The body of Wellington Hartman, who was killed in a collision, says the Danville News, was exhumed on Thursday for the purpose of performing an autopsy, the object being to determine the exact cause of death, whether it was due directly to the injuries sustained or not. The News did not give, nor have we heard the result.

The concert at the Normal School last Saturday evening, was one of the best ever given in this town. Miss Jackson, violin virtuoso, handles the instrument with wonderful ease, and produces from it tones of rare sweetness. Miss Elburna, soprano, and Mr. Pratt, pianist, are also artists of high grade. The receipts of the concert were $145.00. Dr. Welsh is entitled to the thanks of the public for having secured so excellent an entertainment.

H. J. Clark & Son's large show window, which is always tastefully arranged has been beautified by the addition of three large mirrors in gilt frames, one at each side and one at the back. Another recent addition to the store is a large Edison phonograph. It has two brass trumpets and a handsome oak record cabinet, and many excellent records. It is one of the latest improved style and produces very pretty music.

Mrs. Catharine Zuppinger succumbed to a complication of diseases concomitant with advanced years at the home of Frank L. Faust, late Wednesday night of last week. For years she had been in a very feeble condition, and her death was momentarily expected. The deceased was nearly eighty-five years old. The funeral took place Friday. Services were conducted by Rev. J. D. Thomas, of the Reformed church. The remains were taken to Millville for burial.

Daniel Edwards died at his home in Kingston, of heart disease Monday morning. He was president of the Kingston Coal Company, and was perhaps one of the wealthiest individual coal operators in the anthracite region. His belongings are estimated at four million dollars. He was born in Wales, and immigrated to America while young. For many years he was an employee of Waterman & Beaver in the old ore mines at Danville. This vast accumulation of wealth, is the result of natural ability and pluck. He was 76 years old.

BLUES

Ever have them? Then we can't tell you anything about them. You know how dark everything looks and how you are about ready to give up. Somehow, you can't throw off the terrible depression. Are things really so blue? Isn't it your nerves, after all? That's where the trouble is. Your nerves are being poisoned from the impurities in your blood.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

purifies the blood and gives power and stability to the nerves. It makes health and strength, activity and cheerfulness. This is what "Ayer's" will do for you. It's the oldest Sarsaparilla in the land, the kind that was old before other Sarsaparillas were known. This also accounts for the saying, "One bottle of Ayer's is worth three bottles of the ordinary kind."

Write the Doctor. If you have any complaint whatever and desire the best medical advice you can possibly receive, write the doctor freely. You will receive a prompt reply, without cost. Address, Dr. J. C. Ayer, Lowell, Mass.

PICTURESQUE BLOOMSBURG.

The sale of the Souvenir book of Bloomsburg was stopped a few weeks ago to enable us to add a dozen more pictures. It now contains nearly a hundred views, including public buildings, churches, schools, residences, public blocks, street scenes and many other views. It is printed on a heavy plate paper and handsomely bound in two styles; silk cover with stiff boards at $1.00; and with paste board covers at 75 cents. The photographs were all taken by home artists, most of them by amateurs, but the work is well done, and the pictures are excellent. All the printing was done in this office, and we do not hesitate to say that it is as handsome a book as any city office can produce. Call at the COLUMBIAN office and see it, or send word and it will be delivered at your house. Mail orders must be accompanied with 10 cents extra for postage. All orders must be accompanied with the cash. 2t
