The dining hall on the Fair Grounds will be in charge of W. H. Housel, steward of the Normal School, next week. The proceeds will be used in the purchase of a clock for the new tower on the Auditorium. It is a worthy object, as the public will get the benefit of it, and the townspeople should patronize the dining hall liberally.

First come, first served; so march up and pay for the COLUMBIAN a year ahead. We have a clubbing arrangement with that good little paper, the "Farm Journal," by which we can send our paper one year and the "Farm Journal" nearly five years (remainder of 1900, and all of 1901, 1902, 1903 and 1904), without any further pay. Pay up and be happy.

The Opera House Tuesday evening was crowded to the doors, the attraction being Hi Henry's Minstrels. The organization was one of the best that has ever visited this town. The performance was first class from beginning to end and entirely free from any objectionable features. The singing is worthy of special mention, every number was encored. It is indeed a pleasure to witness such a production.

F. M. Cilmore's restaurant has undergone extensive changes. It is no longer a drinking place, but a first class dining room. The bar has been removed, and the room in which it was formerly located has been changed into a dining room. The upper side, which was formerly the eating department, has been all thrown into the kitchen. Last Saturday night six people were kept busy waiting on the many customers who were attracted there by the excellent cooking.

John Brugler the well-known architect of Danville, met with a serious accident last Thursday morning, by falling a distance of thirty feet at the Danville Water Works. He was taking measurements to draw plans for an addition, and was up on the roof, when the ladder fell, throwing him to the iron covered floor below. He was picked up unconscious. His left arm was broken and it is feared that he was injured internally. His many friends here wish him a speedy recovery.

Frank Derr and Sam Carbaugh can attest to the truthfulness of the saying "better a minute early than a minute late." They wanted to go to the Milton Fair this morning, but missed the train. Sam pitched his voice to the highest point, but not a sound reached the conductor's ear, and, as a result, they were left behind.

The jewelry stores of town will not close Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights of next week until nine o'clock. After fair, however, the early closing will be resumed and will continue until the holiday trade opens up.

The picnic of the local order of Elks, which took place at Camp Royal, a short distance beyond Berwick, on Friday was largely attended by members and their families. Although quite late in the season for a picnic, the day, fortunately, was a pleasant one, and a general good time was had.

is, by no means, the dreadful disease it is thought to be—in the beginning.

It can always be stopped—in the beginning. The trouble is: you don't know you've got it; you don't believe it; you won't believe it—till you are forced to. Then it is dangerous.

Don't be afraid; but attend to it quick—you can do it yourself and at home.

Take Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, and live carefully every way.

This is sound doctrine, whatever you may think or be told; and, if heeded, will save life.

If you have not tried it, send for free sample, its agreeable taste will surprise you.

SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 409 Pearl Street, New York.

Light and Graceful.

An Aid to Beauty.

Our Glasses are an aid to beauty, as well as a safe and sure remedy for all defects of vision.

No matter how fine looking the individual may be, a painful searching for light gives to the features an expression of distress for which beauty is not sufficient compensation. The cure is in our properly fitting glasses.
