Fun Dinner Pail X-Rayed.

A western newspaper exposes the fallacy of the "full dinner pail" argument of Senator Hanna in a clever cartoon, showing an X-ray picture of the dinner pail. The X-ray reveals the contents of the pail in the shape of small cards marked:

Cost of flour increased 20 per cent. Cost of meat increased 30 per cent. Cost of sugar, coffee, salt, increased 25 per cent.

Cost of rent increased 30 per cent. Cost of clothing increased 20 per cent. Cost of shoes increased 15 per cent. Cost of medicines increased 20 per cent:

Cost of matches increased 40 per cent.

And so on through the long list of everything a workingman needs for himself or family.

There are other things to be considered in the full dinner pail argument beside the mere question of what goes into that pail. If the consumer must pay an increased price for all necessities of life it will be apparent to the most casual observer that he will have to receive a very large increase in wages or he will be in a worse position than when he was getting a smaller amount of money but could buy more with it. Is it a fact at all that the consumer is being paid more money than formerly? Some labor, it is true, is commanding higher remuneration, but there are hundreds of thousands of men in all the walks of life who are not being paid for their work more than formerly. The great army of clerks and salesmen and saleswomen has been practically unaffected as to their salaries for years. What they know about the administration of President McKinley is that they have been forced to pay more for the articles they must have. This is their personal knowledge of the prosperous times which have been so persistently talked about.

A little patient analysis of the existing conditions is all that is necessary to show the weak points in this excuse of the Republican party for the perpetuation of the McKinley administration. If the present national controlling power had brought about an increase of wages unaccompanied by an abnormal increase in the cost of living there would be some merit in the claim of prosperity, some jusification for the full dinner pail campaign cry. As it is, this is what the application of the Xray to the full dinner pail revealscostly food and unreceipted rent bills.

"When the doctrine that the people are the only source of power is made secure from further attack we can safely proceed to the settlement of the numerous questions which involve the domestic and economic welfare of our citizens."-W. J. Bryan.

Imperialism the Supreme Issue.

The Democratic party has not made imperialism the paramount issue of this campaign. The stubborn facts in the recent history of this country and the maladministration of the McKinley regime in the Philippines have forced the question to a position of prominence which forbids the people to ignore it in choosing a chief magistrate. The issue is made paramount not by the wishes of a few members of any particular party, but because by all the laws of logic it is the question of first importance to the people. As Mr. Bryan very truly said in his letter of acceptance, the settlement of the numerous questions which involve the domestic and economic welfare of the nation must be of secondary importance until the doctrine that the people are the only source of power is made secure from further attack. The Mc-Kinley administration and the Republican party have asked the people of this country to expunge from the constitution the fundamental principle upon which every free and untrammelled government must rest. When the people decide that they can do without the clause "the people derive their just powers from the consent of the governed" we are ready for a new constitution and a new form of government founded upon might instead of right. The shuffling of the Republican platform in regard to the Philippines and the government of Porto Rico deceives no one. The platform builders were set the difficult task of covering an ugly and naked truth with fair and specious rhetorical clothing. But the truth persists in exhibiting its nakedness in spite of its silken trappings and of its own volition takes its place in the position of supreme importance, refusing to be relegated to the rear, Imperialism is the one paramount issue of this campaign, and the only refuge offered the people from its menace is found in the platform of the Demoeratic party.

A signal act of courtesy was the request of Bryan that all pictures of himself be removed from the windows of Lincoln, Neb., prior to the visit of Roosevelt, who spoke in that city Oct. 2. Contrast this with Roosevelt's persistent and undignified villification of Bryan.

Senator Hanna and Mr. McKinley are both on the anxious bench. They are in constant terror lest those irrepressible youngsters, Roosevelt and Beveridge, will say something which is not proscribed in the party campaign primers.

We know where Mr. Bryan stands on all of the questions which entered into the campaign, but with Mr. Mc-Kinley we only know where he thinks he stands, subject to corrections from Mark Hanna.

Senator Hanna is a trifle ahead of the game. He should wait until Mr. McKinley gets a firm grip on the imperial scepter before he asumes to be the power behind the throne."

Probably Teddy got up that little affair at Victor, Colo., the other day as a medium of self aggrandizement. It will be remembered that Cadet Whitaker split his own ears some years ago at West Point, and Teddy is a good deal after the Whitaker pattern.

The pink carnation, anointed by Hanna as the Republican emblem, is all right in its way, but is suggestive of too much gayety. After a fellow has been painting the town red everything assumes a pink tint next morn-

The Republican elephant, which has had a number of dublous burdens to bear in the course of its existence, shows signs of uneasiness under the load of imperialism, militarism and trust-ism.

"I am so grateful to you for your advice," says Mrs. Sidney B. Oakes, of Whitmell, Pittsylvania Co., Va. "When I commenced your medicines I had been treated by different doctors for three months or more, but would only receive partial relief for a short while and then would be worse than before. Was confined to my bed most of the time. At the time I commenced your treatment my left side was completely paralyzed. Had no desire to eat anything; bowels costive all the time. Nerves were all unstrung, so I could not bear the least noise. I also suffered from diseased ovaries and female weakness. But thanks to my Maker and you, after following your advice, I am able to do all my washing, sewing and house work in general. I haven't had a spasm in two months. off medicines about one month Didn't think it necessary to conago. Didn't think it necessary to con-tinue them longer.
