

WILD NORTHEASTER

Wide Stretch of Coast Swept by November Gale.

SHIPS AND SUMMER RESORTS SUFFER

Heavy Damage Done by High Seas Along New York, New Jersey and Connecticut Shores.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The heavy northeast gale which raged along the coast for twenty hours did a vast amount of damage in and about this city. In the upper and lower bays the storm blew with great fury. An unusually high tide washed up on the Staten Island shores, doing considerable damage to docks, small boats and other craft. The Staten Island Rapid Transit railroad track between Tompkinsville and Stapleton was obstructed by wreckage from pile drivers and a small schooner which was driven ashore and the wreckage piled up on the railroad track. At Clifton, Staten Island, the Richmond Ice company's dock was undermined, and 600 tons of coal were lost and part of the Rapid Transit company's tracks swept away. At South Beach booths were swept into the lower bay, and a vessel moored at Stapleton drifted on to the beach. She was finally saved.

Driven by the terrific northeast gale, the highest tide ever known along the north shore of Long Island swept inland, leaving a ribbon of wreckage that girts the shore from Astoria, in Long Island City, out to Greenport, on the extreme end of the island.

Washouts occurred on two branches of the railroad and trolley roads. Traffic was suspended on two branches of the Long Island railroad, while for more than half a day the cars of the New York and Queens County Electric Railway were unable to get beyond Stelway owing to the tracks across the meadows being submerged by the tide.

Probably the greatest damage was done at North Beach, on Flushing and Bowers bays, where more than $200,000 worth of docks, paved walks, pavilions, places of amusement and other property was destroyed.

The entire fleet of the Williamsburg Yacht club was flushed off by the tide and wrecked. In Flushing bay docks were damaged, boats battered to pieces and the Flushing meadows entirely submerged.

The Tribune estimates the damage done by the storm on the northern shore of Long Island sound from and including City Island to the Connecticut line at $350,000.

Broadway suffered more from the force of the gale than any other thoroughfare in this city. The wind tore down signs and smashed plate glass from the Battery to Harlem. One advertising firm estimates its loss at $10,000.

LONG BRANCH SWEEP.

Big Iron Pier Gone—Hotel and Other Buildings Wrecked.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., Nov. 25.—The full rigged ship Flotbek, which went ashore at Monmouth Beach during the gale, is now resting on the sands apparently little the worse for her experience, and her crew are being cared for by the life savers of Station No. 4. The tugboat Robert Haddon is a wreck, but her crew was saved. One man, unknown, probably a resident of Long Branch, was swept away when the iron pier was wrecked. Much property damage resulted from the storm all along that portion of the Jersey coast. Just before daylight a heavy crash was heard, and when daylight came it was found that the big iron pier had gone and that only a few waving spires remained to show where it had been.

The United States hotel at Long Branch was wrecked early in the night. Along Ocean avenue several store fronts were blown in, and the rain beat in during the night before the openings could be boarded up. Many of the avenues are impassable, owing to fallen trees and fences being blown across them. The telephone service is almost at a standstill, owing to broken and crossed wires.

Atlantic City Suffers Loss.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 25.—The severe northeast storm washed away a considerable portion of the board walk near the Inlet pavilion, involving a loss of several thousand dollars. The yachtmen's wharf was also damaged, while small boats anchored near the inlet were torn from their moorings and washed to sea. Several houses on the upper end of the walk had steps torn away by the waves and the lower floors flooded. The street car tracks were submerged to such an extent that travel was interrupted for awhile.

Heavy Losses at Asbury Park.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Nov. 25.—The storm struck Asbury Park with more force than any in recent years. The wind during the night attained a velocity of seventy miles an hour and did much damage to cottages. The great waves rolled across Ocean avenue, and the surf rolled across the beach and into Wesley lake, overflowing it, something that never occurred since Asbury Park was located. The water of the lake flooded cellars and made the streets in that vicinity almost impassable.

Great Damage on Connecticut Coast. NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 25.—The damage done by the severe storm of the last twenty-four hours has been the greatest in some instances in the history of the state along the water front, and the damage will reach $50,000 or more.

