WILL VISIT DUBLIN.

Queen Victoria Has Decided to Honor Her Irish Subjects.

During Her Visit to the Emerald Isle She Will Be Entertained by the Earl of Cadegun, Lord Lieutenant of the Kingdom.

' George Henry, earl of Cadogan, lord Beutenant of Ireland, who will act as the official host of Victoria during her majesty's visit to Ireland in April, is erald Isle who is properly equipped for so lofty a service as entertainer of the queen of England and empress of India Personally the earl has done much to distinguish himself. His high rank in the nobility has given him a certain prominence in conservative politics but he is by no means as great a man as some of his predecessors in the office he now holds. That office is tremendously greater than the man, and few Americans know the extent of its dignity, its retinue and its largess.

Lord Cadogan's establishment is more regal than those of more than half of the kings of Europe. This is as it should be-from the standpoint of royalty-for he is vice regent of Ireland and the official name of his seat is the "vice regal lodge," situated in the most pleasant part of Phoenis park, Dublin, and upheld by a state as magnificent as the impoverished coun try which supports it is squalid. The household of the lord lieutenant is really a royal court, and no small court at that. A glance at its composition will show that the queen will be subjected to no mean entertainment when she lodges at the palace in Phoenix park.

The salary of the lord lieutenant is $100,000 a year. This sum he is supposed to spend annually with the lavish hand of royalty. He has a private secretary, who is puld as much as is the president of the United States. He has an "additional private secretary" and two assistant private secretaries, who receive large stipends. Among other

Many of the the horse, several gentlemen in wait- asked one: "Are you Johnny?" ing, four aids-de-camp, six "extra" two surgeons in ordinary, one surgeon to the household, a surgeon oculist, a surgeon dentist, a first chaplain and a subdean. All of these officers of the household are under salaries more or less liberal, the least useful officials receiving the highest pay.

Entertainments at the vice-regal lodge are on a scale commensurate with the dignity of the office. How much this natural dignity will be increased while the queen resides in the lodge may be easily imagined.

Earl Cadogan has been lord lieutenant since 1895. He is descended from a long line of illustrious ancestors, and he is the fifth earl of his title, which was created in 1800. He was born in 1840, and married in 1865 Bentrix Jane, the daughter of the second earl of Craven. His eldest son, Albert, has as sponsor the prince of Wales, and his granddaughter, Sibyl Louise Beatrix, child of his second son, Henry Arthur. is the goddaughter of the duchess of Fife, the eldest daughter of the prince of Wales.

Before his appointment to the vice regency in Ireland Lord Cadogan's places had been under secretary for war, chief secretary for Ireland, lord privy seal and chairman of the grand committees.

Our Ten Leading Universities.

The latest catalogues of the ten leading American universities show their respective registration figures as follows: Harvard, 5,250; Columbia, 3,729; Michigan, 3,346; Yale, 2,688; Pennsylvania, 2,651; Cornell, 2,645; Wisconsin, 2,025; Chicago, 1,680; Princeton, 1.194, and Johns Hopkins, 632. Harvard also has the largest academic department, with 1,897 men. Cornell leads in scientific students, with 795. Columbia's registration in medicine, graduate schools and teachers' courses is greatest, having 767, 383 and 356 students, respectively.

Governors and Presidents.

Thomas Jefferson became governor of Virginia in 1779; James Monroe was governor of the same state from 1799 to 1802; Martin Van Buren was chosen governor of New York in 1823; John Tyler was governor of Virginia from 1825 to 1827; James Knox Polk was governor of Tennessee in 1839; Andrew Johnson was chosen governor of Tennessee in 1853 and again in 1855; Rutherford B. Hayes was elected governor of Ohio in 1867, 1869 and 1875; Grover Cleveland was made governor of New York in 1882; William McKinley became governor of Ohio in 1891 and in 1893.

AN AMERICAN BOY.

One to Reach the Top of Spion Kop.

