END OF THE BIDDLES.

Brothers Who Broke From Fittsburg Juil Retaken and Are Dead. BUTLER, Pa., Feb. 3.-The terrible fate of the Biddles is still the sole topic of conversation here. All day yesterday a curious throng of people, defying the storm, hung about the jail entrance in a valu attempt to get in to see the bodies of the dead murderers.

The verdict of the jury is that Ed Besides the Heavy Loss to Shipping Biddle came to his death by a revolvet shot fired from a 32 caliber revolver by himself and that Jack Biddle met his death from a gunshot wound in, WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 .- After brief flicted by the officers in discharge of their lawful duty.

> The evidence secured by the autorsy bears out the statements that the Biddles intended to kill themselves rather Island coasts caused havoc to shipthan be taken alive and that Ed succeeded in his attempt, while Jack failed, though his life was forfeited.

The bodies were sent to Pittsburg this morning.

Edward and John Biddle were awaiting execution in the Allegheny county fail at Pittsburg for the murder of Grocer Thomas D. Khaney of Mount Washington, Pa. Edward, the elder of the brothers, won the love of Mrs. Kate Soffel, the wife of the warden of the prison. She was persuaded by him to join in a plot for the release of himself and his brother. Owing to her husband's position Mrs. Soffel was able to smuggle saws and revolvers to the prisoners. Early Thursday morning the two Riddles escaped from their cells overpowered the guards and fled with the woman who had betrayed her husband's trust.

The county at once offered a reward of $5,000 for the fugitives.

Two days later the fugitives were overtaken in a stolen sleigh near this town, and after a desperate fight with the officers were captured and brought here, where the men died on Saturday. Mrs. Soffel's condition is serious, and she is still in Butler under the care of doctors and nurses.

for help. About this time the storm A. Berkele, Captain Miller, coal laden, was raging furiously, and he evidently from Perth Amboy for Nantucket, lost the trail. The men not returning Monday, searchers, headed by McArthur, started out Tuesday in search of them. The searchers found Rork trying to work his way home through snow three feet deep, but greatly exhausted and with his feet and hands badly frozen. Sending him on home with others, McArthur went on in search of Martin, whose body was found on Lake Madawaski completely is not damaged. buried in snow, except that one mitten

The body of another victim of the wrecks, the debris from which has been floating ashore along the Long Island seacoast during the last two days, has floated ashore not far from Smith Point. The body was identified as that of Captain C. L. Miller of the barge Antelope, on one of the arms being tattooed the initials "C. L. M." The third barge is still afloat; at least it was shortly before sundown last evening, when it was seen from Shinnecock drifting east of that point eight miles out and going farther to sea.

Reports from the south Jersey coast and Delaware river points indicate that vessels that were exposed to the gale weathered the storm fairly well. Two vessels are ashore on Brigantine shoal, a short distance north of Atlantic City, N. J., and two steamers are reported aground in Delaware bay about fifty miles below Philadelphia. The British steamer Claverdale, from Asiatic ports for New York, which grounded on Brigantine shoal, is still fast, Partial success in this direction has been accomplished by but two roads, the New York Central main line and the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg. Towns between this city and Canandaigua are completely isolated from the rest of the world. No mail either way has passed over the Auburn route since Saturday night. The Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg is completely tied up, and the same condition prevails on the Erie.

Idea Practically in Its Infancy But Will Undoubtedly Some Day Be Perfected.

PHONOGRAPH WITH PICTURES

Long ago Mr. Edison suggested that it would be practicable to utilize the phonograph in connection with pictures, and two or three ideas of this kind have been patented recently. One contrivance, originated by a Jerseyman, is a nickel-in-theslot machine, which is so arranged that the record cylinder, as it moves along, disengages a series of photographs. These drop into view one after another, while the instrument talks off an entertaining description of them.

Though the notion, so far as its practical application is concerned, is as yet in its infancy, there is no doubt that before long machines for combining the motion-picture with the talking voice will be placed on the market. One will then have the advantage of listening and seeing a: the same time, which will be very striking and interesting. The performance of a skirt-dancer, as watched in moving photographs, will be accompanied by suitable music, and similarly with other forms of entertainment It seems altogether probable that, as predicted by the Wizard, phonographic records and motion-pictures of musical and other stage performances will be taken simultaneously in the not-distant future, so that both may be reproduced together.

Advertised,

The dignity of a certain Sunday school picnic was demoralized the other day before the scholars and teachers were well out of town. It was arranged that the majority same shoal within a short distance of of the scholars should go to the grove on a trolley car, and that the pastor of the flock, several teachers and the baskets should follow in a wagon hired for the occasion. This suggestion was followed out, > clously. The wagon was a trifle in front, and as the trolley car passed it the pupils of the Sunday school saw what made them fear to look again. The pastor was sitting on the seat beside the driver, his broadbrimmed hat on his knee, his head on the support of a gaudy yellow umbrella that shaded the seat, and on the umbrella was the inscription:

"Drink Firewood Whisky." It was too late for the scandalized pupils to expostulate, says the Baltimore News. They were whisked by in short order, and so it was not until he reached the picnic grounds that the good man knew what strange device the banner bore which he had upheld for five miles. When the party returned the sun was still in the heavens, but the umbrella was furled and carefully tucked under the seat to prevent a scandal.

Michigan Storm Swept.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Feb. 5.-The whole of western Michigan is being swept by a terrific blizzard, the fiercest of the year and one of the worst the railroads have had to contend with in years. Trains from the north were three to five hours late, and the big plows are doing their best to prevent a complete blockade, which seemed likely last night, as the storm showed no signs of abatement, and the snow was drifting badly. Country roads are completely blocked by huge drifts, and the free rural delivery service is knocked out for the first time since its establishment in Michigan.
