

NO HOPE FOR MINERS.

Thirty-five Lives Lost in Wyoming Mine Fire.

KEMMERER, WY., Feb. 27.—Thirty-five foreigners, whose names are as yet unobtainable, undoubtedly have perished in a fire which was discovered in the sixth level of the Diamondville coal mine No. 1. Only one man, John Anderson, was able to reach the main shaft and make his escape, so quickly did the fire spread through the level.

Officials of the company state that upon investigation they have come to the conclusion that the fire started in the drivers' cabin at the main entrance of level No. 6. It is supposed to have originated through the carelessness of some of the drivers who congregated there between runs.

Practically all hope of finding any of the men alive has been given up. All entrances to the workings have been tightly sealed in an effort to smother the fire.

A complete list was compiled of the men employed in the colliery and resulted in placing the number of miners lost at 35 instead of 50, as at first reported.

Charged With Extreme Cruelty.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Feb. 27.—James Kells, an orphan, is dying at the Orange county poorhouse of injuries alleged to have been inflicted by Abraham Campbell, a farmer of Woodbury, to whom the boy was indentured by the authorities of the Snake Hill (N. J.) almshouse. Campbell is now in the Goshen jail.

Twelve Killed in New Jersey Wreck.

TRENTON, Feb. 23.—Twelve killed and about 30 injured is the record of the result of the collision of trains at Rusling's siding, near Bordentown, on the Amboy division of the Pennsylvania railroad. It is known that all bodies have been removed from the wrecked trains. Of the injured 10 are now in the Trenton hospitals and five in Cooper hospital at Camden. Some of the other more slightly injured went to their homes. Of the injured at Trenton eight are Italians, and at Camden all the five are Italians. Of the dead 11 bodies are now at the Trenton morgue, one of them an unidentified woman, and one body is at Camden. Both General Superintendent Sheppard and Division Superintendent Abercrombie admitted that the crew of the accommodation train disobeyed the train orders. Conductor Sapp of the local train, who is at his home in Bordentown suffering from slight injuries, admitted to Mr. Abercrombie that he had entirely forgotten the order relative to the third section of the "Nellie Bly" express.

Partition Up

On the 3rd day of March our store room will be pinched up to a smaller space than heretofore. The carpenters put up a temporary partition to partially shield their work going on in the room formerly occupied by Mifflin & Terwilliger, the grocers, and to be the addition to our present store room.
