Getting There.

Little by little we are becoming educated to a belief in the doctrines. against which our forefathers battle.l. Step by step we are getting closer to the positions occupied by those who represented King George during the dark days of the American Revolution. Slowly, but steadily, we are absorbing the belief that those whom we have gloried over as the heroes of '76 were, after all, but misguided and mistaken patriots.

And we neither recognize the fact nor seem to care that it is so.

It is now almost a month since General McArthur, without the formality of a court martial, the presumed fairness of a civil trial or even the pretense of a public hearing, deported thirty Filipino leaders to the sun baked, waterless sands of Guam. Their crime, if crime they had committed, was the devotion they had shown their own country, and the efforts they had made for the liberty and independence of their people.

Up to this time not a word of pro test, against the arbitrary action of an American general, has been heard from any source.

And we are descendants of the men who wrote and promulgated the Declaration of Independence. We ring our bells, explode our fire-works, we shout, and glorify, and go wild, each 4th of July, over the principles declared in that, to us, immortal declaration.

While we do this our generals declare it a crime in others to believe as we protess to, and we are silent. They establish St. Helenas for the banishment of men who long for the same liberty of thought and action that we glory in, and we make no objection. We hear of confiscated property, sundered families and imprisonment for those struggling for rights that we have declared belong to "all men," and we make no protest.

Surely we are reaching a point from which it will be but a little distance to the belief that our forefathers were a failure, and their declaration of the rights of men, but the mouthings of discontent. -Bellefonte Watchman-

The Awful Telephone-

Two young ladies on St. Paul street went to a theater the other evening, and their father, thinking they had a latchkey, went to bed at his usual hour, and the servants all left. When the ladies returned they rang the bell repeatedly and beat on the door, but got no answer. Finally they began to despair, when a neighbor who had been awakened by the din appeared in white at his window opposite and asked what was the matter.

"We are locked out and cannot awake papa," came the reply in duet. "Wait a minute," said the quickwitted man on the other side of the street, "your father has a telephone in his room, and I will call him up." So the central was called.

Princes from All Europe Sought Wilhelming's Hand.

A MODERN PENELOPE.

But Very Good to Look Upon-At Home in Kitchen as Well as Salon.

The young royal bride-to-be, Queen Wilhelmina Pauline Helen Marie of Holland, has had almost as many suitors as Penelope herself. For every royal house in Europe, except Roman Catholic families, that has a marriageable prince to offer has had designs up on Wilhelmina's heart and hand.

It is, by the way, to "King" Wilhelmina, not "Queen," that officials and other public servants take the oath of alligiance. This was decided upon some time ago by the Dutch high court of justice, and was in a line with Queen Emma's wishes. "I desire to make Queen Wilhelmina something more than a strong woman; I wish to make her a king."

The nuptial ceremonies will last a week and will take place at Amsterdam, instead of The Hague, the palace of the former being more commodious. The throneroom is one of the magnificent apartments of the world, with its superb marble columns and crystal chandeliers, of nearly 400 lights. The throne itself is covered with ruby velvet and edged with ruby and gold fringe; the back is surmounted by a crown containing sapphires, with lions in support: another crown and the letter "W" is wrought on the velvet just beneath. The front of the chair is a footstool to match the canopy. The canopy is curtained in ruby velvet, with gold cord; it is surmounted by a crown and ostrich plumes; on the inner center are embroidered the royal arms and motto: "Je maintiendrai."

The style of the ballroom is empire, with a small French piano at one end, while crimson and gold are the colors.

The order for her wedding gown the queen has given to the ladies of the school of art needlework in Amsterdam, who so successfully embroidered her coronation robes. One of her ball gowns will be of white satin, embroid-

Their father is the superintendent of the Morning Glory and although they imitate him in some respects the de-velopment of the "Yellow Kid" mine is being carried out on original ideas. The three young miners live in the neat frame cabin shown in the picture, where they retire each night after a hard day's work. The "Yellow Kid" mine does not indulge in any night or graveyard shifts, for the entire force puts in 12 hours of peaceful slumber that only comes to clear conscience and tired muscles. -Baltimore Sun. Swindled Fifty Farmers.

A clever swindle has just come to light at Sandy Lake, Mercer County, in which a large number of farmers were buncoed out of about $2,000. A short time ago a stranger made his appearance in that village and spent his money lavishly. He said his name was J. B. Brown, and that he represented a well known wholesale house in Buffalo.

Brown went about the country buying all the chickens, ducks and turkeys he could. The poultry was delivered according to the agreement, but, instead of paying cash Brown issued checks on a National Bank at Buffalo.

A large number of the checks were presented at the Sandy Lake Savings Bank and cashed. When the checks were sent to the Buffalo Bank they were returned and marked "no funds."

About fifty farmers were taken in. A United States warrant has been issued for Brown's arrest, but no trace of him has thus far been obtained.

ered all over with forget-me-nots in silver and pale blue. The women of several different provinces will present their queen with national costumes. That of Friesland, the the gift of 8,000 women, is described as quaint, if not strictly graceful, with its amplitude of drapery and silver hair ornaments. The gold and silver ornaments for the queen's headdress are preserved among the crown jewels as the property of the nation.

No ruler in the world attends more strictly to her duties than Queen Wilhelmina. She is busy every day with the matters which her ministers lay before her and with the affairs of her court. She has said of herself that she never plays, but always works. Those concerns which we might rashly consider to be her pleasures-her recep tions and state banquets-are, in fact her most irksome duties. During the "season" she is bound to notice, with exactly equal attention, each one of the 400 or 500 persons of the court Note is kept of these courtesies and of the order in which she pays them, and she has punctiliously to acquit herself of the whole duty down to the properly timed and measured chat with the last diplomat and his wife before the close of the last levee.

The young queen is not beautiful, but very good to look upon-wholesome and frank, with a pleasant smile for everyone. She has blue eyes, a clear complexion, a Grecian nose; her forehead is broad and rather high and her teeth are large, white and even; her blond hair, which is slightly wavy, is brushed back to show the "orange ear." She has a well-shaped head and a slender, graceful figure, with a queenly bearing.

Her education having been conducted in the most conservative Dutch fashion, it follows that she is thoroughly versed in domestic science, knowing how to cook and sew; she embroiders beautifully.

To Stop Duelling in Cuba.

Gov. Gen. Wood has decided to issue a decree whereby not only the principals in duels are liable to be punished, as provided by the present law, but also the seconds and the persons who carry the challenges. Gov. Wood has received many requests from the mothers and wives of Cubans asking him to put down duelling. which is being used as a means of blackmailing or extorting money by certain expert swordsmen of Havana. It is expected that by making an example of one or two of these bullies or their assistants by putting them to work breaking stones this evil will be minutes 200 pounds of steam can be remedied.

Morning Glory mine and they are rapidly equipping themselves for this serious duty.

supporters of Senator Davis, and in 1886 he entered politics officially as attorney general of the state. He was reelected in 1888 and in 1890. In 1896 Mr. Clapp became a republican candidate for gov ernor, but was defeated by Col. Clough Since then he has taken little part in politics aside from his campaign speeches. During the last campaign he paid particular attention to state affairs and is credited more than any other man with the defeat of Gov. Lind He is one of the leading attorneys of the state and has an enviable record.
