An onyx breastpin with a small diamond in the center was lost recently. The finder will be suitably rewarded by leaving it at this office.

The Rohrsburg Methodist Church was the target for a bolt of lightning during a storm Sunday afternoon. The building was damaged to the extent of about $25.00.

Ralph G. Phillips will conduct a photographic studio at Eaglesmere during the summer. His Bloomsburg studio will be in competent hands and under his direction.

Geo. W. Hess won the free trip to the Buffalo Exposition offered by J. R. Townsend's Star Clothing House. His number was 1025. Another series has been opened.

F. M. Gilmore has moved his restaurant to the building recently vacated by C. R. Housel & Son, on Main street, below Iron. His family will also occupy a portion of the same building.

There's but one time in a man's life when he is really happy; the brief period between the time when he's got what he wants and the time when he discovers that he doesn't want what he's got.

The number of automobiles is increasing. Dr. Bierman last week received one of the horseless vehicles and is now making his professional calls with it. It is similar to those owned by other residents of town.

The Columbia County prison is now, for the first time in many years, devoid of prisoners. The last four offenders who were incarcerated at the May term of Court on sixty-day sentences, were released Saturday afternoon.

Daniel Stiner Jr., was arrested for disorderly conduct Wednesday evening. He used vile language and flourished a large knife. He was gathered in by special officer Baum and given a berth in the cooler. He was taken before Mayor Ikeler and given a sound reprimanding and discharged.

Rush Beishline's barn in lower Fishingcreek township, was struck by lightning Sunday afternoon and totally destroyed. It was only by dint of hard work that the live stock was saved. There was some hay and grain consumed. Whether he was protected or not by insurance we have not learned.

The news that appeared in a city daily recently to the effect that a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Edgar had lost a limb while boarding a D. L. & W. train, is a fake, emanating from some poor copy grinder who had in vain searched the town and cudgelled his brains for the subject of an article.

Danville and Bloomsburg played a summer's game of ball on Normal Field Tuesday afternoon. The line up of the Danville team is a good one. They are capable of playing better ball than that put up on Tuesday. The score was 13 to 12 in favor of the locals.

Bloomsburg offers very little attraction to the stay-at-home. Society appears to be inactive and interest in the early autumn euchre parties at the club houses, is lukewarm since it has been learned that there is to be an advance in the price of light.

The kissing bug has been replaced by a new and more to be dreaded insect, known as the "trolley bug." It is described by motormen who have been victims, as being green in color and half the size of a man's thumb. It has not reached Bloomsburg yet.

Dickens Irving Bailey, who gave his home as Lock Haven, spent Monday evening in town. He is an eccentric character and furnished much amusement for quite an audience on the street in the evening. His parents are to be congratulated upon their ingenuity in naming him.

Davy Dunkle, the base ball pitcher, has officiated in twenty-one games thus far this season for Providence, and won sixteen of them. Four were lost and one tied. This is a phenomenal record. He has rejected offers from both the Pittsburg and Cincinnati League teams. "Davy" was always a favorite in Bloomsburg.

Owing to the inability to secure the necessary number of laborers in Bloomsburg to complete the trolley line by the time desired, contractor M. F. D. Scanlan was compelled to look elsewhere. Tuesday twenty-two Italians arrived in town and they were set to work Wednesday morning. We have a number of unemployed men but they appear too unwilling to work with the pick and shovel.

Tuesday morning's curb stone market was the largest of the season. The space from the corner of the alley at the Bloomsburg National Bank to the west side of Market street was occupied by wagons. There was an abundance of vegetables and cherries, but raspberries, especially the red variety were very scarce. The continued drouth is responsible for this condition, the fruit having dried up on the bushes.

John S. Gilbert, for many years in the employ of the Philadelphia & Reading R. R. Co., has resigned his position as chief clerk to General Superintendent Bessler and accepted a similar position with I. A. Sweigard, former General Superintendent of the Reading, now at the head of extensive electric railway enterprises. Mr. Gilbert's many friends hereabouts wish him success in his new position. Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert will remove from Reading to Philadelphia in the early fall.

Bloomsburg offers nothing of greater interest just now than the trolley road, and it is a matter of considerable discussion as to just how some of the staid residents will act when the line is eventually completed. Rapid progress has been made this week. A large force of men are engaged on Main street, and the bed, as far as Jefferson street, is ready for the rails, in fact, they have been laid as far as Market street. The contractor promises to have cars running between Bloomsburg and Espy within the next four weeks.

Bloomsburg scored an easy victory over the Scranton Semi Professionals on Normal Field, Saturday afternoon. The visitors were a gentlemanly lot of fellows, but displayed little knowledge of the game. They batted the ball around like amateurs. The time that they devoted to practice previous to their appearance here, if we are to judge by their playing Saturday, was misimproved. They should change their name, Semi Professionals is a misnomer. There was a good sized audience present, but many left before the game was over. Score 18 to 4.

Prof. Aldinger and his base ball team have captured the town of Lestershire, New York. They are putting up good clean ball and the games are drawing immense crowds. Three games were played last week one with Syracuse, leaders of the Eastern League, and two with Waverly. Syracuse was defeated 4 to 1, but Waverly triumphed over Lestershire in both events. The scores in both games however, were close. That factor, known as luck, was all with Waverly, and this explains in a large measure the double victory. In one of these two games, Williams struck out nine men, which is sufficient proof that his left arm is still with him.
