

The Columbian.

VOL. 36.

BLOOMSBURG, PA. THURSDAY, MARCH 28, 1901.

NO. 13

SLOAN-MCFARLAND.

Morris R. Sloan of Lebanon, son of the late M. C. Sloan of this town, was married to Miss Emily McFarland of Lebanon on Thursday last. His sisters, Mrs. W. C. McKinney of Bloomsburg and Mrs. C. C. Evans of Berwick, and his brother, W. Clark Sloan, attended the wedding. Morris has a host of friends here who wish him much happiness. The Lebanon Daily Times gives the following account of the wedding:

"The wedding was celebrated at 7:30 o'clock, at the home of the bride's father, George P. McFarland, Ninth and Church streets, and although quiet, it was a pretty and tasteful event. The parlors were profusely decorated with palms and carnations. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. Mitchell Page, rector of St. Luke's Episcopal church. The maid of honor was Miss Elizabeth Light, of this city, and F. B. Miller, of Reading, formerly of Lebanon, was best man. James Eckentroth, organist of St. Mary's Catholic Church, presided at the piano while a quartet composed of Misses Cora Hartman and Mary Kreider, and Edward Sholly and J. Wm. McAdam furnished the vocal music. The ushers were W. Clark Sloan, brother of the groom and J. L. Haehulen, both of this city.

The bride was attired in a dress of mouslin, over taffeta silk, relieved with Duchess lace, and she carried a bouquet of bridal roses. The maid of honor wore a gown of pink silk mouslin, and carried pink carnations. Both looked charming.

A reception followed the ceremony, Frank Heisey having been the caterer. The bride was the recipient of an assortment of presents that represented rare value and beauty.

She is an accomplished young lady."

HOUSE BURNED.

The residence of C. R. Richart, on North Iron Street was discovered to be on fire Tuesday morning about two o'clock, but the flames had gained such headway that it was impossible to stay them. The fire companies responded to the alarm quickly, but not in time to save the building. The house was a story and a half frame, and was owned and occupied by Mr. Richart and family. They were preparing to move to Williamsport, and all their household goods were packed ready for shipment. Mrs. Richart and her daughter had gone to Williamsport on Monday and Mr. Richart remained here to look after the goods. He was in the house until about eleven o'clock, and then went to a neighbor's to sleep. Three hours later the fire broke out. The only fire in the house was in the kitchen range, and that had nearly burned out at 9 o'clock. The fire seems to have started in a small out-kitchen, and can be accounted for only by the theory that it was intentionally done. The household goods were all destroyed, and the loss to Mr. Richart will reach nearly $1500 with partial insurance.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The meeting at the Y. M. C. A. building next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 will be addressed by Rev. M. E. McLinn. All men are invited to be present.

A very helpful and inspiring feature of these meetings is the opening service of song which always begins promptly on time and continues for twenty minutes. No one should fail to be present for the first number. If possible, don't be late.

An hour of music and funny stories is planned for the boys in the Y. M. C. A. on next Friday evening, from 7 to 8 o'clock. Mr. Roy Keller will officiate. All boys from 12 to 16 are invited. Only those who are there promptly on time will be sure of a seat. Come out boys bright and early and you will have a nice time.

There are services of song and prayer in the parlor each evening this week. All men are cordially invited.

The Trolley Road.

A large force of men are at work grading for the new trolley road, between here and Almedia. Eight cars of the latest pattern have been ordered from the J. G. Brill Co. of Philadelphia. They are to have double trucks, and will be thirty five feet long, and are so constructed as to be made either closed cars for winter or open for summer. It will not be many months before the line will be completed.

DR. GEORGE W. MIFFLIN.

The death of Dr. George W. Mifflin occurred at his home on West Main street on Saturday morning last at 10:40 o'clock. He had been ill for several months, and his death was not unexpected.

Deceased was born at Wyoming, Del., on Dec. 30th, 1834, and was aged sixty-six years. He was raised on his father's farm and at the age of sixteen began the study of dentistry which he practiced in Philadelphia until the Civil War broke out when he enlisted in the army where he served three years. Three years after the close of the war he came to Northumberland county where he married his present wife. He kept hotel at Paxinos for twenty-two years and from there he moved to Bloomsburg, where for the past seven years he has led a retired life.

For several years past his health has been failing. He is survived by his wife, and one son, Warner, of the firm of Mifflin & Terwilliger, of this town.

The funeral was held on Tuesday morning at 7:15 o'clock, and the remains were taken on the Pennsylvania railroad to Paxinos, his old home, for interment.

SUPREME COURT CASES.

Cases from Columbia County will be heard in the Supreme Court at Philadelphia during the week beginning April 15th. There are three on the list from here, as follows:

Wainwright vs. McCready Bros., action on a mortgage. J. G. Freeze and Geo. E. Elwell, counsel for plaintiff, W. H. Rhawn for defendant. Appeal by defendant.

General Fire Extinguisher Co. vs. Magee Carpet Works, mechanics' lien. Grant Herring for plaintiff, G. M. Tustin and Charles H. Wells for defendant. Appeal by defendant.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania ex relatione J. G. Harman District Attorney, vs. William Krickbaum, Herring and Harman for plaintiff, Rhawn, Zarr and Hinckley for defendant. Appeal by defendant.

Litzko was on His Muscles.

