The guorts of the parties who have been working for free rural mail devery have not been in vain. W. W. Mr. Sawyer was called to another point and will return in a few days, and as yet nothing definite has been done in regard to the territory that is to be covered, so we cannot give the details until the return of the government representative, but we can assure our readers of this fact, that that they will have the delivery in the near future. This will increase the Benton. postoffice, and will no doubt necessitate a large force. That this system is a great success and convenience there is no question. Mr. Sawyer is B S. N.
