WASHINGTON.

From our Regular Correspondent.

Washington, March 11, 1901 Senator Platt, of Connecticut, who did not make himself conspicuous as an advocate of the Ship subsidy bill, is the ostensible author of the resolution for the adoption of a cloture rule in the Senate, but that dosen't blind anybody. The Hanna crowd is behind the movement, the principal object of which is to make sure that the Ship subsidy bill does not fail when it is next brought forward, as it did in the last Congress. There is a suspicion also that this cloture rule job, if successful, will involve the unloading of the Panama Canal, with its long and dirty record of fraud and theft, on this country, and other reckless jobbery to be pard for by the taxpayers money. It is believed to be the advance move in the most gigantic scheme of the public looting ever seen in this or any other country. With a cloture rule in the Senate Congress would be a mere machine to register the will of the bosses of the Republican party. It was at first intended to try to jam this resolution through at the present session of the Senate, although it has always been the custom to deal with nothing but executive matters at these special session but so determined was the opposition that it was clear the special sessions, would run on indefinitely if it were attempted, so the resolution was referred to the committee on Rules.

The secret of why Senator Carter so unexpectedly talked the River and Harbor bill to death in the closing hours of the recent session of Congress has been ascertained. He acted for President McKinley, who, owing to the enormous total of appropriations, wanted the bill killed, but did not care to offend those interested in it by doing it with his little veto. Carter was chosen to do the work because as he was about to leave the Senate ha did not object to offending influential Senators and he knew that the failure of the bill would not make him any enemies in Montana. It is said that Carter's reward will be aid from the administration to return to the Senate, and failing in that a lat Federal office for himself or the control of Federal patronage in Montana as he may prefer.

Pres't McKinley has stated that he would not again send the nomination of either Schley or Sampson to the Senate for promotion. In that case they will both be retired as rearadmirals, Schley next October, and Sampson three months later, and Schley will receive no reward for having destroyed Cer-

A * FAIR * EXCHANGE

That's the rock that honest, up to date merchandising rests on. No store can permanently succeed by giving one jot less than full and complete value for the money spent. Circumstances sometimes make it possible to give more than a fair exchange, but no circumstance or combination of circumstances, should tempt a store to give less than a just equivalent. Reading principles is one thing, and practicing them is another. We invite you to investigate and see for yourself how closely our practice follows our preaching.