The ubiquitous American has come to the front again. According to the Blustrated Mail of London Corporal Tobin, an American boy, was the first soldier to reach the summit of Spion Kop. Lieut. Preston Brown, of the Second infantry, now stationed at Fort Thomas, says that there was a young private of the name of Hugh Tobin in the Fifth artillery while he was a member of that organization, probably the one individual in the Em- and he has reasons to believe that the young American who distinguished himself at Spion Kop is the identical person. Lieut. Brown remembers Tobin as a bright lad and a good soldier. The following extract from a letter written from the seat of war to the Mail was accompanied by a photograph of the hero. "The first position taken by our troops during the assault upon Spien Kop was won by the F squadron of South African light horse, and the first man to gain the summit of the hill was Corporal Tobin, an American. When he reached the crest some distance in front of is comrades he found the enemy had already fled, and, turning, shouted to the men climbing the ascent: 'Come on, there is no one here.' Almost immediately the advance swept the brow of the hill, which was then occupied by them until subsequently relieved by the men of the queen's."

STORY HAS A GOOD MORAL. Chapter of Accidents Arising from Neglect to Subscribe for a Paper.

Here is the latest story on the man who is too stingy to take his home paper, says the Kansas City Journal. man who was too economical to take this paper sent his little boy to borrow the copy taken by his neighbor. In his haste the boy ran over a four-dollar stand of bees, and in ten minutes looked like a warty summer squash. His cries reached his father, who ran to his assistance. and failing to notice a barbed-wire fence, ran into that, breaking it down, cutting a handful of flesh from his anatomy and ruining a four-dollar pair of pants. The old cow took advantage of the gap in the fence and got into the corn field and killed herself eating green corn. Hearing the racket, the wife ran, upset a fourgallon churn full of rich cream into a basket of kittens, drowning the whole flock. In the hurry she dropped a seven-dollar set of false teeth. The baby, left alone, crawled through the spilled milk into the parlor, ruining a brand-new $20 carpet. During the excitement the oldest daughter ran away with the hired man; the dog broke up 11 setting hens and the calves got out and chewed the tails off four fine shirts.

No Time to Get Acquainted.

"You must excuse me," said the man to the police officials. "I work on the surface road, and never see the children except when in bed."

Double Guard, Double Beer.

A war correspondent writes from South Africa to the London Daily Mail: 'A certain gallant corps at Chieveley camp provided the guard that should protect our precious beer till Christmas day. In the morning two dozen bottles were missing. 'Disgraceful!' said the authorities; 'double the guard.' And they doubled it. Next day four dozen were missing."

To suffer with skin disease than it is for a man, for a smooth skin and a clear complexion are essential elements of female beauty. When the taint of scrofula is in the blood it will be sure to show itself soon or Often its late. manifestations are as repulsive as they are painful. Many people have been cured of scrofula in its most malignant forms by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This remedy is remarkable for its power to purify the blood. It absolutely eliminates the corrupting elements. It makes the blood clean rich. It increases the action of the blood-making glands, and so increases the quantity of pure blood supplied to the body.

"I will forever thank you for advising me to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," writes Mrs. Jas. Murphy, of Fonda, Pocahontas Co., Iowa. "It has cured me of chronic scrofuls, of twelve years' standing. I had doctored for the trouble until I was completely discouraged. I also had chronic diarrhea for twelve years. I am in good health now—better than I ever was in my life, owing to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took several bottles of the 'Discovery before I stopped."

CURRRENT COMMENT.

Corporal Tobin Who Was the First Notes and Comments, Political and Otherwise, on Matters of Public Interest.

The administration is confronted by a very annoying problem. It finds Senators Hoar, Mason and Hale, as well as Edward Atkinson, arrayed uncompromisingly against the policy of imperialism, and yet it is afraid to read them out of the party. Whether they are likely to cause less disturbance inside the party than they would outside is the question Mr. McKinley is trying to help Mr. Hanna to decide.

Senator Cockrell, in the debate on the currency bill, denounced the act of '73 as a crime against man, against God, against humanity, against Christianity, and the Republican senators sat like a band of sneak thieves and gave their assent by their silence. For twenty years after the infamous act was passed not a member of either or senate would admit that he knew its effect was to demonetize silver, but now such men as Hanna pretend to say that the crime was committed after a full discussion and without protest from the people.

There is no doubt as to where the workingmen of this country stand on the subject of imperialism. The nineteenth annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, held recently at Detroit, passed the following resolution: "Resolved, That we are opposed to wars of conquest, either in Africa or the Philippines; that we most emphatically protest against the forcible annexation to this country of either Porto Rico, Cuba, Guam or the Philippines, and that we are equally opposed to any increase in the regular army of the United States beyond the limit of 25,000 enlisted men and officers." class of men so well understand the dangers of having a large standing army as do those who labor with their Too often have their comrades hands. been shot down in cold blood on slight provocation for laboring men to take kindly to the military idea.

