighting the authority of the United States for years, because, he said, they believed that sentiment would change and dramatically stated that in those days he had rather have his flesh hewn from his bones than to have renounced his religious tenets. He concluded with an eloquent peroration in which he said he had never been conscious of a shameful act and if he was sent forth he would go with head erect and undaunted brow.

Strange to say, most of the applause he won was from women. But while they appeared to be his only partisans, other women manifested their bitter hostility by hissing him at every opportunity.

Again the senate's session was devoted entirely to speaking. Mr. Turner of Washington concluded his address upon the Philippine question. He was followed by Mr. Ross of Vermont with a thoughtful and carefully prepared speech, in which he also discussed the Philippine question in connection with resolutions which he had offered. His presentation of the question was given thoughtful attention by his colleagues. Mr. McEnery of Louisiana delivered the concluding speech of the session on the race question in the south. He took strong ground in support of the constitution of Louisiana and of the proposed amendment to the constitution of North Carolina, which it is alleged practically will disfranchise a large class of voters.

Monday, Jan. 22.

House Votes the Annual Appropriation—Porto Rico Relief Measure.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The pension appropriation bill, carrying $145,245,250, was passed by the house yesterday. It was made the vehicle of an attack upon the commissioner of pensions by Mr. Curtis (Rep., Kan.), who was seconded by Mr. Lantz and Mr. Norton of Ohio and Mr. Robinson of Indiana and other northern Democrats. All inveighed against the lack of liberality in the administration of the pension laws. The commissioner was ably defended by a score of members from both sides of the house. Mr. Mahon (Rep., Pa.) charged that the assault upon him had been instigated by the "pension sharks" of this city, who were robbing the old soldiers.

Representative Payne of New York, chairman of the ways and means committee of the house and floor leader of the majority, introduced a bill to extend the customs and internal revenue laws of the United States over the island of Porto Rico.

Burned an Inhabited Library. TOLEDO, Jan. 22.—Marshall O. Waggoner, the infidel whose conversion to Christianity was recently announced, has burned his magnificent library, consisting of writings of infidels. The ashes of the books resided in the bottom of the furnace of the Memorial United Brethren church of this city, to which he recently consigned them. He threatened to destroy this collection some time ago, but delayed doing so until the night of Jan. 8. With supreme satisfaction and a feeling that he was doing God's will the aged lawyer watched his precious volumes wither and crumble into ashes in the furnace heat. Many of the volumes were exceedingly rare. There were a large number of manuscripts and first prints.

It is expected that this last important victory of General Torres will have the effect of scattering the Yaquis and will result in ending the war.

LEGISLATORS MEET.

Economy Reduces Appropriations—Raines Law Resolutions Tabled.

ALBANY, Jan. 23.—The Rev. George N. Karner, pastor of the West End Presbyterian church, who offered prayer in the assembly last night, prayed fervently that the Lord would protect the members from the wine-room, the gaming board and the lobby.

Leader Allis introduced the annual appropriation bill, which appropriates $16,000,000. The lump sum appropriated is about the same as last year, except that they have taken over from the supply bill items aggregating $200,000, which is done in accordance with the recommendations of State Comptroller Morgan. This really makes the appropriation $200,000 less than last year's, which is due to the economy practiced by the different departments of the state.

Mr. Harburger of New York called up his resolution for debate which calls for the repeal of the Raines law. He was recognized by the chair and argued for the passage of his resolution at some length. In his usual vein the speaker paid his respects to Senator Raines and also to Mr. Rogers, chairman of the excise commission. In the cause of humanity and from a strictly moral standpoint he urged the members to adopt his resolution.

On motion of Mr. Allis the resolution was laid on the table by a viva voce vote.

Mr. Minton of New York offered a resolution prohibiting the employment of Italian cheap labor on the construction work of the proposed new $85,000,000 tunnel for Greater New York. The introducer endeavored to have the resolution suspended for action on his resolution, but Mr. McKeown of Kings objected, and it went over one week under the rules.

Mr. Bradley of Buffalo offered a resolution expressing sympathy with the Boers in their struggle with England for self government. It also went over one week.

Senator John Haines presided at the session of the senate in the absence of Lieutenant Governor Woodruff and Senator Ellsworth, president pro tem. A large number of bills were introduced.

New Jersey Legislature. TRENTON, Jan. 23.—The two houses of the legislature had brief sessions last night in consequence of adjourning out of respect to the memory of ex-Attorney General John P. Stockton, who died yesterday. Provision was made for the appointment of a committee to draft suitable resolutions. The senate held an executive session and confirmed all the pending nominations. The governor afterward sent to the senate those nominations, which were referred to County Judge of Somerset, Louis H. Schenck; prosecutor of Somerset county, James L. Griggs; prosecutor of Salem county, J. Forman Sinnickson. There were no bills introduced in the house.

BRYAN IN NEW YORK. Comes to Confer With Democratic Leaders.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—William Jennings Bryan is here to confer with leaders of the Democratic party in the east. He arrived in Jersey City on the Pennsylvania railway train from Washington and was received there by James Oliver, the sergeant-at-arms of the Democratic national committee. Mr. Oliver hired a cab, and the distinguished visitor was driven to his hotel, the Hoffman House.

Ex-Governor Hogg of Texas and Dr. J. S. Girdner of New York, a personal friend of Mr. Bryan's, were at the hotel to meet the visitor.

Mr. Bryan was asked whether there was anything he wished to say. He smiled and said:

"Yes; there are three things to say—three things about which I mean to talk wherever I go and whenever I speak. They are silver, trusts and imperialism. No, I don't care in what order you put them, and the distinguished visitor was driven to his hotel, the Hoffman House.

MANUFACTURED FREAKS.

Sometimes the Public Recognizes Them, and Trouble Follows.

"While I was absent from my show," says a circus proprietor, "my manager once engaged two boys with heads little larger than teacups. One of them had a clubfoot and some little claim of intelligence," says the Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post. "Our people had painted them to look like savages, and they were exhibited as 'Aztec children.' One day when the lecturer was expatiating upon these remarkable children a burly countryman shouted:

"Hello, John Evans, I know you. I worked in the harvest field with you many a day. Oh, you can't fool me!"

"The 'Aztec child' had been taught to make no reply to anything said to him, and the lecturer paid no attention to anything said to the countryman's interruption, but the countryman was not to be put down, and once more he shouted:

"Say, Bill Evans, maybe you think I don't know that clubfoot. Just come off, now!"

"The audience was greatly amused at this, and the lecturer saw that he had plenty of trouble on hand. Consequently he called the countryman aside and told him that he was certainly mistaken as to the identity of the freak. 'Oh, no, I ain't,' replied the obdurate fellow, 'and what is more, you and your whole shebang are frauds and humbugs.' Then the lecturer took another tack, gave the countryman $5 and thought the incident closed. But it was not, for the fellow proceeded to spend the money on whisky and tell his friends of his discovery, with the result that the business at that point was ruined."

Try putting some of your urine in a glass tumbler, let it stand twenty-four hours. If there is a sediment, or a cloudy, milky appearance, your kidneys are sick.
