WASHINGTON.

rom our Regular Correspondent.

Washington, Dec. 30, 1901. Affairs at the White House have taken a peculiar turn of late and some of the idiosyncracies which were expected of Colonel Theodore Roosewelt when he first became President have appeared. This was particularly noticeable in his final disposition of the Schley affair. His attitude in the matter was autocratic in the extreme. It cannot be denied, of course, that General Miles had violated a technicality, but while he had, perhaps, laid himself open to mild reproof there drastic reprimand which the President saw fit to administer, and many who know Mr. Roosevelt believe that he permitted his annoyance over the entire Navy Department wrangle to lead him beyond the dictates of his more deliberate judgment.

This belief is carried out by the scene which occured in the White House the day that the reprimand was President himself. Without regard Immediately upon the heels of his interview came a serious affront to Secretary Long. Acting probably upon impulse the President instructed Secretary of War Root, to make public the letter calling upon historian Maclay for his resignation and signed by Secretary Long. As soon as he returned to the War Department Secretary Root gave out typewritten copies of the letter to the newspapermen who immediately took them to the Secretary of the Navy to ask for an expression of opinion from such letter had been written and that President had decided to send it. Mr. Roosevelt also explained that he had instructed Secretary Root to make it public and had torgotten to advise Mr. Long.

Another instance of the President's peculiarities' is the case of Secretary Gage who has denied his resignation continuously. The President when asked on Monday about the Secretary's resignation said that he had never seen it and yet it is known that Governor Crane was offered the posttion by the President, personally, early last Friday. The President might as well have said that he has offered Mr. Gage's position to another without asking for his resignation. What prevents Gage from sending in his resignation now and at the same time making it public so, in as far as possible, to save his dignity, it is difficult to understand.

Senator Lodge. The President then tendered the portfolio to Governor Shaw of Iowa, who has accepted and that are fruit-stained into hot soapwill probably assume the duties some time in January. There are growing ind cations that the Philippine tariff bill which passed the House just before adjournment will call for considerable revision at the hands of the Senate. The objections to the present measure are growing on all sides and the recommendations of the Taft Commission serve to emphasize their wisdom.

The recent meeting of the Panama Canal Company, at which it was determined to sell the canal to the United States at almost any price, was no ground or precedent for the will change the aspect of the Nicara guan canal bills in Congress and may delay the passage of the Morgan and Hepburn bills. It is, however, beheved by many that those bills have done their work in creating the panic which seized the members of the French company, resulting in the resignation of M. Maurice Hutin and the determination to "sell out at all Either just before or immediately after Postmaster General Smith's relinquishment of the duties of his present office there will be formulated a violent protest against the efforts of the Postmaster General and the third assistant postmaster General to curtail the second class mail privileges. The President is entirely in sympathy the copy was spurious. He imagined ing the attack. There seems, how reducing the present second class extions will produce much effect.

"Dont's" for Young Housekeepers.

Don't put butter in your refrigerator with the wrappings on.

Don't use butter for frying purposes. It decomposes and is unwholesome.

Don't keep custards in the cellar in an open vessel. They are liable to become poisonous.

Don't pour boiling water over china packed in a pan. It will crack by the sudden contraction and expansion. Don't moisten your food with the idea of saving your teeth. It spoils the teeth and you will soon lose them. Don't use steel knives for cutting fish, oysters, sweetbreads or brains. The steel blackens and gives an unpleasant flavor.

Don't scrub your refrigerator with warm water. When necessary sponge Governor Crane declined the honor it out quickly with two ounces of although he was pressed to accept by formaldehyde in two quarts of cold water.

> Don't put tablecloths and napkins suds; it sets or fixes the stains. Re--MRS. S. T. RORER, in the January Ladies' Home Journal.

To Limit Wheat Crops. Farmers Requested to Sow Only Small Quantities of Wheat.

Many Pennsylvania farmers have received circulars asking their cooperation in a Kansas scheme to limit the production of wheat by curthe City of Toledo, County and State tailing the area devoted to this crop. The proposition is that each farmer entering into the scheme shall only sow enough wheat in 1902 for his seed, and let the world at large obtain its supply as best it can.

The indications are that this plan like many similar ones will fail to obtain the sanction of the class which it is proposed to benefit, for farmers seem disposed to advise the course to their neighbors, but to increase their own wheat area. At present many tarmers in this state are feeding wheat to stock. Careful experiments prove that if ted to poultry this way of disposing of the crop is more profitable than a sale at present prices.

The framework of the pavilions will be constructed of steel and the walls and roof will be of glass. Each pavilion will be equipped with the latest devices for maintaining a regular temperature. Ventilation of the glass houses will be an easy problem, the glass walls and roof being in sections and of pivotal construction, so they may be opened or closed at will.

"The classification of the 500 or more patients is of prime importance," said Dr. Shoemaker on Sunday "They will be divided among the eight pavilions according to the stage afterwards but stay small and of the disease.
