From Our Regular Correspondent.

PARIS, FRANCE, August 13, 1900. A multimillionaire may lose a hunared thousand here and there without feeling the loss, for the majority of his ventures are profitable and his balance sheet shows net gains. It is thus with the United States, the mightiest of the mulimillionaries at the Paris Exposition. The Paris Exposition is countries. undoubtedly a losing side speculation for our country. But we are rich and will scarcely feel it. It would have been better for us to have stayed at home than to have appeared at this feast without our best clothes. It will not do to say we have better clothes at home. Such an excuse is not good form. Moreover we will not be belived except by our home folks, and we must submit to the popular judgment-that half a score of pigmy nationalities, in more splendid apparel than ourselves are, by these signs, our commercial superiors. There are of course those in every land who know better, but this judgment was and is an appeal to popular judgment, and if in the eye of the public, who estimate a country by its display at this Exposition, we fall below Belgium and Denmark, to say nothing of Austria and Germany, our appearance in this held is a failure.

It is as easy to fix the blame as it is useless to do so, for by the time for times collected the double pension, the next Exposition the lesson and twice at Tyrone and once at Lewisthe moral will be forgotten. A new President and a new Congress will be and fled in 1898, and the detectives ready to repeat the extravagance and the blunder. The fault is radical in our shifting changing governmental personnel. It is in a system which retires public officers as soon as they begin to know their business; a system It Will Be Given at the Milton Fair Ground which imposes little sense of responsibility upon those who know their tenure is transient and who are answerable only for the brief day of their incumbency. Our resources are inexhaustible because they are the sources and forces of nature, but another country acting as foolishly and expending as lavishly as we do would be

As a consequence there are some who will never know the truth about it. There are doubtless some who are incapable of seeing or believing the truth, no matter how plain it may be. I am writing only for those who want to know the truth because it is wholesome even when disagreeable. DREW TWO PENSIONS.

And Now He is in Uncle Sam's Clutches.

Theodore Snyder, aged sixty years, was taken to Williamsport from Texas a few days since, under a guard of two Mnited States marshals. Snyder is charged with receiving a double pension. He admits getting the money, but pleads extenuating circumstances. While receiving twelve dollars per month for services in the Nmety-third Pennsylvania Infantry, a friend in the Indian Territory advised him to apply for an increase. As he could neither read or write, Snyder let the friend do the corresponding. The tellow applied for a new pension for Snyder as a soldier of the One Hundred and Fifty-second Heavy Artillery.
