

UNREST AT PANAMA.

Revolutionary Forces Still Menace the Town.

GENERAL HERRERA'S PLOT REVEALED

Military Governor Alban, Learning of Proposed Night Attack, Has Strengthened the Defenses at La Boca Landing.

COLON, Colombia, Jan. 8.—Information received here of the conditions existing at Panama characterize them as very unsettled. Ships belonging to the revolutionary forces were seen last Sunday fifty or sixty miles from Panama. It is reported these vessels were unable to take aggressive measures against the government because one of them, the cruiser Padilla, lacks coal. Subsequent reports, however, say that the steamer Montombo, from Nicaragua, has supplied the revolutionary general Herrera with coal. General Herrera landed a revolutionary expedition at Tonos Dec. 24 in the revolutionary steamers Ibis, Darien and Galatan.

General Carlos Alban, the military governor of this district, has captured correspondence from Liberals in Panama setting forth that General Herrera had perfected plans to capture Panama by effecting a landing during the nighttime at the railroad dock at La Boca. La Boca is the Pacific entrance of the Panama canal and about three miles from Panama. Since this discovery a six pounder and 100 men under General Sarria have been stationed on the dock at La Boca, thus rendering a landing in that vicinity impossible.

The Colombian government gunboat Boyaca, with troops from Chepo, is expected to reach Panama soon. Government troops from Chorrera have arrived at Panama after a march overland. Small detachments of government soldiers now at Nombre de Dios and Coele, both on the Caribbean coast, are also expected to reach Panama shortly. There is now a total of between 600 and 800 government troops at Panama, and much excitement prevails there owing to the movements of the soldiers up and down the city.

MOUNT MORRIS, N. Y., Jan. 7.—Hiram P. Mills, one of the oldest bank presidents in the United States, died suddenly here yesterday. He celebrated his ninety-sixth birthday on Thursday last and danced. He chafed his son Charles, who is seventy years old, for quitting the dance before he did. Mr. Mills was president of the Genesee River National bank up to his death and had been its president continually since its formation, in 1853. He came to Mount Morris in 1836. He was one of the engineers of the old Genesee Valley canal and helped to lay the rails of the first railroad between Albany and Schenectady.

Long Tunnel Completed.

HAZLETON, Pa., Jan. 7.—The two gangs of men working from opposite ends on the big Beaver Meadow-Quakake tunnel that will drain the mines of Coxo Bros. & Co. in the Beaver Meadow basin and some of the shatteries south of the city met yesterday at almost equal distances from each side of the Quakake mountain, which it pierces, and the contract is now practically completed. The tunnel, which is nearly a mile and a half long, has been under construction for about two years and will have its outlet in the Quakake valley.

Open Air Treatment Successful.

BOSTON, Jan. 7.—The open air treatment for persons in early stages of consumption is shown to have been efficacious to about 67 per cent of the cases treated the past year at the Massachusetts State sanitarium at Rutland, according to the annual report just made public. The average age of patients was twenty-eight.

Never in the history of this or any other nation has such development occurred within the space of a twelvemonth.

LONG'S SUCCESSOR.

Former Governor Lowndes of Maryland May Be Naval Secretary.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Naval circles are greatly agitated by the report that former Governor Lowndes of Maryland is to succeed John D. Long as secretary of the navy. Officials in the navy department are in a flutter of excitement over the announcement. Just where the report originated is difficult to determine. At the White House a somewhat equivocal denial of the story is given out, but it is said that a change in the navy department may occur whenever it suits Secretary Long's convenience to retire.

Miss Roosevelt Presented.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Miss Alice Roosevelt, the eldest daughter of President and Mrs. Roosevelt, was formally presented to Washington society last night at a ball given in her honor at the White House. About 500 guests in all were present, many of whom either were connections of the Roosevelt family or well known society people living outside of Washington. Miss Roosevelt is the first White House debutante since 1873, when Miss Nellie Grant, the daughter of President and Mrs. Grant, was presented to society at a ball which was the gayest social event of the decade.

American Shipbuilding.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—During the six months ended Dec. 31, 1901, there were built in the United States and officially numbered by the bureau of navigation 717 rigged vessels of 154,073 gross tons compared with 568 rigged vessels of 179,229 gross tons for the corresponding six months of 1900. Canalboats and unrigged barges are not included. The principal decline, 19,752 tons, is on the Atlantic seaboard and is attributable to work on several large ocean steamers which will be completed during the coming six months.

Diplomatic Reception.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—President and Mrs. Roosevelt gave a reception at the White House last night in honor of the diplomatic corps. It was the first formal evening levee of the season and the first at which President and Mrs. Roosevelt were the host and hostess. A full representation of the diplomatic corps made the affair notably brilliant.