It has been said that the way to reach a man's heart is by way of his stomach, and the quickest way to reach some men's political judgment is through the same avenue. In 1896 no class of men worked harder for Hanna and McKinley than the com-mercial drummers, but now they see thousands of their number thrown out of employment and thousands more threatened with a like fate by the gigantic trusts that have sprung up under McKinleyism and are defended by Mr. Hanna as being worthy of encouragement. The commercial drummers, and hotel men have formed an antitrust league and incorporated it under the laws of New York. They declare in their manifesto that it makes no difference whether we have free trade or a protective tariff, whether the outlying islands of the sea, proximate or mote, are made colonies or not if the commercial man must get off the road and be deprived of his position. They should have learned long ago which is the friend of monopoly and capitalism, but as late is better than never, we shall expect them now to turn in to help defeat the money trust and tariff trust which are responsible for most of the others.

No better illustration of the supreme editors in attendance have for long years been preaching protective tariff and its righteousness. As long as the tariff put up the price of the farmer's plow and the mechanic's plane the Republican editor thought it all right, but since the gentlemen in the protected industries have grown so greedy and so reckless as to begin picking the pockets of their best friends, the editors themselves, the brethren begin to squeal and loudly demand that the government cease giving aid and comfort to that particular class of pickpockets who steel from editors under the sanction of law and in the name of protection. Not a word of protest comes from the Republican editor as long as the protection robber takes from the farmer and the mechanic, but when the tariff baron reaches for the profits of the editor, his action is denounced as a grievous injustice. They declare that such stealing is putting a tax on knowledge, literature, intelligence and so on, and cannot be tolerated. If a tariff could tax out of existence all such foolish and mischievous knowledge and literature as is sent out by tariff organs, it might for once in the world's history be said to have done good and not harm. One of the resolutions passed unanimously by the Editorial association is that "no trust should be fostered by legislation, such as tariff duties; in other words, if trusts are honestly organized to reduce expenses and consequently the price of products, they should depend on their own business sagacity, and not upon protection given to them by the government." In all reason why should not this principle apply to the individual or the corporation as well as to the trust? If a man under a government that grants no special privileges fails to make money in a business venture, it is evidence conclusive that he either has gone into a wrong business or lacks business ability, and in either case why should his neighbors be taxed for his benefit? Taxation for the purpose of paying the legitimate expenses of government is right, but taxing some citizens in order to give the money to others is an outrage. Gradually, but far too slowly, the people are awakening to the criminal folly of taxation under the false pretenses of protection.

Mark Hanna should rebuke the commercial travelers and hotel men who have formed an anti-trust league for the purpose, as they say, of "bringing about a more thorough co-operation in agitating a widespread anti-trust sentiment, and to support with our votes men who make a determined effort to assist commercial travelers from Maine to California in a legislative way."
These people evidently believe that trusts are harmful, and they thus differ from Hanna-Both cannot be right.

The Heirs of Indian Who Narrated "Hinwatha" Visit Poet's Widow.

Kaboosa and Waban-nosa, two descendants of Chief Bugwajjine, of the Ojibway Indians, visited Mrs. Henry Wadsworth Longfellow and her two daughters the other day at the poet's old home in Cambridge.

Some weeks ago the aged chief, who told Longfellow the legend of Hiawatha and who regarded the poet as his intimate friend, made arrangements to come from his bome on the northern shore of Lake Superior to Boston to visit him, but just before he was to start he enjoined his grandson and nephew to make the visit for him, and they accordingly started. It was not until they reached Boston by way of Montreal that they learned that Longfellow was dead, and their grief was marked.

In company with Francis West, the artist, they drove to Cambridge and were warmly received. They asked to sit at the desk where "Hiawatha" was written, and when they left they invited Mrs. Longfellow and her daughters to visit the tribe.

Electric Lighting.

Over $600,000,000 has been invested in electric lighting in the United States in 12 years. The energy required to make electric lights for the city of New York is 200,000 horse power. Since 1888, when the electric railway was born, more than $1,700,000,000 has been invested in that industry, and now one may travel by electric cars from Paterson, N. J., to Portland, Me., going via New York, with but three small interruptions that collectively are about
