STRONG ARGUMENTS PRESENTED.

ALBANY, April 10 .- By a vote of 7 to 5 the assembly canal committee last aight decided to report to the house tofor reprinting as amended the $26,-000,000 canal improvement referendum bill. The amendments made to the bill are the same as adopted by the senate when the bill was ordered to a third reading. The anticanal advocates had their secand encounter with the friends of the eanals yesterday afternoon at the hearing given by the assembly canal committee on the $26,000,000 referendum canal improvement bill introduced by the caual committee in both houses.

Assemblyman M. E. Lewis of Monroe was the first speaker. He offered as a substitute bill for the measure his good roads bill bonding the state in $5,000,000 for improvements to good roads.

He believed that the canal improve ment question should be dropped and the good roads improvement taken up.

N. G. Spaulding, representing the New York State Tax and Transportation Reform association, opposed the bill. The vital difficulty, be maintained, in the way of adopting the canal enlargement plan under discussion was the reshipping at Buffalo.

Assemblyman Burnett of Ontario, on behalf of his constituents, registered his protest against the bill. He said he had watched with interest and admiration the untiring efforts of the coterie of gentlemen from Buffalo in pushing the bill. There was a time, he said, when the city of New York held the palm in the lobby, but lately it had taken a back seat in favor of Buffalo.

E. B. Norris, master of the state grange, speaking against the bill, said:
"This $26,000,000 will follow the $9,-900,000, and we know where that went." "We don't know that yet," said Assem-

Former Senator John Laughlin of Buffalo was the principal speaker in advocacy of the bill.

Others who spoke for the bill included George Clinton of Buffalo, Verplanck Colvin of Albany and William E. Cleary of New York city

Johnson, the electrical expert of the state railroad commission, arrived and made an investiga-tion, but refused to talk for publication. E. R. Hooker, deputy superintendent of public works, has also arrived here from Albany and is making an investigation. The city authorities declare that they are not to blame for the condition of the bridge and say the state is responsible. Minor canal officials declare that the

LOGAN REMEMBERED

Bronze Statue of Famous General Unveiled. -

ADDRESSES BY M'KINLEY AND DEPEW

Interesting Ceremonies at the National Capital Attended by Mrs. Logan and Relatives and Many Notables.

WASHINGTON, April 10.-The heroic bronze equestrian statue of Major General John A. Logan, which rests on an imposing bronze pedestal in Iowa circle, was unveiled vesterday in the presence of the president, the cabinet, the widow and relatives of the gallant soldier, many of his comrades in arms and a vast multitude of people. The sculptor, Franklin Simmons, who was knighted by King Humbert of Italy as a tribute to the artistic character of the work, also was present. Master George Tucker, a grandson of the honored warrior, pulled the unveiling cord at 2:45 o'clock. The folds of the large American flag fell away. and the dashing figure of "Black Jack" Logan seated on his charger stood revealed amid a roar of cheering that echoed down the intersecting streets and avenues.

The president and members of the cabinet had been escorted to the statue by a military parade under command of Colonel Francis L. Guenther of the Fourth United States artillery. The procession included detachments from the artillery and infantry arms of the regular army a battalion of marines and a company of seamen from the navy yard, a provision-al regiment of the District of Columbia militia, members of the Societies of the Army of the Tennessee and Army of the Cumberland and members of the local veteran associations. Mrs. John A. Logan and the other relatives sat upon a platform at the base of the monument. The president and his cabinet and other distinguished guests occupied a flag draped stand opposite this platform, while in another stand extending around the monument were other guests, including many of General Logan's old comrades, representatives of John A. Logan post, G. A. R., of St. Louis, the Logan Republican club of Brooklyn and the Logan club of

General Grenville M. Dodge, president of the Army of the Tennessee, who is the only living general represented in the group on the bronze pedestal showing General Logan in council of war with his commanding officers, presided over the

At the moment of the unveiling a section of the Fourth artiflery fired a national salute on the White lot, south of the executive mansion.

President McKinley received an ovation as he was introduced, and it was some time before he could begin his remarks. He spoke in part as follows:

"My fellow citizens, it is a good token when patriots are honored and patriotism exalted. Monuments which express the nation's gratitude for great deeds inspire great deeds. The statue unveiled today proclaims our country's appreciation of me of her heroic sons whose name is dear to the American people, the ideal volunteer soldier of two wars, the eminent senator and commoner, General John A. Logan.

"Logan's career was unique. His distinction does not rest upon his military achievements alone. His services in the legislature of his own state, in the national house of representatives and in the senate of the United States would have given him an equally conspicuous place in the annals of the country. He was great in the forum and in the field.

'As a popular orator his voice has been heard in every state and territory of the Union, always for his country and for the flag he so much loved. He was among the first commanders of the Grand Army of the Republic, and to him we are indebted for that beautiful service which on the 30th of May each year brings to the graves of the soldier dead. among whom he now rests in everlasting comradeship, the offerings of an affectionate people and the undying gratitude of a nation.

"The highest eulogy ever paid him was by his father. The latter in his will divided his property between his widow and children equally, except—and I quote from the will-'John Alexander, whose marked abilities are such that be can provide for himself and aid his mother, if necessary. This provision is not made from want of affection, but because of unbounded confidence in his future suc cess.' What a remarkable tribute from father to son! That expression of faith was enough to quicken the young man's noblest aspirations and call out the best that was in him. Beloved of father, wife and children, beloved of his comrades in war and in peace and beloved of his country, his whole life realized his father's prophecy and its words would adorn any monument to his fame."

The president several times was intercupted by applause, and there was a great outburst of cheering when he con-

AGUINALDO SIGNS.

The Peace Manifesto Ready-Insurgent Leaders Surrender,

MANILA, April 10 .- Although the officials are uncommunicative, it is never-theless said that Aguinaldo has signed he peace manifesto. Chief Justice Arellano drafted the doc-ument. Aguinaldo strongly objected to two clauses therein, and considerable argument was required to overcome his objections. Colonel Aba, the insurgent leader of Zambales province, with 13 officers, 83 men and rifles, surrendered to Lieutenant olonel Mancil C. REBELLION IN CHINA

General Tung Fu Stang and the Northern Army Implicated.

PEKING, April 9,-According to expert opinion China would be able to pay from £20,000,000 to £30,000,000 without crippling her financial resources, while the amounts which the powers at present demand aggregate from £80,000,000 to £100,000,000.

Rumors which have been current during the past few days of the outbreak of a rebellion headed by General Tung Fu Siang, the former commander of the northern army in the provinces of Mongolia and Shensi, have been absolutely au-thenticated. Li Hung Chang and Prince Ching have received information on the subject which proves that the court is serious alarmed.

Tung Fu Siang was, according to last accounts, about 150 miles from the court with 11,000 regular troops, all supposed to be devoted to himself. The court has about the same number of soldiers at Sian-fu, but it is probable that the troops of Tung Fu Siang are better drilled and Floods Subsiding.

BOSTON, April 9.—The flood scare all over New England, due to rising waters under the influence of nearly five days of rain, has flattened out, for late reports indicate that a change for the better has come. The losses will be heavy no doubt, but nothing to be compared with some of the freshets of recent springs. The reason is obvious to people in southern New England, for the early spring left the ground open for a good soaking, and this natural absorption of the rain is taking care of much of the water, while the great surplus of the overflow, being unimpeded by ice, is rushing seaward.
