Soldier a Swindler.

Man in Pretty Uniform Pleases Several Lewisburg People.

Francis Hoffa, of the Buffalo Milling company at Lewisburg, offers $500 reward for the arrest and return to Lewisburg of one William Cook, who went there and represented himself to be a recruiting officer in the service of the United States army, sent there to open a recruiting station. He is a man of about twenty-five years, splendidly built, and in the uniform of a corporal made a natty appearance.

Through the recommendation of Mr. Hoffa he obtained board at the home of Mrs. William Ream, on Seventh street, Lewisburg, and soon enlisted considerable attention throughout the town. He said that an assistant officer would arrive in a few days at which time the office would be opened. Cook made several trips to Milton on the trolly cars, where he is said to have played havoc among the hearts of a bevy of young girls. In Lewisburg, too, he sprang into favoritism among the susceptible young ladies who fell easy prey to the charms of his natty uniform.