NEW ARMORED BEETLE.

It Preys on All Sorts of Caterpillars and Carries a Cruel, Death-Dealing Lance.

Nature has once more proved that she knows how to manage affairs in her numerous departments. While the suburbs are still bewailing a plague of caterpillars she has begun the work of extermination. She has sent a bug to do the work, and it is a wonderful bug indeed—a bug errant, one might say, for it has a lance and a suit of armor and just as much devotion to duty as any knight one ever read about.

This remarkable bug does not seem to have any mission upon earth except to fight caterpillars. It would rather fight than eat, and whenever it fights it eats, so that it takes an enthusiastic interest in the campaign. Its appetite would be disgraceful in a bug of less exemplary pursuits. There is a specimen in the Philadelphia North American office, says that paper, which has devoured more than ten times its weight in caterpillars in one day.

cept to fight caterpillars. It would rather fight than eat, and whenever it fights it eats, so that it takes an enthusiastic interest in the campaign. Its appetite would be disgraceful in a bug of less exemplary pursuits. There is a specimen in the Philadelphia North American office, says that paper, which has devoured more than ten times its weight in caterpillars in one day.

But the most remarkable thing about this ferocious insect is its method of attack. It does not use sharp claws, like some beetles, nor poison, like spiders. It has a little way of its own.

Fastened by a flexible joint to the lower part of the body is a lance and with this deadly weapon the bug does rapid execution. It attacks a caterpillar like a torpedo boat attacking an unprotected cruiser. It creeps on its prey quietly, then makes a sudden rush. Raising itself when near the victim, it lets the lance drop forward, then leaps upon the poor, fuzzy thing and drives the sharp point home.

There follows a violent struggle, of course. The caterpillar squirms and twists and rolls itself about, but the lance holds and there is no escape.

The bug does not let go until it has satisfied itself. Gradually the form of the caterpillar shrinks and when its little enemy withdraws the lance and backs away there is only the skin of the worm left.

The bug is about three-eighths of an inch long and oval in shape. It has six legs and two delicate feelers. The back is curiously marked, the front part being a light brown, the back part dull yellow. There are markings in black, in which may be traced a caricature of a Japanese face. Underneath the insect is colored light yellow and light green.

MEMORIAL TO HUMBERT.

Erected in the Pantheon at Rome by the Officers and Men of the Italian Artillery.

The monument which was recently unveiled in the pantheon in Rome to the memory of King Humbert is a masterpiece of sculpture, which has received the praise of the majority of the art critics of the old world. The creator of this monument is Prof. Diego Sarti, of Bologna, whose reputation was established over a decade ago, when he exhibited his Venus at the Bologna exposition in 1888. Since then many of the fountains in European capitals were fashioned by his hand.

The memorial in the pantheon is remarkably bold in outline. It is the expression of sorrow and gratitude of the Italian artillery among whom King Humbert was exceedingly popular.

Two life-sized lions represent respectively the murdered king and the artillery. The lion, representing the dying monarch, has a shield of honor on which are the names of Villafranca, Casamicciola, Busen, Napoli—the names rendered memorable in the life of King Humbert. The other lion has a shield with the names of Goita and Peskiera, the two places where the Italian artillery distinguished itself in so brilliant a manner during the century.

BEAUTY

Sleeplessness Wrecks It, But Dr. Greene's Nervura is the Unfailing Help and Cure.

Sleeplessness drives away beauty and shatters health. It breaks down the strongest and kills energy. One sleepless night works more lasting injury than days of overwork.

"After taking one bottle of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, I could not sleep nights, and many times had to get up and walk the floor. I had no appetite and what little I did eat soured in a few moments. I was nervous, weak and trembling, and got up in the morning more tired than when I went to bed, and felt all down, in fact, could not see anything worth living for."

Take courage if you suffer in this way, or with any chronic trouble of the nerves and blood. The glorious record of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is written in the grateful words of thousands it has cured. It will cure you. Dr. Greene's advice is given free by call or letter. His address is 101 Fifth Avenue, New York City.