Constable John Langdon, of Centralia, took John Litzko to the Bloomsburg jail where he will remain until the next session of court unless he can furnish bail. John boarded with Mrs. M. Forbes at Midvalley No. 2. Another boarder was named John Washke. Litzko went to the house the other day to thrash Washke, and the boarding mistress locked him out. He broke a window and gained admittance and then administered a severe beating to the woman for not admitting him. He left her in an unconscious condition. Then Washke was assaulted and badly done up. Mrs. Forbes' husband was summoned and had a warrant issued for Litzko's arrest. Constable Langdon served the papers. John Subonis attempted to stab the officer but was promptly disarmed. Mrs. Forbes is in a serious condition.—Ashland Advocate.

Alvin Creveling died at his home on East Third street last Friday afternoon, aged 37 years and one month. He was a son of W. P. Creveling of Light Street, and was born and raised there. The family moved to Bloomsburg about two years ago. Alvin learned the printing trade in the Republican office, and followed that calling here and in the city until his health required him to seek climes where he hoped to be benefited. He spent some time in the west and south, but came home a few weeks ago, in a very feeble condition. His disease was consumption. He was an exemplary young man, and had many friends. His parents, three brothers and three sisters survive him.

The funeral was held on Monday afternoon at one o'clock, and the burial took place in Almedia Cemetery.

J. Lee Harman has received his new automatic piano player, called the orchestral, and has already become quite an expert in handling it. It is an organ and piano player combined, so arranged that either one or both may be used. The selection of music made by Mr. and Mrs. Harman is a very choice one, including many pieces by such eminent composers as Mozart, Liszt, Mendelssohn, Chopin, Paderewski, and many others. It is a whole orchestra in itself, and with it the operator is able to give a most enjoyable musical entertainment. The accuracy and skill with which these instruments execute the most difficult compositions is equalled by very few pianists.

ISSUE OF $500,000

FIRST MORTGAGE 6 PER CENT. 10-YEAR GOLD RAILROAD BONDS

—OF THE—

CANANEA CONSOLIDATED COPPER CO.

Dated April 1st, 1901. Due April 1st, 1911.

(Redeemable After 5 Years at 106 and Interest Upon 60 Days Notice.)

Interest Payable April 1st and October 1st at the Guaranty Trust Co., Mutual Life Building, New York, N. Y., or at the Office of the Company, in the City of New York.

GUARANTY TRUST CO., OF NEW YORK, Trustee.

These bonds are coupon bonds of Five Hundred ($500.00) Dollars each, with privilege of registration of principal.

Both principal and interest are payable in gold coin of the United States of the present standard of weight and fineness, without deduction for any tax or taxes which the railroad company may be required to pay or retain therefrom under any present or future law of the United States of America, the Republic of Mexico, or of any State, County or Municipality therein.

This issue of bonds is secured by a mortgage upon all the properties, rights, franchises and buildings of the Cananea Consolidated Copper Company's Railroad, and is guaranteed, both principal and interest, by the Greene Consolidated Copper Company, which owns all of the stock and property of the Cananea Consolidated Copper Company, and will amount to an indebtedness of $12,500 per mile of main line.

The Company offers these bonds for sale at par and accrued interest, payable upon the issuance of negotiable certificates, which will be exchangeable for bonds when engraved.

We recommend this as a very desirable investment.

GREENE CONSOLIDATED COPPER CO.
377 and 379 Broadway, New York.

Having investigated the properties of the Cananea Consolidated Copper Company, and the Greene Consolidated Copper Company, we consider the first mortgage bonds, above mentioned and described, a good, safe 6 per cent. investment, made doubly secure by the guarantee of the Greene Consolidated Copper Company. In the judgment of the undersigned, the value of the property guaranteeing these bonds is safely fixed at many millions of dollars.

Parties desiring further information, or to make subscription to these bonds, can apply to C. C. Peacock, Postoffice Building, or E. B. Tustin, First National Bank Building, Bloomsburg, Pa. Signed,

The Philadelphia Times is offering a tree trip to the Pan-American Exposition to four teachers and four pupils in the State outside of the city who shall receive the highest number of votes by coupons cut from that paper. Among those who are striving for the prize are Miss Annie Fox and Miss Jane Henrie, daughter of Prothonotary Henrie. Although they entered the race quite late they are gradually pulling toward the front, and the count as stated in last Sunday's Times put Miss Fox number 8 in the list of teachers, and Miss Henrie No. 9 in the list of pupils. If there are any readers of the Times in the town or county who are not cutting out the coupons, we would suggest that they do so, and send them to Prothonotary Henrie. There is no reason why Bloomsburg should not capture this prize for one of its popular teachers, and one of its bright pupils. Give them a lift with your coupons.

William B. Taylor has secured a lease on lands in Lycoming County, where valuable ore is found in paying quantities. He has samples of ore taken from these premises that are rich in mineral. He also has certificates of analysis showing over 33 per cent of copper, and nearly 4 ounces of silver per ton, while other samples of ore show 9 ounces of silver per ton and a trace of gold. Mr. Taylor desires to sell a one-fourth interest in his lease, which he values at $2,000. The money will be used in developing the property, and from the analysis it would seem that there can be no doubt but what it will prove a paying investment. The one fourth interest will be sold as desired, either as a whole, or in portions to suit purchasers.

Died.

ROMICK:—Died in Centre Township on March 17th, Mrs. Susan Romick, aged 75 years.

"Picturesque Bloomsburg" has been warmly received and highly praised as a fine specimen of the printer's art. Many of the books have been sold, and orders are being received daily. By an unavoidable delay the stiff covered copies have not yet come from the bindery, but are expected very soon. As only a sufficient number of this style will be bound to fill orders, it will be necessary for all who wish a stiff binding to leave orders in advance. The prices are $1.00 in silk cloth, and 75 cents in cardboard binding.
