The N. Y. World-Thrice-a Week Edition.

The Most Widely Read Newspaper in America.

Time has demonstrated that the Thrice-a- Week World stands alone in its class. Other papers have imitated its form but not its success. This is because it tells all the news all the time and tells it impartially, night could not get through to whether that news be political or Bloom and remained at Espy all up to his death. He was the last of those members of the first daily at the price of a weekly and you cannot afford to be without it.

About eighteen months ago Mr. John Wolf discovered a growth on his face that gave him much dis-comfort. Medical treatment did In Every Leather. not seem to improve it, and finally ness on Monday. D. H. Creveling went to Middle Haven, it was pronounced to be of a cancerous nature. Mr. Wolf went to the Hospital at Sayre, Pa. and there two cancers were removed from his face. Still he was not relieved, and so by the advice of the surgeon at Sayre he went to a Hospital in Baltimore. The physicians found his jaw honeycombed and decided that it would be necessary to remove the jaw-bone from one side of his face, which was accordingly done on Wednesday, January 8. He underwent the operation with fortitude and seemed to rally from it at first, but gangrene set in in his foot, and then pneumonia followed and from this he died at midnight on Friday, January 17. His wite and daughter, Mrs. H. G. Eshle-man, were at his bedside when he expired. The remains were W. M. Harder, Esq. of Ames, Iowa, has be will visit relatives for several weeks Mrs. Richard C. was married at noon last Saturday to former Judge Max L. Matchell, of Williamsport. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. H. Payran in the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. William H. Whittaker, in Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell departed for New York. Alter a month's honeymoon in Florida they will make their home in Williamsport.

According to triends of both, their acquaintance began when the present bride was a schoolgirl and Mr. Mitchell a young lawyer. In later years the woman married. She became Mrs. Heimbold, and lived for a time in Williamsport. Not long after this, and when Mr. Mitchell had been appointed to the bench, she made application for divorce from Heimbold. Chance brought her as a petitioner before her old friend. Judge Mitchell appointed a Master to hear the testimony, and later Judge Little, of Bloomsburg, granted the divorce. Mis.