The Secret

Of womanly health would be esteemed as priceless by thousands of suffering women. Each month sees them moaning in a darkened room. At the best they endure pain every day. At the worst the pain becomes torment. The secret of womanly health is in keeping the womanly organism in a perfectly healthy state. This can be done by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It regulates the periods, dries debilitating drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

Women suffering from chronic forms of disease are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held as sacredly confidential and womanly confidences are guarded by strict professional privacy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. Accept no substitute for Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. There is nothing else "just as good" for womanly ailments.

"I suffered for more than ten years with female weakness of very bad form," writes Mrs. D. Marwood, of Tremere, Macdonald Co., Manitoba. "I used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery' with good results. I am able to do all my own work now. I do not know how to thank you enough for the kind advice you have sent me by letter. Your remedies did for me more than all other doctor's medicines, and I have taken lots of them."

NEW YORK LEGISLATURE.

Senate and Assembly Resume Business—Committees Announced.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 7.—Lieutenant Governor Woodruff was prevented by engagements in the metropolis from presiding at last night's session of the senate, and President Pro Tem. Timothy E. Ellsworth presided. A beautiful bank of flowers decorated the desk of Senator Raines.

Senator John Raines introduced an entirely new project for raising money by tax. It is a general stamp tax of one-fifth of 1 per cent on every hundred dollars of indebtedness, such as instruments, agreements, certificates, documents, debentures, mortgages, notes, shares of stock or any other evidences of indebtedness upon which interest or dividends may accrue.

Senator Raines says the bill will raise $15,000,000, of which $12,000,000 will go to the counties and $3,000,000 to the state.

Senator Elsborg introduced a resolution designed for the suppression of anarchy and the punishment of all persons who make any attempt to take the lives of public officials.

Every available inch of space was taken up in the assembly chamber when the house convened at 8:30 p. m. On many of the leaders' desks were baskets of flowers, and the galleries were filled with gayly dressed ladies. Prayer by Rev. Archibald L. Love was delivered.

The speaker then announced the chairman and members of the assembly standing committees.

JIM'S SWEETHEART.

Mother put on her Sunday best, Her lilac wedding gown, And white straw bonnet neatly tied With strings of faded brown; We woke before the waterers crowed And started in the dew To see the host race, for our Jim Was captain of the crew.

You see, six olive branches came To bless our honest love— Five slumber in the churchyard green With little ones above; But one was left in mother's arms— Stern death was kind to him, The youngest of our tiny flock, The sturdy baby, Jim.

He took it in his curly head To want a college course; I parted with the pasture lot And sold the sorrel horse; We sent him every dollar saved, And made a sceddy pir In garments that had long outlived Their days of useful wear.

We did not want to shame our boy And so kept out of sight Behind a row of waving flags, And fluttering kerchiefs white, But when the slender skulls swept by The rival crews abreast We both forgot our shabby clothes And shouted with the rest.

The surging throng closed up in front, We could not see our son, But soon a mighty cheer went up And told us Jim had won, The crowd took up the college yell And sent it to the skies, And college colors everywhere Shook out their brilliant dyes.

He stepped ashore, looked up and saw His mother's wrinkled face, And hurried to her through the ranks Of broadcloth, silk, and lace, He never gave a single glance Toward the pretty girls, But kissed her on the withered lips, And kissed her silver curls.

His sunburnt face was glorified With proud and happy smiles; He did not mind being her hat Was years behind the styles, But led her out before his friends, A figure quiet and prim, In stiff old-fashioned lilac silk— "My sweetheart, boys," said Jim.

The profit of a gold mine depends, not on the amount of rock crushed under the stamps but upon the amount of gold which can be extracted from the rock. In a similar way the value of the food which is eaten does not depend on the quantity which is taken into the stomach, but upon the amount of nourishment extracted from it by the organs of nutrition and digestion. When these organs are diseased they fail to extract the nourishment in sufficient quantities to supply the needs of the several organs of the body, and these organs cannot work without nourishment. The result is heart "trouble," liver "trouble," and many other ailments. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, acting on every organ of the digestive and nutritive system, restores it to health and vigor. It cures diseases remote from the stomach through the stomach in which they originated. "Golden Medical Discovery" contains neither alcohol nor narcotics.

A woman never puts off 'till to-morrow what she can wear to-day.

Many Potatoes.

Large Acreage Will be Planted in This State Next Year.

