

MIND AND THE WEATHER.

Effect the Reading of a Book Has Upon the Physical Frame of a Person.

Everyone knows that the imagination has a great effect upon the body and at times some ludicrous experiences are met with.

The woman by a strange chance was reading of an arctic expedition. She had not picked out this literature purposely because of the contrast to present conditions it offered.

"Isn't it warm?" asked the explorer in Africa presently, tugging at his collar.

"Why, no," replied the lady from an ice floe; "it seems to me very pleasant—even cool."

The man grunted disbelief and then he took off his coat. Later he retired to his own room and removed his collar and necktie and panted still for breath.

And the feminine member of this duo insists still that the day was a cool day and not at all oppressive.

NEEDED HIS STRENGTH.

Sandow, Once Bowed by Footpads in Paris, Laid Them Out in Short Order.

Sandow, the strong man, has seldom had occasion to display his muscularity except to gratify his audiences, but once it stood him in good stead among the bullies who have at times sought to run things to suit themselves on the Bois de Boulogne in Paris.

One day Sandow, walking in a rather remote avenue of the Bois, suddenly realized that he was being followed. He grasped the situation, and apparently took no notice.

"You'll find two or three men up there, more dead than alive. You'd better go and look at them."

IN THE KAISER'S COUNTRY.

Things Which You Must Not Do If You Are a Resident of His Domain.

There are many things you must not do if you live under Emperor William. Following are some of the restrictions in Berlin, enumerated in the late G. W. Steeven's book just published, entitled "Glimpses of Three Nations."

"You must not hang beds or clothes out of windows so that they can be seen from the street. You must not feed horses in streets where there is no room for two vehicles to pass, and in others only with the consent of the occupier opposite whose piece of pavement you are; you must watch the horse, and undo the traces while he is eating, and when he is done the occupier must clear up the spilt chaff.

"If children make a noise in the street their parents can be punished, and rambling about in groves is forbidden after dark. Dogs that annoy people by barking are forbidden, especially after ten; if you take your dog out then the nearest policeman bears down on you and wakes the streets with yells of 'That dog—must—not bark!'"

Golf the Conqueror of Nations.

According to the Scottish American golf is gradually taking firm hold on the European continent. It is ten years or more since golf links were established at Cairo and there most of the British officials, including Lord Cromer, Sir Edgar Vincent, the late Sir Gerald Porter and others were to be found at one time or another.

Gambling in Life Insurance.

Their gamble in life insurance in England, and anyone who cares to pay the rate may take out insurance payable to them in case of the death of King Edward. The rate charged for a life policy on his majesty is ten per cent., while an accident policy costs 20 per cent. a year.

The Indian.

"But, after all," said the Indian, "our badness is only skin deep!" Seeing that the world was in no small degree perplexed at his manner of arriving at this conclusion, the red man continued:

"For nobody finds fault with us so long as we suffer ourselves to be skinned!" Here the world coughed violently, after which it spoke feelingly of the lovely weather we are having.—Detroit Journal.

The Lost Kiss.

He, bashful, did not ask of her Love's token when he should— And now, regretful, he recalls She looked as if she would.—Puck.

WITHOUT ASSISTANCE.

District Visitor (to old woman)—Why, Mrs. Malage, haven't you seen a doctor?

"Why, ma'am, my husband don't hold with no doctors. He do say I'd better die a natural death."—London Fun.

The Signal of Distress. Oft when I see a pretty widow Who flaunts her weeds about I wonder 'tis not to show Mankind that she is plunged in woe, And might be taken out.—Chicago Record-Herald.

He'd Had Some Experience. She (on the hotel veranda)—You had no business to do that.

He—I am engaged to you. Why shouldn't I kiss you? She—But people were looking.

He—That's why I did it. I am determined that you shall at least return my bow when we get back to the city.—N. Y. Weekly.

Decisive.

"So," said the young man who was disposed to linger, "we must part forever!"

"Oh, no," answered the fair girl, with a cold look in her eye; "not forever. We will part now once for all, and have it over with."—Washington Star.

The Obvious Remedy.

"If there is such a thing as a towel trust," roared the shaggy-haired boarder, "it ought to be crushed!"

"Wouldn't it be better," suggested the dyspeptic boarder, "to wipe it out?"—Chicago Tribune.

Cause for Alarm.

Mrs. Crabshaw—I suppose you'd be awfully frightened if I should send you a telegram while I'm away in the country?

Crabshaw—Indeed I would, my dear! I don't know where to raise any more money to send you.—Puck.

His Problem.

Dashaway—Don't you ever wonder how you ever lived before you met the girl you love?

Clevertown—I don't know. My principal concern now is how I am going to live now that I have met her.—Brooklyn Life.

Ruinous.

"He borrowed the money from a chattel mortgage shark, I presume?" "No, even in his adversity the fellow has absolutely no notion of economizing! He borrowed it of a friend!"—Detroit Free Press.

Serious Charge.

"I'm going to sue Mistah Johnsing for defamiation of character." "What's for yoh do dat?"

"He say I stole ten chickens from de squah's coop, an' I only stole one!"—Chicago Daily News.

Evidently Unexpected.

Gladys—Ferdy's rich uncle is dead. Her Brother Jack—Was it expected?

Gladys—Oh, not at all. Why, only last week Ferdy asked me to marry him!—Judge.

What's the Use?

"I don't much believe in dis cremation business," said Brother Dickey. "What de sense in burnin' folks in dis worl' atter dey dead, wen dey runs sich a big risk er it in de next worl'?"—Atlanta Constitution.

MUST CARE FOR THEIR OWN.

Parents in the State of Ohio Are Held Responsible for Their Children's Support.

The Ohio legislature at its last session passed a law attaching a penalty of a term in the penitentiary for parents who refuse to support their offspring. The first conviction under this law is reported from Columbus.

It appears that a miner named Baby was making good wages, but he could not be induced by the authorities to support his only child. Some months ago he separated from his wife, and he made a fight for the possession of the child and was successful. As he was not prepared to properly provide for the child, it was taken to the children's home to be cared for.

When the child was left there it was the distinct understanding that he was to pay a certain stipend for the services. He failed to comply with his contract, and all the urging of the county officers had no effect in inducing him to let loose of his purse strings to pay for the necessities of life for his child. After a large number of admonitions he was arrested and the court sentenced him to serve one year. In April, 1900, the general assembly passed a law attaching a workhouse sentence for cases of that kind, but the law was amended by the last legislature, and the penitentiary was substituted for the workhouse.

At Private Sale.

A very profitable opportunity is offered to the public at private sale, in Greenwood township.

A FARM of about 83 acres, with mill attached, and so arranged that all machinery may be attached.

Also a Chopping Mill which, by reason of its central location, has a large patronage and does a big custom grinding business. Also a SAW MILL, with either steam or water power (over 30 horse).

The property is in a splendid location—no hills to contend with, and will make one of the best little farms in the Greenwood valley. There is considerable timber on the farm. There is also a large new barn on the premises. Prospective purchasers will do well to investigate, as the property will positively be sold. J. W. EVANS.