An unusually large area will be planted with potatoes next season by Pennsylvania farmers. This is usually the case after a season of high prices, which stimulates production until during some seasons the crop cannot be given away. All agree that the present high prices of potatoes is caused by a shortage in the local crop. It is also believed that as soon as the weather opens in the spring potatoes will be shipped into the state from abroad and the prices will fall to more nearly their normal condition.

The belief of the farmers in this locality is that the shortage is largely local, and that Maine and the more northern potato producing states have a good crop stored away, which they cannot bring out while the present cold weather lasts. Farmers say they always expect potatoes and little pigs to be high when they have none to sell, and that this rule may be depended upon to work out every time.

Sobriety Imperative.

The employees of the Reading Iron Works at Danville received their semi-monthly pay on Saturday. Folded in the pay envelope was a little type printed slip, the caption of which was "Conditions of Employment in the Reading Iron Company." It then went on as follows:

1.—Sober, honest, and industrious men only will be given employment. Any employee found under the influence of liquor, whether on or off duty, will be discharged.

2.—This company will always give a patient hearing to any of its employees in relation to any matter affecting their interests, but it will under no circumstances recognize or treat with representatives or committees of any labor organization, or with any person not an employee of the company.

3.—These conditions shall be read and a printed copy handed to each person asking employment, and going to work shall be an acceptance of the conditions.

It will be seen that not only are the employees to remain sober during working hours, but when they are off duty as well.

Must Stop, Look and Listen.

A decision of interest to all who have occasion to cross railroad tracks, was rendered on Monday by the Supreme Court. The railway companies says the opinion, own the tracks upon which their cars run, and that the public in crossing must concede the right of ownership and must ascertain whether the company, as the owner of the track, as above, is using them; otherwise if injury results the company cannot be held liable for damages.

The case decided was that of a widow of John McCracken, of Pittsburg, a bicyclist who was killed by a car of the Consolidated traction company, of Pittsburg, while attempting to cross a street in front of a car of the company. The decision among other things says "McCracken was bound to look and listen before crossing. A bicyclist is not exempt from observing the caution imposed on the public and to hold otherwise would be to give the bicyclist a right to the track superior to the railway company."

Burglars Loot Cochran's Home.

Thieves entered the home of State Senator J. Henry Cochran at Williamsport while the family was at dinner Wednesday night of last week, and carried off $6000 worth of jewelry. The robbers entered the house by climbing over the conservatory roof and through an open window into the room occupied by Miss Eleanor McNeely, of Philadelphia, who lost three large diamonds.

The entire upper floor was ransacked, the thieves carrying bureau drawers and jewel boxes to the room first entered, from which they commanded a view of the stairway and had an easy means of exit. Among the articles taken were a fraternity pin and gold souvenir base-ball, the property of Addison Kelly, the Princeton athlete, who is a guest at the Cochran home.

The same night the store of C. G. Wilson was entered, the safe opened and rifled of its contents. A collection of rare coins was stolen from the safe.

Deeds.

A new lot of deeds has just been printed at this office, conforming to the Act of 1901. They are as good as the best, and cheaper than some. Price, 6 cents each, or 5 for 25 cents. Orders filled by mail on receipt of the cash.

A Bellefonte school teacher, to illustrate the word "slowly," walked at a slow gait across the room. "Now, children," he asked, "how did I walk?" "Bow-legged," shouted a small boy, and the teacher was paralyzed.

Cousins May Not Marry.

Pennsylvania Law Prohibits it but They May be "Tied Up" in Other States.

The new statute which prohibits first cousins being joined in wedlock went into effect in this state on January 1st, and hereafter men and women of such close blood tie may not marry under the jurisdiction of Pennsylvania without incurring the law's displeasure. The new law makes a ceremony between first cousins void as a marriage bond, and refuses to recognize such ceremony if performed within its borders as legal.

Love usually finds a way, however, so there is nothing to prevent first cousins from going outside this state into another which does not regard the marriage of blood relatives as dangerous to the weal of the commonwealth. The constitution of the United States provides that no state shall make laws which will cover acts done in another state, and as there are many commonwealths in the Union which do not regard the marriage of cousins as a thing to be barred, these victims of Cupid may find a way of circumventing the solons of Harrisburg. Such marriages would be lawful in Pennsylvania.

The idea of the act is based on the belief of physicians that marriages between first cousins are detrimental to the stamina of their children. Governor Stone did not append his signature to the act when it came before him in June, so it became a law by limitation.

Quarantine Brings a Suit.

Solomon Kauffman, an employee of the P. & R. railroad at the Snyder-town station, has two weeks' wages which he says is due him because he was quarantined for that length of time after visiting relatives at Port Clinton, where small-pox is prevalent. The School Board notified the company that they would quarantine the station, if Kauffman was permitted to work. The suit raises an interesting question.
